STUDENT HANDBOOK OVERVIEW

The University of Indianapolis is pleased to offer the 2019 - 2020 edition of the Student Handbook for your reference. We trust you will find the information provided regarding policies, procedures, standards, and expectations to be of value. You are urged to become familiar with the other important University publications cited in various ways in this document.

UNIVERSITY MISSION AND PURPOSE

The mission of the University of Indianapolis is to prepare its graduates for effective, responsible, and articulate membership in the complex societies in which they live and serve and for excellence and leadership in their personal and professional lives. The University equips its students to become more capable in thought, judgment, communication, and action; to enhance their imaginations and creative talents; to gain a deeper understanding of the teachings of the Christian faith and an appreciation and respect for other religions; to cultivate rationality and tolerance for ambiguity; and to use the intellect in the process of discovery and the synthesis of knowledge.

To fulfill its mission, the University:
1. Complements academic majors and professional programs with a general education curriculum that includes courses focusing upon inquiry, abstract logical thinking, and critical analysis; writing, reading, speaking, and listening; values and their impact upon judgment; international and multicultural experiences; understanding numerical data; developing historical consciousness; comprehending science and its methods; and experiencing and appreciating the arts;
2. Provides high-quality programs and services that are reviewed regularly and maintained, developed, or redirected as needed;
3. Offers learning opportunities and programs of study that respond in innovative ways to the needs of both traditional and nontraditional students;
4. Fosters a campus culture that embraces and celebrates human diversity;
5. Maintains a faculty of qualified professionals who are sensitive to developments in their disciplines and who demonstrate a commitment to teaching;
6. Seeks strategic partnerships with campus, city, state, national, and global communities;
7. Establishes international relationships and programs that promote intercultural understanding, awareness, and appreciation;
8. Capitalizes on opportunities created by changing circumstances, pursuing initiatives consistent with its mission.

The University of Indianapolis is a private, residential, comprehensive University founded in 1902. Affiliated with the United Methodist Church, the University welcomes students of many nations and faiths from around the world. Each year, more than 5,500 full-time and part-time students, both graduate and undergraduate, benefit from our commitment to offering outstanding academic programs in more than 65 major fields of study. The University of Indianapolis does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, age, religion, ethnic or national origin, marital status, sexual orientation, or gender identity and expression irrespective of whether the status is legally protected. The University complies with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act and strives to provide equal access to all phases of University life. This policy applies to applicants and students and to admissions, programs, and all other aspects of student life.
SECTION I: UNIVERSITY STATEMENTS & POLICIES

NOTICE OF NON-DISCRIMINATION

The University of Indianapolis does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, sex, disability, sexual orientation (or gender identity of expression) or age in its programs and activities. The University complies with the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The following person has been designated to handle inquiries regarding the non-discrimination policies. For questions, please contact Erin Farrell at 317-788-6132 or farrelle@uindy.edu.

For further information on notice of non-discrimination, contact U.S. Department of Education office for Civil Rights, Citigroup Center, 500 W. Madison Street, Suite 1475, Chicago, IL 60661.
ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGE POLICY

The United Methodist Church general conference of May 2000 called for voluntary abstinence from alcohol and tobacco products. The prevalence of dangerous and unlawful alcohol consumption on college campuses is disturbing. The University responds to such concerns with a combination of strict enforcement of laws and rules and a focused educational plan. Programming in the residence halls and at other events is designed to teach abstinence and the safe consumption of alcohol to those who are allowed by law to consume it. The University prohibits advertisements by alcohol and tobacco manufacturers or sellers in any of its publications, nor are alcohol or tobacco companies allowed to sponsor events at the University. The use, possession, or distribution of alcoholic beverages is prohibited on the premises of the University of Indianapolis Residence Halls. The unlawful use, possession, or distribution of alcohol at any off-campus activity sponsored by an organization sanctioned by the University is strictly forbidden.

CODE OF ETHICS. ECUMENICAL & INTERFAITH ORGANIZATIONS

As a church-related institution, the University of Indianapolis honors religious conversation and mutual respect among Christians and non-Christians. The university provides an environment of hospitality and mutual understanding. Persons and religious groups who agree to abide by the spirit and guidelines contained within this document are welcome on this campus (through the appropriate Registered Student Organization (RSO) or Participating Ministry processes of the university.)

In order to promote and not to detract from this valued character of the University of Indianapolis, religious groups at the University of Indianapolis agree to this Code of Ethics, and hold themselves and others to the provisions of this code. A covenant ceremony at the beginning of each academic year is held wherein advisors and student leaders of each religious unit formally confirm this agreement.

1. We are dedicated to the students of the University of Indianapolis
   a. As persons involved in religious life at the University of Indianapolis, we share the University’s commitment to “…gain a deeper understanding of the teachings of the Christian faith and an appreciation and respect for other religions…”
   b. We are committed to respecting the integrity, judgment and contribution of the individual student.
   c. We affirm that any persuasive effort that restricts a student’s freedom to choose is unethical.
   d. We will be sensitive to the academic responsibilities of students in planning and promoting our students’ activities.
   e. When promoting our religious preferences, we will clearly identify ourselves and our affiliation. We will be forthright and transparent in our goals.

2. We are dedicated to upholding UIndy programs and policies.
   a. We view ourselves as cooperative members of the university community.
   b. We will encourage our religious student organizations to know and follow procedures and policies found in the University of Indianapolis student handbook. It is the responsibility of group advisors and student leaders to hold members of their group accountable to these guidelines.
   c. All advertising will clearly identify our sponsoring religious organization and must be approved by the Office of Ecumenical and Interfaith Programs before posting.
   d. When exercising our freedom to question or dispute University of Indianapolis programs or policies we will do so in a peaceful and professional manner.

3. We are dedicated to respecting all practices of religious life at the University of Indianapolis.
   a. We affirm the value of a collegial relationship among religious life colleagues
   b. We will assume the sincerity and good will of UIndy religious life colleagues. In the case of reported misunderstandings, we will assume proper motives and investigate accordingly. We will grant one another the benefit of the doubt as we seek to reconcile our differences.
c. We will seek to create dialogue with other UIndy religious life colleagues in order to increase understanding and mutual support of our common mission to serve the university community.

d. We will be accountable for representing the beliefs of all faiths accurately.

e. Overall, we will seek cooperation whenever possible. We will respect the agenda of each campus religious life organization. We will treat one another as we would like to be treated.

4. We are dedicated to being hospitable to invited guests, both Christian and non-Christian, from off-campus religious groups while mindful of our charge to provide a safe living environment for our students.

a. We acknowledge that no student or staff representative of any religious organization should be allowed into the residence of a student for any purpose unless at the express invitation of the student.

b. We recognize that it is unethical to initiate a contact with a student under false pretenses, and will abide with a student’s decision when asked to be left alone or not to discuss religious matters.

c. We will respect the privacy of the resident’s personal space and the sanctity of the student’s personal beliefs.

d. We accept that no person from off-campus is to be involved in solicitation of University of Indianapolis students for any purpose. It is appropriate for off-campus personnel, at the invitation of a student or students, to lead bible studies or teach evangelism on campus, but the actual practice of evangelizing non-group members on this campus, in accordance with these guidelines, can only be permitted by students.

e. We will be sensitive to and respectful of our international students, many of which come to the University of Indianapolis with religious convictions closely tied to their culture.

f. From time-to-time, we invite off-campus religious groups to public events where they may distribute literature and invite people to learn more about and/or visit their religious group (Welcome Week, UIndy Life Expo Fair).

g. Given that the commitment of this university’s religious life ethos is to promote occasions that persons may express their faith fully in community, and that the commitment to Christian community involves the opportunity for the full Christian community to gather for worship on campus as well as the obligation to give and receive hospitality; and, seeing that there is no one hour of the week during the academic year where such a commitment is made a priority by scheduling protocol; We establish that our two chapel Christian worship offerings, Monday from 4:00-5:00 p.m. and Thursday from 9:00-10:00 p.m., will be so designated as a protected time for the possibilities of a unified Christian worship or gathering (for individuals who wish to participate). To make this possibility a reality, no Christian campus ministry will have competing events or programs during these chapel hours. This will permit individuals from all the organizations to make the decision to be involved with the campus Christian event, unimpeded by conflicting scheduling and pressures to do otherwise. Should we have reason to change the time in the future, the EIP Office would announce that decision in advance.

5. We accept that the University Chaplain for Ecumenical & Interfaith Programs is to oversee and coordinate the ecumenical and interfaith activities of the campus community.

a. We will notify the Office of Ecumenical & Interfaith Programs of planned activities and events, and will submit a copy of all materials that are to be distributed on campus for the University Chaplain’s review and approval.

b. We will seek to develop working relationships with one another, among both leaders and general participants of each group, so that there can be growing understanding among us, straightforward answers to questions that arise surrounding our events and activities, and accountability for our actions.

c. We seek to establish these relationships through the Office of the Chaplain in order to demonstrate good will as well as our intention to abide by the guidelines of this code of ethics.

When this code of ethics is abridged, it is essential that the matter be brought to the attention of the University Chaplain or another member of the Office of Ecumenical & Interfaith Programs staff. The University Chaplain for Ecumenical & Interfaith Programs has the authority to ask off-campus representatives of religious groups to leave the campus if in his/her judgment the group’s activities are detrimental to our campus life.
The University of Indianapolis has policies in place dealing with matters of harassment, intimidation, and unreasonable/disruptive behaviors that have a bearing upon our religious conduct on our campus. We encourage religious life personnel and interested others to consult appropriate sections of the 2019-2020 University of Indianapolis Student Handbook for guidance. (Adapted from the “Code of Ethics”, Butler Religious Life, Butler University, May 1990.)

FREE SPEECH PREAMBLE

The mission of the University of Indianapolis is to prepare its graduates for effective, responsible, and articulate membership in the complex societies in which they live and serve and for excellence and leadership in their personal and professional lives. The University equips its students to become more capable in thought, judgment, communication, and action; to enhance their imaginations and creative talents; to gain a deeper understanding of the teachings of the Christian faith and an appreciation and respect for other religions; to cultivate rationality and tolerance for ambiguity; and to use the intellect in the process of discovery and the synthesis of knowledge. To uphold and fulfill this mission, the University of Indianapolis is committed to the free and untrammeled expression of ideas and information.

GENERAL POLICY

The University of Indianapolis is committed to standards promoting speech and expression that foster the maximum exchange of ideas and opinions. This statement of policy outlines principles that ensure these standards. First, all members of the University of Indianapolis academic community, which comprises students, faculty and administrators, enjoy the right to freedom of speech and expression. This freedom includes the right to express points of view on the widest range of public and private concerns and to engage in the robust expression of ideas. The University encourages a balanced approach in all communications and the inclusion of contrary points of view. As is true with the society at large, however, this freedom is subject to reasonable restrictions of time, place and manner, as described herein, although such restrictions shall be applied without discrimination toward the content of the view being expressed or the speaker. The right of free speech and expression does not include activity that endangers or imminently threatens to endanger the safety of any member of the community or any the community’s physical facilities, or any activity that disrupts or obstructs the functions of the University or imminently threatens such disruption or obstruction. The University prohibits expression that violates the law, falsely defames or harasses a specific individual, constitutes a genuine threat, or unjustifiably invades substantial privacy or confidentiality interests.

Moreover, expression that is indecent or grossly offensive on matters such as race, ethnicity, religion, gender, or sexual orientation is inappropriate in a university community and the University will act as it deems appropriate to educate students violating this principle.

As these qualifications are naturally subject to interpretation, any student may appeal to the Vice President for Student and Campus Affairs in the event that they believe the policy has been misapplied.

Obviously and in all events, the use of the University forum shall not imply acceptance or endorsement by the University of the views expressed.

EVENT GUIDELINES

The following guidelines implement the foregoing propositions:

Event Sponsorship

An individual member or group of members of the academic community may invite any person to address the community. For purposes of this document, an event is any public meeting organized by such an individual or group primarily for the dissemination or exchange of ideas. Events may be sponsored by individual students, groups of students, or student organizations with access to University benefits. "Public meeting" shall not be construed to include formal academic convocations, regularly scheduled classes, or regular business meetings of University organizations. Registered Student Organization (RSOs) may form co-sponsorships with any group provided that all RSO guidelines and policies are followed. RSOs may co-sponsor events or activities with external organizations and will not be sanctioned on that basis.
Events Space

Physical space to conduct dialogue is a critical component of free speech. Meeting rooms & classrooms are places of dialogue and free exchange for the University of Indianapolis community. The University will accommodate equally all students and student groups who wish to schedule an event or meeting exclusively for the UIndy community in an event/classroom space, subject to availability. Restrictions shall not be placed on individual’s reserving space for the purpose of limiting, managing or controlling the content of the gathering. Individuals must comply with any relevant university policies when using classrooms or other university spaces. The individual reserving the classroom is responsible for ensuring compliance with all relevant policies. Failure to comply with relevant policies may result in an individual’s or organization’s loss of ability to reserve space in the future, space is reserved through Event Services. This policy does not pertain to commercial activities or gatherings or use of classrooms; commercial activity – the conducting of any business for exchange of goods and services for money or personal financial gain – is not permitted in University of Indianapolis classrooms.

External groups

Requests to host external groups or speakers in university space are subject to review and consideration and must be approved. External groups are not permitted to use university space without sponsorship by a university department or RSO, or a contract defining the terms of use. The individual or group hosting such an event must reserve the place where it will occur, in accordance with registration requirements.

Sound Amplification

Sound amplification in conjunction with any protest, action or expression of free speech is prohibited (unless approved by Student Affairs & Event Services) in outdoor campus spaces, during weekday business hours, Monday through Friday, 8:00am – 4:30pm.

Tabling occupancy limits shall be managed by Event Services.

Costs

An individual, organization, or department hosting an event is responsible for all costs associated with the event, including security if such is deemed necessary by the University administration). No University subsidy will be available unless by prior arrangement. A group hosting an event is responsible for all costs associated with the event.

Excessive Security Cost

Excessive security costs shall not be represented nor construed as a disincentive for an RSO to host an event of a controversial nature. RSOs encountering budget limitations should reach out to the Office of Student Affairs as early as possible to plan for event costs accordingly. In rare cases, groups may request a waiver of security costs. For more information, contact the Office of Student Affairs.

Access to Events

Any event that receives financial support or other benefits of any kind from the University must be open to members of the academic community.

Ticketing

If seating is expected to be limited, an equitable means of ticket distribution must be approved by the appropriate campus office. Efforts should be made to accommodate as many students and University community members as possible; this could include providing a webcast during or after the event.

Such events ordinarily shall allow for a period of questions from the audience.
Accessibility & Accommodation Requests

All event hosts should incorporate a method to allow event attendees to request reasonable accommodations in order to make the event accessible. This should be included as a statement of accommodation request in all material marketing and advertising an event. The notification should read:

“Accommodation requests related to a disability should be made by [specific date] to [sponsoring department contact person, phone number and email address]. A good faith effort will be made to fulfill requests made after [date].”

Protest of Events

An individual or group wishing to protest at an event may do so as long as any speaker's right to free speech and the audience’s right to see and to hear a speaker are not violated. RSOs and university departments are expected to plan for the possibility of protests while organizing their events. The sponsoring group or department should prepare an area adjacent to the location of their event for protests, even if that means reserving an outdoor or lobby space. The Office of Student Affairs will be prepared to train clubs and organizations accordingly and assist with such reservations. This does not mean protests are limited to such areas alone.

Protesting in a public forum or in the media are expressions of free speech. Activities planned and executed with the intention of protesting an event, policy or other concept can take place in all campus locations regardless of whether the space has been reserved for that purpose, as long as the actions do not violate other university policies, disrupt university business, or curtail the free speech rights of others.

Entrance into University Buildings by Protestors

Protesters who are members of the university community will be allowed entrance into any university building unless they are disturbing university operations such as class or office work. Protesters may be able to stay in the building until the building is closed for the day, or until the office or area closes for business that day. Entrance into the building does not mean entrance into any or all offices. In the event of a dispute regarding a protest, the Division of Student Affairs and the UIndy Police Department will confer to determine whether a protest may continue.

Protestors may not enter a building if that space has been secured for a speech to be given in that building. In that case, the event organizer should designate a protest location in reasonable proximity to the event location for protests to occur. This policy applies to any buildings where a major event or speaker is hosted.

Literature and Publicity

UIndy encourages the community to promote events and activities responsibly through a full range of available media. Certain information and communication channels are open to any individual member of the university community, such as flyering on designated bulletin boards, chalking messages in designated plaza areas, tabling in areas, and using any variety of public social media platforms (see posting policy).

Communication and publicity should be conducted in a manner that is respectful of others' rights to share information and recognizes one's part in the University community. The foremost issue in this policy is the safety and security of the University community and visitors. UIndy also strives to be environmentally responsible. Many of the restrictions exist to ensure safety and respect for all.

Campus Media

All campus media organizations may offer opportunities for publicity and promotion including paid and classified advertising, public service announcements, calendar notices and special interest pieces. All campus media groups fall within the free speech protections offered by the Speech and Expression Policy. University of Indianapolis does not engage in any pre-production editorial review of any campus media outlet.

Social Media and Technology

Social media platforms and other forms of technology offer many alternatives for communication and publicity. Technology is usually free and reaches a broad audience.
In the use of social media and technology for the purpose of expressing individual views, the University of Indianapolis expects all members of the community to comply with the Official University Social Media Account Policy.

Email
RSOs or departments may maintain email distribution lists for the purpose of promoting events. RSO email distribution lists should include a mechanism for individuals to opt out of distribution.

Tabling
Tabling is a method of expressing a viewpoint by setting up a table or other physical structure such as a sign or pop-up tent in a public space to distribute or display materials. Tabling activities must comply with all other relevant university policies, for example prohibitions on disrupting classes or using amplified sound during business hours. Tabling is permitted on campus by recognized student organizations and departments in the Schweitzer Student Center. Event Services can be contacted to reserve a table.

University officials from the Division of Student Affairs, the Office of Student Activities and Event Services monitor tabling on campus areas and note conflicts with scheduled events in reservable spaces. Individuals or groups who do not comply with university directives to end tabling so scheduled events may proceed will be subject to disciplinary action under the Student Code of Conduct.

COMMITTEE ON SPEECH AND EXPRESSION
The Vice President for Student and Campus Affairs and the Vice President for Inclusion and Equity has the responsibility for administering these guidelines. Only in extreme cases of violation of these guidelines can the Vice President prohibit speech and expression before it occurs.

In administering these guidelines, the Vice-President(s) shall be advised by a Committee on Speech and Expression. The composition and charge for the committee is outlined in the Charter for the Committee on Speech and Expression, maintained by both the Vice President for Student and Campus Affairs and the Vice President for Inclusion and Equity.

The Vice President(s) and the Committee may consider and implement revisions and improvements to these guidelines in a manner consistent with the ideals articulated at the beginning of this document. Committee members will also hear complaints regarding the enforcement of this policy.

Correspondence
Concerns related to free speech and expression can be reported to the Office of the Vice President for Student and Campus Affairs and/or the Vice President for Inclusion and Equity. The committee, in consultation with the Vice President for Student Affairs and Campus Affairs, will review complaints and refer incidents and individuals to appropriate offices for follow up and response. The committee may also provide recommendations in the interest of upholding these principles and ensuring university practices are aligned with this policy.

Training
Training on the management of speech and expression issues for university departments, RSOs and other relevant groups hosting events will be available by the Division of Student Affairs in collaboration with other departments on campus. Groups concerned about speech and expression issues related to an event, protest or other matter are encouraged to contact the Student Affairs Office.

VIOLATIONS OF THE SPEECH AND EXPRESSION POLICY
Violations of the policy and/or guidelines by students will be handled through the disciplinary system administered through the Office of Student Affairs. It is a violation of this policy to curtail the free speech rights of others. Actions that violate this policy include, but are not limited to: disrupting events to prohibit other students from hearing the views of an invited speaker; removing flyers or other materials from individual student’s residence hall doors; removing student newspapers or other media from campus locations; changing the chalking messages of some members of campus; blocking students from attending an on-campus event; or otherwise limiting another’s ability to express a view or perspective.

Nothing within this policy shall be construed to confer rights on any person not a part of the academic community as defined herein.

SECTION II: PRIVACY OF STUDENT RECORDS

The University of Indianapolis is committed to protecting the privacy rights of its students. The following information covers the basic privacy issues related to student records, under the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). Questions concerning FERPA should be directed to the Office of the Registrar.

EDUCATION RIGHTS

An education record is any record maintained by the University or agency or party acting for the University from which a student can be personally identified or is easily linked or linkable to the identity of the student and which directly relates to the student. Records may be in any form and include, but not limited to: written documents, computer media, video or audio tape, photographs, microfilm, microfiche, and electronic files.

Education records do not include:

● Sole possession records – a record kept by a faculty or staff member if it is kept in the sole possession of the maker of the record and is not accessible or revealed to any other.
● Law enforcement records kept and maintained by a law enforcement unit for a law enforcement purpose
● Non-Student Employment records
● Medical and counseling records
● Alumni records

STUDENT RIGHTS

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act of 1974, also known as the Buckley Amendment, is a federal law designed to protect the privacy of educational records and guarantees students the following rights:

● The right to inspect and review their education records. Students who wish to review their education records should complete a request and submit it to the Office of the Registrar. The Office of the Registrar or an appropriate University staff person will make the needed arrangements for access and notify the student of the time and place where the records may be inspected. Access must be given 45 days or less from receipt of the request. When a record contains information about more than one student, the student may inspect and review only the records which relate to him/her. The University may redact information related to other students from the record prior to inspection or release. The University is not required to provide copies of educational records, unless distance prevents the student from access. Reasonable fees for copies of records may be charged by the University.
● The right to request the amendment of the student’s education records to ensure that they are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the student’s privacy or other rights. Students may ask the University to amend a record that they believe is inaccurate or misleading. They should write the University official responsible for the record, clearly identify the part of the record they want changed, and specify why it is inaccurate or misleading. If the University decides not to amend the record as requested by the student, the University will notify the student of the decision and advise the student of his or her right to a hearing regarding the request for amendment. Upon request, the University will arrange for a hearing, and notify the student, reasonably in advance of the date, place and time of the hearing. The student may have an adviser present at the hearing. If the student desires to have an adviser present, he/she must notify the hearing panel of this fact, in writing, no less than two working days prior to the hearing. Advisers must be members of the University community (i.e. current students, faculty, and staff). This adviser serves as a support person to the student and may not speak for the student, nor address the hearing panel. The student will be afforded a full and fair opportunity to present written evidence relevant to the issues raised in the original request to amend the student’s education records. The hearing will be conducted by a three-person panel comprised of University officials who do not have a direct interest in the outcome of the hearing. The panel will be appointed by the Provost and Executive Vice President. The hearing panel will prepare a written decision, within 10 business days of completion of the hearing, based solely on the evidence presented at the hearing. The decision will include a summary of the evidence presented and reasons for the decision. If the University determines that the challenged information is inaccurate, misleading, or in violation of the student’s right of privacy, it will amend the record and notify the student, in writing, that the record has been amended. If the University determines that the challenged information is not inaccurate, misleading or in violation of the student’s rights of privacy, it will notify the student or their right to place in the record a statement commenting on the challenged information and/or a statement setting forth the reasons for disagreeing with the decision. The statement will be maintained as part of the student’s education records as long as the contested portion is maintained. If the University discloses the contested portion of the record, it must also disclose the statement. Grades and academic performance evaluations may be challenged under this procedure only on the basis of the accuracy of their transcription.

- The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent. One exception which permits disclosure without consent is disclosure to school officials with legitimate educational interests. A school official is a person employed by the University in an administrative, supervisory, academic or research, or support staff position (including law enforcement unit personnel and health staff); a person or company with whom the University has contracted (such as the National Clearinghouse, an attorney, auditor, or collection agent); a person serving on the Board of Trustees; or a student serving on an official committee, such as a disciplinary or grievance committee, or assisting another school official performing his or her tasks. A school official has a legitimate educational interest if the official needs to review an education record in order to fulfill his or her professional responsibility.

- The right to file with the U.S. Department of Education a complaint concerning alleged failures by the University to comply with the requirements of FERPA. The name and address of the Office that administers FERPA is: Family Policy Compliance Office, U.S. Department of Education, 400 Maryland Avenue, SW, Washington, DC 20202-4605

- The right to obtain a copy of the University’s student records policy. A copy of the policy can be obtained from the Office of the Registrar.

- FERPA rights apply to all students in attendance and former students. FERPA rights do not apply to deceased students or persons who have applied but not attended. Request for records of a deceased student will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. The University reserves the right to deny the request.

- FERPA rights begin on the first day of enrollment in any University academic program.

NOTIFICATION

Students will be notified of their FERPA rights via the University website at www.uindy.edu, and during their orientation session. A copy of the policy can also be obtained by contacting the Office of the Registrar.
RIGHT TO REFUSE ACCESS

The University reserves the right to deny transcripts or copies of records not required to be made available by FERPA, if the student has unpaid financial obligations to the University or if there is an unresolved disciplinary action against the student.

DIRECTORY INFORMATION

The University of Indianapolis defines the following items as directory information:

1. Name
2. Address (campus, local, permanent)
3. Telephone (campus, local, permanent)
4. University electronic mail address
5. Date and place of birth
6. Major field(s) of study
7. Admission status
8. Student classification (e.g., freshman, sophomore)

16. Photograph

These items may be released without the prior written consent of the student. However, it is University policy not to do so, unless it is deemed to be in the best interest of the student. Students reserve the right to request in writing that directory designated items be restricted from public disclosure. If they wish to do so, students may fill out a Nondisclosure of Directory Information Form available at the Office of the Registrar. The non-disclosure restriction will remain in effect until the Office of the Registrar is notified in writing by the student to remove the FERPA restriction. The University assumes no liability if honoring the non-disclosure request has a negative effect for the student.

NON-DIRECTORY INFORMATION

Non-directory information is any information considered personally identifiable, such as social security number, student ID, race, ethnicity, nationality, gender, academic standing, and any information not identified as directory information. This type of information cannot be released without the prior written consent of the student, except under the following:

1. To schools in which the student seeks or intends to enroll
2. To federal, state, and local authorities involved in the audit or evaluation of compliance with educational programs
3. To comply with a judicial order or subpoena
4. In connection with financial aid, as necessary to determine the eligibility, amount or conditions of the financial aid, or to enforce the terms and conditions of the aid
5. To organizations conducting studies for or on behalf of educational institutions
6. To accrediting organizations
7. To the parents of a student, who are considered a dependent student under the Internal Revenue Code
8. When a health or safety emergency is apparent
9. To a victim alleging a crime of violence, the results of a disciplinary hearing may be disclosed
10. To school officials with a legitimate educational interest
RECORD OF REQUEST FOR DISCLOSURE

The Office of the Registrar will maintain a record of all external requests for and/or disclosures of non-directory information from a student’s education records, as required under FERPA regulations. The record will indicate the name of the party making the request, any additional party to whom the information may be re-disclosed (if any), and the legitimate interest the party had in requesting or obtaining the information.

GRADING POLICY

The University adheres to the grading practices recommended under FERPA. Grades are not posted in a public manner either by student name, social security number, or student identification number. FERPA permits the posting of grades only if the student is assigned a unique identifier known only to the student and the faculty member.

PARENTAL ACCESS

If a student is not a dependent for tax purposes, the parent has no right to access student record information about the child unless the parent has the child’s written permission. However, if the student is claimed by the parent as a dependent for income tax purposes on their most recent Federal Income Tax form, then student record information may be released at the discretion of the University to the parent, as long as a copy of the applicable page from the parent’s most recent income tax return is provided to the University and it verifies dependency. Full rights are given to either parent, regardless of who claims the child as a dependent, unless the institution has been provided with evidence that there is a court order, state statute, or legally binding document limiting those rights, such as divorce, separation or custody orders.

REQUEST FOR NONDISCLOSURE OF DIRECTORY INFORMATION

The University will provide directory information only to legitimate agencies (such as student loan agencies and government agencies), to individuals, organizations, or corporations with whom the University has a relationship with respect to the conduct of its educational program, or in accordance with applicable law.

No information about a student, even directory information, will be given without authorization by the student except to persons presenting current and proper credentials from organizations as described above. A student can request that no information, including directory information, be made available to persons outside the University. Such a request should be submitted in writing to the Registrar. Additional information about the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act is available in the Office of the Registrar and at www.ed.gov/offices/om/fpco/ferpa/.

SECTION III: ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT

PHILOSOPHY

The students, faculty, and administration of the University of Indianapolis commit themselves to the highest level of ethical conduct in academic affairs. The University of Indianapolis, therefore, adopts the following regulations concerning Academic Misconduct to safeguard the academic integrity of the institution. Academic Misconduct includes, but is not limited to the following:

COPYRIGHT

A student must not violate United States copyright laws by making unauthorized copies, downloads, performances, or distributions of copyrighted materials. Copyright law applies to most creative works, including:
1. Written works, such as books, short stories, poems, plays, and journal articles
2. Audio works, such as musical recordings and scores
3. Still or moving images, such as motion pictures, videos, sculptures, paintings, drawings, photos
4. Choreographic works and pantomimes
5. Architectural works, including physical buildings, drawings, architectural plans
6. Other original works of authorship, such as computer software and computer games
7. Copies, downloads, etc. may be made under either of two conditions:
   a. You have obtained express written permission from the copyright holder, or
   b. Your use constitutes a “fair use” under the law.

Details on determining fair use and obtaining permission for using copyrighted materials are available on My UIndy (http://my.uindy.edu).

FILE SHARING

File sharing of digital materials, such as music, movies, and software, without proper authorization constitutes a violation of copyright law. Violations may result in restricted access to the University’s network, as well as legal prosecution.

CHEATING

A student must not cheat in an academic exercise. The University of Indianapolis defines “cheating” generally as obtaining or creating an unfair advantage in any assignment or examination through the use of unauthorized aid, whether given or received. Cheating includes, but is not limited to, the following examples:
1. Use of external assistance on any “in-class” or “take-home” examination without the instructor’s specific authorization. This prohibition includes, but is not limited to, the unauthorized use of tutors, books, notes, calculators, databases, software, or computers.
2. Use of another person as a substitute or surrogate in the taking of an examination or quiz.
3. Theft of examinations or other course materials.
4. Use or allowance of others to conduct research or prepare any work for a student without advance authorization from the instructor to whom the work is being submitted. Under this prohibition, a student must not make any unauthorized use of materials obtained from commercial term paper companies or from files of papers prepared by other persons.
5. Submission of a written report or project which is represented explicitly or implicitly as the student’s individual work when such work was produced in collaboration with one or more other persons.
6. Use of any unauthorized assistance in a laboratory, at a computer terminal, or on field work.
7. Work on an examination other than during the time or at a location authorized by the examiner.
8. Submission of work for credit, when the same work has been or will be used for credit in another course, without the consent of both instructors.
9. Alteration of a grade or score in any way.

FABRICATION
A student must not falsify or invent any information or data in an academic exercise including, but not limited to, records or reports, laboratory results, and citations to the sources of information.

PLAGIARISM
A student must not adopt or reproduce ideas, words, or statements of another person without giving appropriate acknowledgment to the source. A student must give due credit to the originality of others and acknowledge indebtedness whenever he or she does any of the following:
   1. Quotes another person’s actual words, either oral or written;
   2. Paraphrases another person’s words, either oral or written;
   3. Uses another person’s ideas, opinions, or theories;
   4. Cites facts, statistics, or other illustrative material, unless the information is common knowledge.

INTERFERENCE
A student must not interfere with any other student’s opportunity or ability to produce or submit his or her best work on any assignments or examinations. Examples of interference include, but are not limited to, the following:
   1. Theft, destruction, alteration, defacement, or mutilation of University or public resources so as to deprive others of information.
   2. Giving or offering bribes, promising favors, or making threats with the intention of affecting a grade or the evaluation of academic performance.

VIOLATION OF COURSE RULES
A student must not violate rules as contained in a course syllabus, a professional code of ethics, or other information provided to the student by the course instructor or the University.

FACILITATING ACADEMIC DISHONESTY
A student must not intentionally or knowingly help or attempt to help another student to commit or conceal an act of Academic Misconduct.

ABUSE OF CONFIDENTIALITY
A student must not use data or unpublished materials belonging to another student or a faculty member without first obtaining written permission. Students using archival or personal research materials must provide for adequate protection of the privacy of living or recently living subjects. A student must not violate the confidentiality of a patient’s or client’s records.
ACADEMIC MISCONDUCT MAY BE CATEGORIZED AS FOLLOWS:

1. Academic misconduct by a student who is enrolled in a particular course and commits an act of misconduct related to that course.
2. Academic misconduct by a student that is not related to a particular course in which the student is enrolled.

When a student is suspected of academic misconduct related to a particular course, the faculty member or instructor who teaches the course will have authority to initiate academic misconduct proceedings against the student.

Disciplinary action for a suspected or alleged act of academic misconduct that is unrelated to a particular course in which the student is enrolled will be governed by the same procedures described below except that (1) the proceedings will be initiated by the Dean or Director of the student’s school or program, and (2) the Dean or Director of the student’s school or program will assume the procedural responsibilities of the faculty member or instructor, as described in this Academic Misconduct Policy and Procedure.

INITIATING ACTIONS

When a student is suspected or alleged to have committed an act of academic misconduct, the faculty member or instructor who teaches the course or, where applicable, the Dean or Director of the student’s school or program (collectively, the “University Representative”) shall have authority to initiate academic misconduct proceedings against the student. The Report of Academic Misconduct Form should be completed by the faculty member as part of the process.

1. The University Representative who has information that a student committed an act of academic misconduct related to that course, assignment, examination, or other work that is submitted for a grade or an evaluation shall hold a conference with the student to discuss the matter.
   a. The University Representative will advise the student of the alleged act of misconduct and the information upon which the allegation is based.
   b. The student will be given an opportunity to respond to the allegation of misconduct.

2. If, following the conference, the University Representative concludes that the student committed the suspected or alleged act of academic misconduct, the University Representative will impose an appropriate academic sanction related to the particular course involved.
   a. An appropriate academic sanction imposed by the University Representative for academic misconduct shall include, but not be limited to, any on (1) or a combination of the following:
      i. The student may be given a lower grade or score for the assignment, coursework, or examination, including a failing grade for the course;
      ii. The student may be required to repeat or resubmit any assignment, course work, examination, or paper involved in the act of misconduct;
      iii. The student may be required to complete additional assignments, coursework, examination, or papers as a substitute for any assignment, coursework, or examination implicated in the act of misconduct;
      iv. The student may be required to withdraw from the course with an appropriate grade of W or F at the University Representative’s discretion;
      v. The student may be sanctioned in a manner other than that set forth above, if deemed appropriate by the University Representative, in his or her reasonable discretion;
vi. An incomplete may be given in the course in the event that a disciplinary matter cannot be resolved before final grades are due in the Office of the Registrar;

vii. If a student accused of academic misconduct by a University Representative withdraws from the applicable course before completing the academic misconduct disciplinary process (including any appeal of decisions made with respect to the accusation, if initiated), the University will consider the issue of academic misconduct not to have been resolved and the University Representative’s accusation of academic misconduct will stand unchallenged. In this event, the University Representative may notify and direct the Registrar to change the W (withdrawal) on the student’s record to an F (fail), and the student will have no right to appeal such a change in grade.

b. Where an academic sanction results in the recording of a failing grade for the course, the Registrar will be notified that the grade was given for academic misconduct. The Registrar will record the grade of “F” on the student’s permanent academic transcript without any notation concerning the reason for the grade. The Registrar will, however, establish procedures to ensure that the grade of “F” is not thereafter removed from the transcript in accordance with other academic policies or procedures. A grade resulting from academic misconduct will be calculated in the determination of the student’s grade point average, but the grade alone will not prevent the student from repeating the same course for credit.

3. After meeting with the student, imposing an academic sanction and completing the Report of Academic Misconduct Form, the University Representative will provide the student with a copy of the completed, signed form and retain a copy as well. The University representative will provide the registrar with a copy of the completed, signed form and the registrar will distribute it to the appropriate offices (program/college/school dean, dean of students or designee, provost or designee). The University representative will also inform the immediate supervisor of the incident.

4. After meeting with the student, imposing an academic sanction and completing the Report of Academic Misconduct Form, the University Representative will provide the student with a copy of the completed, signed form and retain a copy as well. The University representative will provide the registrar with a copy of the completed, signed form and the registrar will distribute it to the appropriate offices (program/college/school dean, dean of students or designee, provost or designee). The University representative will also inform the immediate supervisor of the incident.

5. The University Representative also will report the matter promptly to the Dean of Students who may commence procedures under the University’s Student Social Misconduct Policy if the commencement of such procedures is warranted when the student’s academic misconduct is considered in light of the student’s social behavior record at the University.

6. The University Representative’s written report to those individuals identified in the paragraphs above should include the following:
   a. Student information (name, ID, email address, phone number)
   b. Name of professor, course number, section and term
   c. The terms of the academic sanction being imposed.
   d. A statement that the student may submit an appeal of the academic sanction, in writing setting forth the reasons for the appeal, to the faculty member’s chair/director within five (5) days after receiving notice of the University Representative’s decision. (Note: If the faculty member is the chair/director, then the appeal is submitted to the dean.)
e. A statement that the report is being distributed to the student, the Dean or Director of the student’s school or program, the Registrar, the Dean of Students, and the Provost.

f. A statement that the Dean or Director of the student’s school or program has the authority to impose an additional disciplinary sanction if that person believes that such a sanction is warranted when the student’s academic misconduct is considered in the context of the student’s prior academic record at the University.

g. A statement that the Dean of Students may commence proceedings under the University’s Social Misconduct Policy if the commencement of such proceedings is warranted when the student’s academic misconduct is considered in light of the student’s prior social behavior record at the University.

NOTE: This policy applies to all incidents of academic dishonesty, including those that occur before a student graduates but are not discovered until after the degree is conferred. In such cases, it is possible that the application of this policy will lead to failure to meet degree completion requirements and therefore the revocation of a student’s degree.

RIGHT TO APPEAL

A student may appeal the sanction for the following reasons:

1. The student claims not to have committed the act of which he or she is accused;
2. The student claims extenuating circumstances;
3. The student claims unfair treatment by the University Representative.

NOTE: The burden of proof for any of these appeal reasons lies with the student.

PROTOCOL FOR STUDENT APPEALS

A student’s appeal with respect to an academic decision or sanction concerning an alleged act of academic misconduct will be filed as follows:

1. A student will initiate his or her appeal of a decision made, or sanction imposed, by submitting to the faculty member’s supervisor (Chair, Director or Dean as appropriate; referred to subsequently as the University Representative), within five (5) days after receiving notice of the academic sanction, a written statement that sets forth all grounds for the appeal.
2. Generally, a student may appeal (1) the decision that the student committed the act of misconduct, or (2) the sanction imposed.
3. The University Representative will discuss the matter with the student and the faculty member as part of the process of investigation of the incident/allegation.
4. In addressing cases of a student’s alleged academic misconduct, the University Representative, in imposing sanctions, may take into consideration (1) all past documented accusations and/or findings of academic misconduct and/or dishonest against that student, whether or not an appeal was initiated or completed by the student, and (2) the conclusions of appeals initiated by the student, if any, of such past findings of academic misconduct and/or dishonesty.
5. The University Representative will have the authority to sustain, amend, or reverse any decision concerning the student’s act of academic misconduct.
   a. If the University Representative concludes that the student did not commit the alleged act of academic misconduct, s/he will set aside the academic sanction(s) imposed.
   b. If the University Representative concludes that the student committed the alleged act of academic misconduct, s/he may confirm the academic sanction(s) or impose a lesser or greater sanction than that imposed by the University Representative.
6. The University Representative will act in a timely manner in deciding an appeal.
7. The University Representative will notify the student, the faculty member and the dean orally and in writing of his or her decision with respect to the appeal.

8. If the University Representative concludes that the student committed the alleged act of academic misconduct, the student may appeal to the next supervisory level (Dean or Provost as appropriate).

9. The final appeal level is with the Provost. The decisions of the Provost (or designee) will be final.

GRADE APPEALS POLICY AND PROCEDURE

The grade appeal policy is designed to create an orderly and effective means of dealing with disputes between a student and a faculty member regarding a grade. Grade disputes involving academic dishonesty are addressed in a separate policy.

Course grades assigned by instructors are presumed to be correct. The faculty member is accountable for any and all grades assigned to students; therefore, each faculty member will maintain records to support student evaluations and grades. Records on grades, examination papers not returned, etc. should be retained on file for a minimum of six months. It is the responsibility of the student who appeals an assigned grade to demonstrate that an inappropriate grade was assigned as a result of prejudice, caprice, or other improper conditions such as mechanical error, or the assignment of a grade inconsistent with those assigned other students, or that the faculty member deviated from written grading policy as evidenced in printed/written course materials, or that a reasonable accommodation for a documented disability was requested and not appropriately provided. Otherwise, the judgment of the instructor is final. It is important to remember that the burden of proof is on the student.

In cases where a student is appealing a grade, the grade appeal will remain in effect until the appeal procedure is completed, or the problem resolved.

Students who believe that a course grade has been assigned inappropriately must follow the proper steps in the appeal process, observing the time limits for completion of various steps in the process as follows:

1. Communicate with the instructor during the first three weeks following the assignment of the grade, either directly, by phone, email, or fax. If a grade has been assigned in error, the instructor can quickly correct the error by submitting a change of grade form to the Registrar’s Office.

2. Should the issue not be resolved at the instructor level, the student may appeal in writing within 30 calendar days of meeting with the faculty member to the faculty member’s immediate supervisor (University Representative) of the school/college/program/department in which the course was taken. The University Representative will attempt to achieve a mutually satisfactory resolution. The Dean of the College in which the student is enrolled will be notified.

3. Should the issue not be resolved by the University Representative, the student may initiate a formal written appeal to the Dean within 10 calendar days of the decision of the University Representative. The written statement must clearly state the basis of the appeal. The Dean will determine whether or not the grounds for the appeal are appropriate. If appropriate, the Dean will conduct a thorough investigation before making a recommendation to the Provost.

4. The University Representative will send the recommendation to the Provost, who will make the final decision.
SECTION IV: SOCIAL MISCONDUCT POLICY

VALUES AND PRINCIPLES

The University is committed to fostering a campus environment that is conducive to academic inquiry, a productive campus life, and thoughtful study and discourse. The University’s expectations for students’ conduct are based on the following core values:

- Integrity: University students exemplify honesty, honor, and respect for the truth in all of their dealings.
- Community: University students build and enhance their community.
- Social Justice: University students are just and equitable in their treatment of all members of the community and act to discourage and/or intervene to prevent injustice and inequitable behaviors.
- Respect: University students show positive regard for each other, for property, and for the community.
- Responsibility: University students are given and accept a high level of responsibility to self, to others, and to the community.

Appendix 1, titled Conduct Offenses, identifies and describes behaviors that are inappropriate and contrary to these core values. Any student found to have engaged in misconduct, including the acts identified in Appendix 1, is subject to sanction. Appendix 2 identifies typical sanctions. The University encourages all community members to report to University officials all incidents that involve students engaging in any act of misconduct.

APPLICABILITY OF STUDENT CONDUCT POLICY

The Student Conduct Policy applies to all forms of student conduct in addition to the behaviors addressed in the University’s Academic Misconduct Policy, Sex/Gender Discrimination Policy, and Residence Life Policy. Students at the University are provided a copy of the Student Conduct Policy annually in the form of a link on the University website. Students are responsible for having read and abiding by the provisions of the Student Conduct Policy. The University reserves the right to make changes and additions to this policy as necessary and at any time. These changes are in effect immediately upon being posted online at my.uindy.edu. Students are encouraged to regularly check my.uindy.edu for the current version of all policies and procedures in effect.

The Student Conduct Policy applies to the conduct of every individual student (undergraduate, graduate, Adult Students, etc.) from the time an offer of admission is extended and thereafter as long as the student has a continuing educational relationship with the University. When the responding party is a member of the University community, this policy is applicable regardless of the status of the reporting party who may be a member or nonmember of the campus community, including students, student organizations, faculty, administrators, staff, guests, visitors, campers, etc. The Student Conduct Policy also applies to guests of community members, whose hosts may be held accountable for the misconduct of their guests. This Student Conduct Policy also applies to all University-affiliated student organizations.

The Student Conduct Policy applies to conduct on the campus and at University-sponsored events and may also apply to actions off campus when the Associate Dean of Students (or designee), or Title IX Coordinator (if applicable) determines that the off-campus conduct affects a substantial University interest, including posing a danger to health or safety, impinging on another’s rights or property or causing social disorder. The Student Conduct Policy may be applied to behavior conducted online, via email or other electronic media, including online postings such as blogs, web postings, chats, chat rooms, and social networking sites. If violations of the Student Conduct Policy are discovered and substantiated after a student has left the University, sanctions may be issued that affect the student’s ability to re-enroll or obtain official transcripts or graduate. In the event of a serious violation of the Student Conduct Policy, the University may revoke the student’s degree.

THE STUDENT CONDUCT PROCESS

AUTHORITY
The Associate Dean of Students has authority over student conduct and the student conduct process. The Associate Dean of Students may delegate authority for any aspects of the process and has the responsibility to provide adequate training to such designees.

MAKING A COMPLAINT
Any person -- a student, employee, faculty member, visitor, or guest -- may submit a Complaint that a student has violated the Student Conduct Policy. For information on reporting Title IX violations, see the Sexual Misconduct Policy. A Complaint may be submitted electronically or delivered verbally or in writing to the Associate Dean of Students or their designee. Although there is no time limit for submitting a complaint, doing so as soon as possible after the offending event makes it possible to conduct an investigation while evidence is available and memories are fresh. During this process, the person making the Complaint is the “Reporting party.” The student alleged to have engaged in misconduct is the “Respondent.” The official named above is called a “Facilitator.” This facilitator or another official designated as a Facilitator by the Associate Dean of Students or the Title IX Coordinator will take initial responsibility for addressing your Complaint and will take the appropriate preliminary steps.

PRELIMINARY INQUIRY
Following receipt of notice or a report of misconduct, the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator engages in a preliminary inquiry to determine if there is reasonable cause to believe policy has been violated. The preliminary inquiry is typically 1-3 days in duration. This inquiry may also serve to help the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator to determine if the allegations evidence violence, threat, pattern, predation and/or weapon, in the event that the reporting party has asked for no action to be taken. In any case where violence, threat, pattern, predation, and/or weapon is not evident, the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator may respect a reporting party’s request for no action, and will investigate only so far as necessary to determine appropriate remedies. As necessary, the University reserves the right to initiate resolution proceedings without a formal report or participation by the reporting party.

In cases where the reporting party wishes to proceed or the University determines it must proceed, and the preliminary inquiry shows that reasonable cause exists, the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator will review all available information and determine that the allegation be resolved through one of the following processes:

- Conflict Resolution – typically used for less serious offenses and only when both parties agree to conflict resolution. If conflict resolution is desired by the reporting party, and appears appropriate given the nature of the alleged behavior, then the report does not proceed to investigation, unless a pattern of misconduct is suspected or there is an actual or perceived threat of further harm to the community or any of its members.
- Informal Investigation - typically used for less serious offenses that do not fall under Title IX. The Associate Dean of Students (or designee) has the authority to resolve the alleged policy violation without conducting a formal investigation.
- Formal Investigation - typically used for more serious violations that fall under Title IX. The procedures are described in the steps below.
Once a formal investigation is commenced, the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator will provide notification of the investigation to the responding party at an appropriate time during the investigation. The University aims to complete all investigations within a sixty (60) calendar day time period, which can be extended as necessary for appropriate cause by the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator with notice to the parties as appropriate.

If during the preliminary inquiry or at any point during the formal investigation, it is determined that there is no reasonable cause to believe that policy has been violated, the process will end unless the reporting party requests that an extraordinary determination be made to reopen the investigation. This decision lies in the sole discretion of the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator.

INTERIM REMEDIES/ACTIONS

The University may provide interim remedies intended to address the short-term effects of harassment, discrimination and/or retaliation and to prevent further violations. These interim remedies may include, but are not limited to:

- Referral to counseling and health services
- Referral to the Employee Assistance Program
- Education to the community
- Altering the housing situation of the responding party (resident student or resident employee (or the reporting party, if desired))
- Altering work arrangements for employees
- Providing campus escorts
- Providing transportation accommodations
- Implementing contact limitations between the parties
- Offering adjustments to academic deadlines, course schedules, etc.
- Suspension
  - In all cases in which an interim suspension is imposed, the student will be given the option to meet with the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator prior to such suspension being imposed, or as soon thereafter as reasonably possible, to show cause why the suspension should not be implemented. The Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator has sole discretion to determine interim remedies and conditions and duration (if applicable). Violation of an interim suspension under this policy will be grounds for expulsion or termination (see Suspensions, under conduct sanctions for more details)

THE INVESTIGATION

Once the decision is made to commence a formal investigation, the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator appoints two (2) Investigators to conduct the investigation, usually within two (2) days of determining that an investigation should proceed. Investigations are completed expeditiously, normally within ten (10) days, though some investigations take weeks or even months, depending on the nature, extent and complexity of the allegations, availability of witnesses, police involvement, etc.

The University may undertake a short delay its investigation (several days to weeks, to allow evidence collection) when criminal charges on the basis of the same behaviors that invoke this process are being investigated. The University will promptly resume its investigation and resolution processes once notified by law enforcement that the initial evidence collection process is complete. University action will not typically be altered or precluded on the grounds that civil or criminal charges involving the same incident have been filed or that charges have been dismissed or reduced.
All investigations will be thorough, reliable, impartial, prompt and fair. Investigations entail interviews with all relevant parties and witnesses, obtaining available evidence and identifying sources of expert information, as necessary.

The Investigators will typically take the following steps, if not already completed (not necessarily in order): In coordination with campus partners (e.g.: the Title IX Coordinator), initiate or assist with any necessary remedial actions:

- Determine the identity and contact information of the reporting party;
- Identify all policies allegedly violated;
- Assist with an immediate preliminary inquiry to determine if there is reasonable cause to believe the responding party has violated policy.

If there is insufficient evidence to support reasonable cause, the inquiry should be closed with no further action;

- Commence a thorough, reliable and impartial investigation by developing a strategic investigation plan, including a witness list, evidence list, intended timeframe, and order of interviews for all witnesses and the responding party, who may be given notice prior to or at the time of the interview;
- Prepare the notice of allegation [charges] on the basis of the preliminary inquiry;
- Meet with the reporting party to finalize their statement, if necessary;
- If possible, provide written notification to the parties prior to their interviews that they may have an advisor [advocate] of their choosing present for all meetings attended by the advisee;
- Provide reporting party and responding party with a written description of the alleged violation(s), a list of all policies allegedly violated, a description of the applicable procedures and a statement of the potential sanctions/responsive actions that could result;
- Allow each party the opportunity to suggest questions they wish the Investigators to ask of the other party and witnesses.
- Provide parties with all relevant evidence to be used in rendering a determination and provide each with a full and fair opportunity to address that evidence prior to a finding being rendered;
- Complete the investigation promptly, and without unreasonable deviation from the intended timeline;
- Provide regular updates to the reporting party throughout the investigation, and to the responding party, as appropriate;
- Once the report is complete, the report is shared with the parties for their review and comment. The Investigators may incorporate feedback from the parties as appropriate;
- Recommend to the Title IX Coordinator or Associate Dean of Students a finding, based on a preponderance of the evidence (whether a policy violation is more likely than not).

At any point during the investigation, if it is determined there is no reasonable cause to believe that University policy has been violated, the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) or Title IX Coordinator has authority to terminate the investigation and end resolution proceedings.

Witnesses (as distinguished from the parties) are expected to cooperate with and participate in the University’s/College’s investigation. Failure of a witness to cooperate with and/or participate in the investigation constitutes a violation of policy and may be subject to discipline. Witnesses may provide written statements in lieu of interviews during the investigation and may be interviewed remotely by phone, Skype (or similar technology), if they cannot be interviewed in person or if the Investigators determine that timeliness or efficiency results in a need for remote interviewing.

No unauthorized audio or video recording of any kind is permitted during investigation meetings or other proceedings.
THE DECISION

The Associate Dean of Students (or designee) and/or Title IX Coordinator will review the materials from the Investigator(s). The Associate Dean of Students (or designee) and/or Title IX Coordinator may request that the Investigator(s) take specific additional investigative action and provide a supplemented summary report.

The Associate Dean of Students (or designee) and/or Title IX Coordinator will provide simultaneously to the reporting party and the responding party the report of the decision, including identification of each alleged policy violation, the determination of whether or not a preponderance of the evidence substantiates each alleged policy violation, the process for either party to appeal, and, where required by Title IX, the rationale for the action.

The communication to the Respondent will describe the sanctions imposed, if any. The University also reserves the right to designate which university officials (coaches, athletic staff, instructors, etc.) have a need to know about incidents that fall within this policy, pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

The communication to the reporting party will identify any remedies offered to the reporting party and will identify the sanctions imposed only where that is required by Title IX and permitted by FERPA.

APPEAL

Any party may appeal the decision by submitting a written notice of appeal to the Vice President for Student & Campus Affairs and Dean of Students within three (3) business days after receiving the written decision. The notice of appeal must identify the grounds for appeal relied upon and the facts supporting the appeal.

The grounds for appeal are limited to the following:

1. A procedural error occurred that materially affected the outcome;
2. New evidence that was unavailable during the investigation could materially affect the outcome; or
3. The sanction(s) imposed are substantially outside the University’s guidelines.

Based upon a review of documentation of the investigation and the appeal, the Vice President for Student & Campus Affairs and Dean of Students may affirm or modify the decision and imposition of sanctions and will simultaneously advise the reporting party and the Respondent of the determination, which is final.

TIMETABLE

The University will make all reasonable efforts to complete investigations within 30 days of receiving the complaint and to arrive at a final decision within no more than 60 days after receiving the complaint. For good cause shown, the Associate Dean of Students and/or Title IX Coordinator may extend those times.

ADVISORS

Each party is allowed to have an advisor of their choice present with them for all meetings and proceedings, from intake through to final determination. The parties may select whomever they wish to serve as their advisor as long as the advisor is eligible and available, and usually otherwise not involved in the resolution process, such as serving as a witness. The advisor may be a friend, mentor, family member, attorney or any other supporter a party chooses to advise them who is available and eligible. Witnesses cannot also serve as advisors. The parties may choose advisors from inside or outside the campus community. The parties may choose their advisor or proceed without an advisor.
The parties may be accompanied by their advisor in all meetings and interviews at which the party is entitled to be present, including intake and interviews. Advisors should help their advisees prepare for each meeting, and are expected to advise ethically, with integrity and in good faith. The University cannot guarantee equal advisory rights, meaning that if one party selects an advisor who is an attorney, but the other party does not, or cannot afford an attorney, the University is not obligated to provide one. Additionally, responding parties may wish to contact organizations such as:

- FACE (http://www.facecampusequality.org)
- SAVE (http://www.saveservices.org)

Reporting parties may wish to contact organizations such as:

- The Victim Rights Law Center (http://www.victimrights.org), or the

All advisors are subject to the same campus rules, whether they are attorneys or not. Advisors may not address campus officials in a meeting or interview unless invited to. The advisor may not make a presentation or represent the reporting party or the responding party during any meeting or proceeding and may not speak on behalf of the advisee to the Investigators or hearing panelists. The parties are expected to ask and respond to questions on their own behalf, without representation by their advisor. Advisors may confer quietly with their advisees or in writing as necessary, as long as they do not disrupt the process. For longer or more involved discussions, the parties and their advisors should ask for breaks or step out of meetings to allow for private conversation. Advisors can request an opportunity to meet in advance of any interview or meeting with the administrative officials conducting the interview or meeting. This pre-meeting will allow advisors to clarify any questions they may have, and allows the University an opportunity to clarify the role of the advisor is expected to take.

Advisors are expected to refrain from interference with the investigation and resolution. Any advisor who steps out of their role will be warned once and only once. If the advisor continues to disrupt or otherwise fails to respect the limits of the advisor role, the advisor will be asked to leave the meeting. When an advisor is removed from a meeting, that meeting will typically continue without the advisor present. Subsequently, the Title IX Coordinator and/or the Associate Dean of Students will determine whether the advisor may be reinstated, may be replaced by a different advisor, or whether the party will forfeit the right to an advisor for the remainder of the process.

The University expects that the parties will wish to share documentation related to the allegations with their advisors. They may share the information directly with their advisor if they wish. Advisors are expected to maintain the privacy of the records shared with them. These records may not be shared with 3rd parties, disclosed publicly, or used for purposes not explicitly authorized by the University. The University may seek to restrict the role of any advisor who does not respect the sensitive nature of the process or who fails to abide by the University’s privacy expectations.

The University expects an advisor to adjust their schedule to allow them to attend University meetings when scheduled. The University does not typically change scheduled meetings to accommodate an advisor’s inability to attend. The University will, however, make reasonable provisions to allow an advisor who cannot attend in person to attend a meeting by telephone, video and/or virtual meeting technologies as may be convenient and available. A party may elect to change advisors during the process, and is not locked into using the same advisor throughout. The parties must advise the Investigators of the identity of their advisor at least two (2) days before the date of their first meeting with Investigators (or as soon as possible if a more expeditious meeting is necessary or desired). The parties must provide timely notice to Investigators if they change advisors at any time.
RESOLUTION

Proceedings are private. All persons present at any time during the resolution process are expected to maintain the privacy of the proceedings in accordance with University policy. While the contents of the hearing are private, the parties have discretion to share their own experiences if they so choose, and should discuss doing so with their advisors.

CONFLICT RESOLUTION

Conflict Resolution is often used for less serious, yet inappropriate, behaviors and is encouraged as an alternative to the Administrative Resolution process to resolve conflicts. The Title IX Coordinator and/or the Associate Dean of Students will determine if conflict resolution is appropriate, based on the willingness of the parties, the nature of the conduct at issue and the susceptibility of the conduct to conflict resolution. In a conflict resolution meeting, a trained administrator will facilitate a dialogue with the parties to an effective resolution, if possible. Sanctions are not possible as the result of a conflict resolution process, though the parties may agree to appropriate remedies. The Title IX Coordinator and/or the Associate Dean of Students will keep records of any resolution that is reached, and failure to abide by the accord can result in appropriate responsive actions.

Conflict resolution will not be the primary resolution mechanism used to address reports of violent behavior of any kind or in other cases of serious violations of policy, though it may be made available after the Administrative Resolution process is completed should the parties and the Title IX Coordinator and/or the Associate Dean of Students believe that it could be beneficial. Mediation will not be used in cases of sexual violence. It is not necessary to pursue conflict resolution first in order to pursue Administrative Resolution, and any party participating in conflict resolution can stop that process at any time and request a shift to Administrative Resolution.

SANCTIONS

Factors considered when determining a sanction/responsive action may include:

- The nature, severity of, and circumstances surrounding the violation
- An individual’s disciplinary history
- Previous allegations or allegations involving similar conduct
- Any other information deemed relevant
- The need for sanctions/responsive actions to bring an end to the discrimination, harassment and/or retaliation
- The need for sanctions/responsive actions to prevent the future recurrence of discrimination, harassment and/or retaliation
- The need to remedy the effects of the discrimination, harassment and/or retaliation on the reporting party and the community

AMNESTY FROM STUDENT DISCIPLINE

Assisting students who are reporting sexual misconduct is the University’s primary interest. In order to facilitate reporting, the Associate Dean of Students, or designee, may choose not to charge students who report sexual misconduct and any material witnesses with student Code of Conduct violations for behavior that would be considered violations (for example consuming alcohol or consuming illegal drugs). The University may choose, however, to recommend educational or therapeutic remedies for those individuals.

WITHDRAWAL OR RESIGNATION WHILE CHARGES PENDING

The University does not permit a student to withdraw if that student has an allegation pending for violation of the policy on Equal Opportunity, Harassment and Nondiscrimination. Should a student decide to leave and/or not participate in the investigation, the process will nonetheless proceed in the student’s absence to a reasonable resolution and that student will not be permitted to return to the University unless all sanctions have been satisfied. The student will not have access to an academic transcript until the allegations have been resolved.

FAILURE TO COMPLETE SANCTIONS/COMPLY WITH INTERIM AND LONG-TERM REMEDIES/RESPONSIVE ACTIONS

All responding parties are expected to comply with conduct sanctions, responsive actions and corrective actions within the timeframe specified. Failure to abide by these conduct sanctions, responsive actions and corrective actions by the date specified, whether by refusal, neglect or any other reason, may result in additional sanctions/responsive/corrective actions and/or suspension, expulsion and/or termination from the University and may be noted on a student’s official record. A suspension will only be lifted when compliance is achieved to the satisfaction of the Title IX Coordinator and/or the Associate Dean of Students.

RECORDS

In implementing this policy, records of all allegations, investigations, resolutions, and hearings will be kept by the Title IX Coordinator and/or the Associate Dean of Students indefinitely.

REVISION
These policies and procedures will be reviewed and updated annually by the Title IX Coordinator and/or the Associate Dean of Students. The University reserves the right to make changes to this document as necessary and once those changes are posted online, they are in effect. Procedures in effect at the time of the resolution will apply to resolution of incidents, regardless of when the incident occurred. Policy in effect at the time of the offense will apply even if the policy is changed subsequently but prior to resolution, unless the parties consent to be bound by the current policy. If government regulations change in a way that impacts this document, this document will be construed to comply with government regulations in their most recent form.

This document does not create legally enforceable protections beyond the protection of the background state and federal laws which frame such codes generally.
APPENDIX 1: CONDUCT OFFENSES

The University considers the behavior described in the following subsections as inappropriate for the University community and in opposition to the core values set forth in the Student Conduct Policy. Any student found to have engaged in misconduct, including the following acts, is subject to sanctions. For violations of the University Sexual Misconduct Policy and gender discrimination, see the next section.

Integrity

University of Indianapolis students exemplify honesty, honor and respect for the truth in all of their dealings. Behavior that violates this value includes, but is not limited to:

Harassment

Any unwelcome conduct based on actual or perceived race, color, sex, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, disability, citizenship status, military status, sexual orientation, or gender identity or expression that is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it interferes with, limits or denies someone’s ability to participate in or benefit from the University’s educational program or activities. (See Non-Discrimination Policy for further information.)

University Policy on Discriminatory Harassment

Students, staff, administrators, and faculty are entitled to a working environment and educational environment free of discriminatory harassment. The University harassment policy is not meant to inhibit or prohibit educational content or discussions inside or outside of the classroom that include germane, but controversial or sensitive subject matters protected by academic freedom. The sections below describe the specific forms of legally prohibited harassment that are also prohibited under this policy.

Discriminatory and Bias-Related Harassment

Harassment constitutes a form of discrimination that is prohibited by UIndy policy as well as the law. The University condemns and will not tolerate discriminatory harassment against any employee, student, visitor or guest on the basis of any status protected by policy or law. The University will remedy all forms of harassment when reported, whether or not the harassment rises to the level of creating a hostile environment. When harassment rises to the level of creating a hostile environment, the University may also impose sanctions on the harasser. The University’s harassment policy explicitly prohibits any form of harassment, defined as unwelcome conduct on the basis of actual or perceived membership in a protected class, by any member or group of the community.

A hostile environment may be created by harassing verbal, written, graphic, or physical conduct that is severe or persistent/pervasive, and objectively offensive, such that it interferes with, limits or denies the ability of an individual to participate in or benefit from educational programs or activities or employment access, benefits or opportunities.

The University reserves the right to address offensive conduct and/or harassment that 1) does not rise to the level of creating a hostile environment, or 2) that is of a generic nature not on the basis of a protected status. Addressing such behaviors may not result in the imposition of discipline under this policy, but will be addressed through respectful confrontation, remedial actions, education and/or effective conflict resolution mechanisms. For assistance with conflict resolution techniques, students should contact the Associate Dean of Students and/or the Title IX Coordinator.
Controlled Substances Policy
The unlawful use, possession, distribution, or influence of controlled substances are prohibited on the premises of the University of Indianapolis and at any off-campus activity sponsored by the University.

Violation of local, state, federal or campus fire policies including, but not limited to:
Intentionally or recklessly causing a fire which damages University or personal property or which causes injury;
Failure to evacuate a University-controlled building during a fire alarm;

Additionally, skateboards and other wheeled items may not be ridden on railings, curbs, benches, or any such fixtures that may be damaged by these activities, and individuals may be liable for damage to University property caused by these activities.

• Users must abide by the rental terms within the licensed Shared Mobility System User Agreement;
• Users must be at least (18) years of age;
• Users of Shared Mobility Devices should not carry passengers. This means one person per mobility device;
• Shared Mobility Devices are not permitted inside any campus buildings;
• Shared Mobility Devices must always be operated at a low speed, especially in the presence of pedestrians;
• Pedestrians have right of way and shared mobility devices are required to yield to pedestrian traffic;
• Charging Shared Mobility Devices on campus is not allowed except in authorized circumstances; and
• Shared Mobility Devices must be parked in an upright manner and should be parked in or around bike racks across campus so they do not block access or impede pedestrian traffic.

Social Justice

University of Indianapolis students recognize that respecting the dignity of every person is essential for creating and sustaining a flourishing university community. They understand and appreciate how their decisions and actions impact others and are just and equitable in their treatment of all members of the community. They act to discourage and challenge those whose actions may be harmful to and/or diminish the worth of others. Conduct that violates this value includes, but is not limited to:

Discrimination

Any act or failure to act that is based upon an individual’s or group’s actual or perceived race, color, sex, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, disability, citizenship status, military status, sexual orientation, or gender identity or expression. (See Non-Discrimination Policy for further information.)

Harassment

Any unwelcome conduct based on actual or perceived race, color, sex, age, religion, national or ethnic origin, disability, citizenship status, military status, sexual orientation, or gender identity or expression that is sufficiently severe or pervasive that it interferes with, limits or denies someone’s ability to participate in or benefit from the University’s educational program or activities. (See Non-Discrimination Policy for further information.)

Retaliation

Failing to intervene to prevent (and/or) failing to discourage (and/or) failing to report those acts may also violate this policy.

Public Exposure
Deliberately and publicly exposing one’s intimate body parts, public urination, defecation, and public sex acts.
Responsibility

University of Indianapolis students are given and accept a high level of responsibility to self, to others and to the community. Behavior that violates this value includes, but is not limited to:

- Alcohol. Use, possession, or distribution of alcoholic beverages or paraphernalia in violation of the University’s Alcohol Policy (see alcohol policy for further information);

APPENDIX 2: CONDUCT SANCTIONS

One or more of the following sanctions may be imposed upon any student for any violation of the Student Conduct Policy:

Restitution

Compensation for damage caused to the University or any person’s property. This could also include situations such as failure to return a reserved space to proper condition – labor costs and expenses. This is not a fine but, rather, a repayment for labor costs and/or the value of property destroyed, damaged, consumed, or stolen.
Fines
Reasonable fines may be imposed.

Community/University Service Requirements
For a student or organization to complete a specific supervised University service.

Loss of Privileges
The student will be denied specified privileges for a designated period of time.

Confiscation of Prohibited Property
Items whose presence is in violation of University policy will be confiscated and will become the property of the University. Prohibited items may be returned to the owner at the discretion of the Dean of Students or Campus Police.

Behavioral Requirement
This includes required activities including, but not limited to, seeking academic counseling or substance abuse screening, writing a letter of apology, etc.

Educational Program
Requirement to attend, present and/or participate in a program related to the violation. It may also be a requirement to sponsor or assist with a program for others on campus to aid them in learning about a specific topic or issue related to the violation for which the student or organization was found responsible.

Restriction of Visitation Privileges
May be imposed on a resident or non-resident student. The parameters of the restriction will be specified.

Official notice that, should further violations of residence life or University policies occur during a specified probationary period, the student may immediately be removed from University housing. Regular probationary meetings may also be imposed.

University Housing Reassignment
Reassignment to another University housing facility. Residence Life and Housing personnel will decide on the reassignment details.

University Housing Suspension
Removal from University housing for a specified period of time after which the student is eligible to return (including interim suspensions). Conditions for readmission to University housing may be specified. Under this sanction, a student is required to vacate University housing within 24 hours of notification of the action, though this deadline may be extended upon application to, and at the discretion of, the Associate Dean of Students. This sanction may be enforced with a trespass action if deemed necessary. Prior to reapplication for University housing, the student must gain permission from the Associate Dean of Students or designee. This sanction may include restrictions on visitation to specified buildings or all University housing during the suspension.
University Housing Expulsion
The student’s privilege to live in, or visit, any University housing structure is revoked indefinitely. This sanction may be enforced with a trespass action if deemed necessary.

Eligibility may be contingent upon satisfaction of specific conditions noted at the time of suspension (or pending the outcome of an investigation for interim suspension). The student is required to vacate the campus within 24 hours of notification of the action, though this deadline may be extended upon application to, and at the discretion of the Associate Dean of Students or designee, or Title IX Coordinator. During the suspension period, the student is banned from university property, functions, events and activities without prior written approval from the Associate Dean of Students or designee or Title IX Coordinator. This sanction may be enforced with a trespass action as necessary. [This sanction may be noted on the academic record.]

University Expulsion
Permanent separation from the University. The student is banned from university property and the student’s presence at any University-sponsored activity or event is prohibited. This action may be enforced with a trespass action as necessary. [This sanction may be noted on the academic record.]

Other Sanctions
Additional or alternate sanctions may be created and designed as deemed appropriate to the offense with the approval of the Associate Dean of Students.

The following sanctions may be imposed upon groups or organizations found to have violated the Student Conduct Policy: One or more of the sanctions listed above; and/or Deactivation, de-recognition, loss of all privileges (including status as a University registered group/organization), for a specified period of time.

Student workers will be covered by this policy, and may also fall under the jurisdiction of human resources, which will jointly resolve all complaints with the Dean of Students.

The University Title IX Coordinator will be informed of, and oversee, all complaints of sex discrimination and is responsible for identifying and addressing any patterns or systemic problems that arise during the review of such complaints. During the investigation and/or grievance process for complaints of sex discrimination, the University may take a number of interim actions in order to ensure the preservation of the educational experience and the overall University environment of the party bringing the complaint. These actions may include, but are not limited to: imposing a no contact order on the responding party; residence hall removal or relocation of one or more involved parties; changes in academic schedules or assignments for one or both parties and interim suspension of the responding party.

SEXUAL MISCONDUCT POLICY

Members of University community, guests and visitors have the right to be free from sexual violence and discrimination. All members of the University community are expected to conduct themselves in a manner that does not infringe upon the rights of others. The University sexual misconduct policy has been developed to reaffirm this expectation and to provide recourse for those individuals whose rights have been violated. The University maintains a policy of zero tolerance for sexual misconduct regardless of sexual orientation or gender identity of individuals engaging in sexual activity. Zero tolerance means the University will remedy all unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature and will impose serious sanctions on anyone who violates this policy. Resolution by the University is intended to bring an end to harassing or discriminatory conduct, prevent its recurrence and remedy the effects on the victim and the community. This policy has dual purposes; it serves as a measure to determine, after-the-fact, if behaviors trespass on community values and as a guide for students on the University’s expectations, preventatively, for sexual communication and interaction, responsibility and respect.

While the policy below is quite detailed and specific, the expectations of this community can be summarized in this simple paragraph: Consent is clear sexual permission and can only be given by one of legal age. Consent can be given by word or action, but non-verbal consent is more ambiguous than explicitly stating one’s wants and limitations. Consent to one form of sexual activity should not, and cannot, be taken as consent to any other sexual activity. Individuals who consent to sex must be able to fully understand what they are doing. Under this policy, “No” always means “No” and “Yes” may not always mean “Yes.” For example, when alcohol or other drugs are used, a person will be considered unable to give valid consent if the person cannot appreciate the who, what, where, when, why, or how of a sexual interaction. In addition, silence—without clear actions demonstrating permission—cannot be assumed to indicate consent.

Consent

- Consent is expressed through affirmative, voluntary words or actions mutually understandable to all parties involved.
- Consent is given for a specific sexual act at a specific time and can be withdrawn at any time.
- Consent cannot be coerced or compelled by duress, threat, or force.
- Consent cannot be given by someone who, for any reason, cannot understand the facts, nature, extent, or implications of the sexual situation occurring, including, but not limited to, those who are under the legal age of consent, asleep, unconscious, or mentally or physically impaired through the effects of drugs or alcohol.
- Consent cannot be assumed based on silence, the absence of “no” or “stop,” the existence of a prior or current relationship, or prior sexual activity.

Finally, there is a difference between seduction and coercion; coercion is defined in this policy as unreasonably pressuring another person for sex. Coercing someone into engaging in sexual activity (or attempting to do the same) violates this policy in the same way as physically forcing someone into engaging in sexual activity.
VIOLATIONS OF THE UNIVERSITY SEXUAL MISCONDUCT POLICY

Sexual misconduct is a serious offense and such violations are subject to any combination of conduct sanctions as described in the Code of Student Conduct - Section 7: “Formal Conduct Procedures”, with individuals found responsible for violation of nonconsensual sexual intercourse policy facing a recommended sanction of University suspension or University expulsion. Deviations from this range are rare and only made where there are compelling mitigating circumstances. Suspensions, if given, are based on satisfying conditions rather than solely on a period of time. Predatory, patterns and/or repeat offenders face expulsion, which is also available for any serious offense whether pattern, predatory or repeat offending is evidenced or not. The other forms of sexual misconduct defined below cover a range of behaviors, and therefore a range of sanctions from warning to expulsion can be applied, depending on the nature of the misconduct. A partial list of University sexual misconduct policy violations is listed below.

1. Sexual Harassment - Sexual harassment is defined as unwelcome sex-based conduct or unwelcome conduct of a sexual nature. The University encourages the reporting of all sexual harassment to a supervisor and/or the Title IX Coordinator. The University will promptly and effectively remedy all instances of reported sexual harassment by providing resources to the victim and addressing the effects on the victim and the community. To impose discipline on a harasser, sexual harassment must also meet the definition of hostile environment, quid pro quo or retaliation defined immediately below:
   a. Hostile Environment includes situations where harassment is sufficiently severe, pervasive or persistent and objectively offensive that it unreasonably interferes with, limits or denies the ability to participate in or benefit from the University’s educational or employment programs or activities, sanctions can be imposed for the creation of a hostile environment. The determination of whether an environment is “hostile” must be based on all the circumstances. These circumstances could include, but are not limited to:
      i. The frequency of the speech or conduct;
      ii. The nature and severity of the speech or conduct;
      iii. Whether the conduct was physically threatening;
      iv. Whether the speech or conduct was humiliating;
      v. The effect of the speech or conduct on the alleged victim’s mental and/or emotional state;
      vi. Whether the speech or conduct was directed at more than one person;
      vii. Whether the speech or conduct arose in the context of other discriminatory conduct;
      viii. Whether the speech or conduct unreasonably interfered with the alleged victim’s educational or work performance;
      ix. Whether a statement is a mere utterance of an epithet, which engenders offensive in an employee or a student or offends by mere discourtesy or rudeness.
      x. Whether coercion exists. Coercion is defined in this policy as unreasonably pressuring another person for sex. Coercing someone into engaging in sexual activity (or attempting to do the same) violates this policy in the same way as physically forcing someone into engaging in sexual activity.
   b. Quid Pro Quo sexual harassment exists when there are unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors or other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature where submission to, or rejection of, such conduct results in adverse educational or employment action. Quid pro quo harassment may also exist when a threat of adverse action or a promise of a benefit is explicitly conditioned on submission to, or rejection of, such requests.
   c. Retaliation exists when an individual harasses, intimidates or takes other adverse action(s) against a person because of the person’s participation in an investigation of discrimination or sexual misconduct or their support of someone involved in an investigation of discrimination or sexual misconduct. Retaliatory actions include, but are not limited to, threats or actual violence against the person or their property, adverse educational or employment consequences, ridicule, intimidation, bullying, or ostracism. The University will impose sanctions on any faculty, student or staff member found to be engaging in retaliation.

Some examples of possible Sexual Harassment include:

- A professor insists that a student have sex with them in exchange for a good grade. This is harassment regardless of whether the student accedes to the request and irrespective of whether a good grade is promised or a bad grade is threatened.
- A student repeatedly sends sexually oriented jokes around on an email list they created, even when asked to stop, causing one recipient to avoid the sender on campus and in the residence hall in which they both live.
- Explicit sexual pictures are displayed in a professor’s office or on the exterior of a residence hall door.
- Two supervisors frequently ‘rate’ several employees’ bodies and sex appeal, commenting suggestively about their clothing and appearance.
- A professor engages students in her class in discussions about their past sexual experiences, yet the conversation is not in any way germane to the subject matter of the class. She probes for explicit details, and demands that students answer her, though they are clearly uncomfortable and hesitant.
- An ex-girlfriend widely spreads false stories about her sex life with her former boyfriend to the clear discomfort of the boyfriend, turning him into a social pariah on campus.
- A student grabbed another student by the hair, then grabbed her breast and put his mouth on it. While this is sexual harassment, it is also a form of sexual violence.

Sexual Misconduct

State law defines various violent and/or non-consensual sexual acts as crimes. While some of these acts may have parallels in criminal law, UIndy has defined categories of sex/gender discrimination as sexual misconduct, as stated below, for which action under this policy may be imposed. Generally speaking, UIndy considers non-consensual sexual intercourse violations to be the most serious of these offenses, and therefore typically imposes the most severe sanctions, including suspension or expulsion for students and termination for employees. However, the University reserves the right to impose any level of sanction, ranging from a reprimand up to and including suspension or expulsion/termination, for any act of sexual misconduct or other sex/gender-based offenses, including intimate partner (dating and/or domestic) violence, non-consensual sexual contact and/or stalking based on the facts and circumstances of the particular allegation. Acts of sexual misconduct may be committed by any person upon any other person, regardless of the sex, sexual orientation and/or gender identity of those involved. Violations include:

1. Sexual Harassment
2. Non-consensual sexual intercourse: non-consensual penetration of, or forcing someone to penetrate, an orifice (anal, vaginal, oral) with the penis, finger, tongue, or objects (or attempts to commit the same)

Defined as:

1. any sexual intercourse
2. however slight
3. with any object
4. by a person upon another person
5. that is without consent and/or by force

Sexual intercourse includes:
Vaginal or anal penetration by a penis, tongue, finger or object, or oral copulation (mouth to genital contact) no matter how slight the penetration or contact, non-consensual sexual contact (or attempts to commit the same)

Defined as:

- any intentional sexual touching
• however slight
• with any object
• by a person upon another person
• that is without consent and/or by force

Sexual touching includes:
Intentional contact with the breasts, groin, or genitals, mouth or touching another with any of these body parts, or making another touch you or themselves with or on any of these body parts; or any other bodily contact in a sexual manner.
• Fondling is the touching of private body parts of another person for the purpose of sexual gratification, without the consent of the victim, including instances where the victim is incapable of giving consent because of his/her age or because of his/her temporary or permanent mental incapacity.
• Incest is sexual intercourse between persons who are related to each other within the degrees wherein marriage is prohibited by law.
• Statutory rape is sexual intercourse with a person who is under the statutory age of consent.

Sexual exploitation refers to a situation in which a person takes non-consensual or abusive advantage of another, and that behavior does not otherwise fall within the definitions of Sexual Harassment, Non-consensual sexual intercourse or Non-consensual sexual contact. Examples of Sexual exploitation include, but are not limited to:
• Sexual voyeurism (such as watching a person undressing, using the bathroom or engaged in sexual acts without the consent of the person observed)
• Invasion of sexual privacy
• Taking pictures or video or audio recording another in a sexual act, or in any other private activity without the consent of all involved in the activity, or exceeding the boundaries of consent (such as allowing another person to hide in a closet and observe sexual activity, or disseminating sexual pictures without the photographed person’s consent)
• Prostitution
• Sexual exploitation also includes engaging in sexual activity with another person while knowingly infected with human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), a sexually transmitted disease (STD) or infection (STI) without informing the other person of the infection
• Administering alcohol or drugs (such as “date rape” drugs) to another person without his or her knowledge or consent (assuming the act is not completed)
• Exposing one’s genitals in non-consensual circumstances
• Sexually-based stalking and/or bullying may also be forms of sexual exploitation

Force and Consent

Force: Force is the use of physical violence and/or imposing on someone physically to gain sexual access. Force also includes threats, intimidation (implied threats) and coercion that overcome resistance or produce consent (“Have sex with me or I’ll hit you.” “Okay, don’t hit me, I’ll do what you want.”).

Coercion is unreasonable pressure for sexual activity. Coercive behavior differs from seductive behavior based on the type of pressure someone uses to get consent from another. When someone makes clear to you that they do not want sex, that they want to stop, or that they do not want to go past a certain point of sexual interaction, continued pressure beyond that point can be coercive. As stated above, coercing someone into engaging in sexual activity (or attempting to do the same) violates this policy in the same way as physically forcing someone into engaging in sexual activity.

NOTE: Silence or the absence of resistance alone is not consent. There is no requirement on a party to resist the sexual advance or request, but resistance is a clear demonstration of non-consent. The presence of consent is not demonstrated by the absence of resistance. Sexual activity that is forced is by definition non-consensual, but non-consensual sexual activity is not by definition forced.

Consent: Consent is knowing, voluntary, and clear permission by word or action to engage in mutually agreed upon sexual activity. Since individuals may experience the same interaction in different ways, it is the responsibility of each party to make certain that the other has consented before engaging in the activity. For consent to be valid, there must be a clear expression in words or actions that the other individual has consented to that specific sexual conduct. Consent can be withdrawn once given, as long as the withdrawal is clearly communicated. Consent to some sexual contact (such as kissing or fondling) cannot be presumed to be consent for other sexual activity (such as intercourse). A current or previous dating relationship is not sufficient to constitute consent. The existence of consent is based on the totality of the circumstances, including the context in which the alleged incident occurred and any similar previous patterns that may be evidenced.

Incapacitation: A person cannot consent if they are unable to understand what is happening or is disoriented, helpless, asleep or unconscious for any reason, including due to alcohol or other drugs. An individual who engages in sexual activity when the individual knows, or should know, that the other person is physically or mentally incapacitated has violated this policy.

It is not an excuse that the responding party was intoxicated and, therefore, did not realize the incapacity of the reporting party.

Incapacitation is defined as a state where someone cannot make rational, reasonable decisions because they lack the capacity to give knowing/informed consent (e.g., to understand the “who, what, when, where, why or how” of their sexual interaction). This policy also covers a person whose incapacity results from mental disability, involuntary physical restraint and/or from the taking of incapacitating drugs.

In Indiana, a minor (meaning a person under the age of 16 years) cannot consent to sexual activity. This means that sexual contact by an adult with a person younger than 16 years old may be a crime, and a potential violation of this policy, even if the minor wanted to engage in the act.

Examples of lack of consent:

- Amanda and Bill meet at a party. They spend the evening dancing and getting to know each other. Bill convinces Amanda to come up to his room. From 11:00pm until 3:00am, Bill uses every line he can think of to convince Amanda to have sex with him, but she adamantly refuses. He keeps at her, and begins to question her religious convictions, and accuses her of being “a prude.” Finally, it seems to Bill that her resolve is weakening, and he convinces her to give him a "hand job" (hand to genital contact). Amanda would never had done it but for Bill's incessant advances. He feels that he successfully seduced her, and that she wanted to do it all along, but was playing shy and hard to get. Why else would she have come up to his room alone after the party? If she really didn't want it, she could have left. Bill is responsible for violating the university Sexual Misconduct policy. It is likely that campus decision-makers would find that the degree and duration of the pressure Bill applied to Amanda are unreasonable. Bill coerced Amanda into performing unwanted sexual touching upon him. Where sexual activity is coerced, it is forced. Consent is not valid when forced. Sex without consent is sexual misconduct.

- Jiang is a junior at the university. Beth is a sophomore. Jiang comes to Beth’s residence hall room with some mutual friends to watch a movie. Jiang and Beth, who have never met before, are attracted to each other. After the movie, everyone leaves, and Jiang and Beth are alone. They hit it off, and are soon becoming more intimate. They start to make out. Jiang verbally expresses his desire to have sex with Beth. Beth, who was abused by a babysitter when she was five, and has not had any sexual relations since, is shocked at how quickly things are progressing. As Jiang takes her by the wrist over to the bed, lays her down, undresses her, and begins to have intercourse with her, Beth has a severe flashback to her childhood trauma. She wants to tell Jiang to stop, but cannot. Beth is stiff and unresponsive during the intercourse. Is this a policy violation? Jiang would be held responsible in this scenario for non-consensual sexual intercourse. It is the duty of the sexual initiator, Jiang, to make sure that he has mutually understandable consent to engage in sex. Though consent need not be verbal, it is the clearest form of consent. Here, Jiang had no verbal or nonverbal mutually understandable indication from Beth that she consented to sexual intercourse. Of course, wherever possible, it is important to be as clear as possible as to whether or not sexual contact is desired, and to be aware that for psychological reasons, or because of alcohol or drug use, one’s partner may not be in a position to provide as clear an indication as the policy requires. As the policy makes clear, consent must be actively, not passively, given.

- Kevin and John are at a party. Kevin is not sure how much John has been drinking, but he is pretty sure it’s a lot. After the party, he walks John to his room, and John comes on to Kevin, initiating sexual activity. Kevin asks him if he is really up to this, and John says yes. Clothes go flying, and they end up in John’s bed. Suddenly, John runs for the bathroom. When he returns, his face is pale, and Kevin thinks he may have thrown up. John gets back into bed, and they begin to have sexual intercourse. Kevin is having a good time, though he can’t help but notice that John seems pretty groggy and passive, and he thinks John may have even passed out briefly during the sex, but he does not let that stop him. When Kevin runs into John the next day, he thanks him for the wild night. John remembers nothing, and decides to make a report to the Dean. This is a violation of the Sexual Misconduct Policy. Kevin should have known that John was incapable of making a rational, reasonable decision about sex. Even if John seemed to consent, Kevin was well aware that John had consumed a large amount of alcohol, and Kevin thought John was physically ill, and that he passed out during sex. Kevin should be held accountable for taking advantage of John in his condition. This is not the level of respectful conduct the university expects.

Other Civil Rights Offenses

In addition to the forms of sexual misconduct described above, the following behaviors are also prohibited as forms of discrimination when the act is based upon the reporting party’s actual or perceived membership in a protected class.[1]

- Threatening or causing physical harm, extreme verbal abuse, or other conduct which threatens or endangers the health or safety of any person;
- Discrimination, defined as actions that deprive, limit, or deny other members of the community of educational or employment access, benefits, or opportunities;
- Intimidation, defined as implied threats or acts that cause an unreasonable fear of harm in another;
- Hazing, defined as acts likely to cause physical or psychological harm or social ostracism to any person within the university community, when related to the admission, initiation, pledging, joining, or any other group-affiliation activity (as defined further in the Hazing Policy);
  - Bullying, defined as
  - Aggressive behavior
  - Likely to intimidate or intentionally hurt, control or diminish another person, physically or mentally
  - That is not speech or conduct otherwise protected by the 1st Amendment.
  - Intimate partner violence, defined as violence or abuse between those in an intimate interaction and/or relationship to each other;

Examples:

- A boyfriend shoves his girlfriend into a wall upon seeing her talking to a male friend. This physical assault based in jealousy is a violation of intimate partner violence policy.
- An ex-girlfriend shames her female partner, threatening to out her as a lesbian if she doesn’t give the ex another chance. Psychological abuse is a form of intimate partner violence.
- A graduate student refuses to wear a condom and forces his girlfriend to take hormonal birth control though it makes her ill, in order to prevent pregnancy.
- Married employees are witnessed in the parking garage, with one partner slapping and scratching the other in the midst of an argument.
Stalking

- Stalking 1:
  - A course of conduct
  - Directed at a specific person
  - On the basis of actual or perceived membership in a protected class
  - That is unwelcome, AND
  - Would cause a reasonable person to feel fear

- Stalking 2:
  - Repetitive and Menacing
  - Pursuit, following, harassing and/or interfering with the peace and/or safety of another

Examples of Stalking

- A student repeatedly shows up at another student's on-campus residence, always notifying the front desk attendant that they are there to see the resident. Upon a call to the resident, the student informs residence hall staff that this visitor is uninvited and continuously attempts to see them, even so far as waiting for them outside of classes and showing up to their on-campus place of employment requesting that they go out on a date together (Stalking 1).

- A graduate student working as an on-campus tutor received flowers and gifts delivered to their office. After learning the gifts were from a student they recently tutored, the graduate student thanked the student and stated that it was not necessary and would appreciate if the gift deliveries stop. The student then started leaving notes of love and gratitude on the graduate assistant's car, both on-campus and at home. Asked again to stop, the student stated by email: “You can ask me to stop, but I’m not giving up. We are meant to be together, and I’ll do anything necessary to make you have the feelings for me that I have for you.” When the tutor did not respond, the student emailed again, “You cannot escape me. I will track you to the ends of the earth. We are meant to be together” (Stalking 2).

Sanctions for the above-listed “Other Civil Rights Behaviors” behaviors range from reprimand through expulsion (students) or termination of employment. Any other University policies may fall within this section when a violation is motivated by the actual or perceived membership of the reporting party’s sex or gender.

Retaliation

Retaliation is defined as any adverse action taken against a person participating in a protected activity because of their participation in that protected activity. Retaliation against an individual for alleging harassment, supporting a party bringing an allegation or for assisting in providing information relevant to a claim of harassment is a serious violation of University policy and will be treated as another possible instance of harassment or discrimination. Acts of alleged retaliation should be reported immediately to the Title IX Coordinator and will be promptly investigated. The University is prepared to take appropriate steps to protect individuals who fear that they may be subjected to retaliation.

Examples of Retaliation:

- A student-athlete A files an allegation against a coach for sexual harassment; the coach subsequently cuts the student-athlete’s playing time in half without a legitimate justification

- A faculty member complains of gender inequity in pay within her department; the department chair then revokes his prior approval allowing her to attend a national conference, citing the faculty member’s tendency to “ruffle feathers.”
• A student from Organization A participates in a sexual misconduct hearing against the responding individual – also a member of Organization A; the student is subsequently removed as a member of Organization A because he participated in the hearing.

Confidentiality and Reporting Sexual Misconduct

All University employees (faculty, staff, administrators) are expected to report actual or suspected discrimination or harassment to appropriate officials immediately, though there are some limited exceptions. In order to make informed choices, one should be aware of confidentiality and mandatory reporting requirements when consulting campus resources. On campus, some resources may maintain confidentiality, offering options and advice without any obligation to inform an outside agency or individual unless you have requested information to be shared. Other resources exist for you to report crimes and policy violations and these resources will take action when you report victimization to them. The following describes the reporting options at the University of Indianapolis:

Confidential Reporting

If a reporting party would like the details of an incident to be kept confidential, the reporting party may speak with on-campus counselors, chaplains, campus health service providers, off-campus local rape crisis counselors, domestic violence resources, and local or state assistance agencies, who will maintain confidentiality except in extreme cases of immediacy of threat or danger or abuse of a minor. Campus counselors are available for students and can be seen on an emergency basis during normal business hours. These employees will submit anonymous statistical information for Title IX tracking and Clery Act purposes unless they believe it would be harmful to their client, patient or parishioner.

Formal Reporting Options

A formal report can be made to the Title IX Coordinator and/or Campus Police at any time. The reporting party has the right to proceed with a criminal investigation and a Title IX complaint simultaneously. If the reporting party files a criminal complaint with a local law enforcement agency, the University will comply with law enforcement agency requests for cooperation. Such cooperation may require the University to temporarily suspend the fact-finding aspect of a Title IX investigation while the law enforcement agency gathers evidence. The University will promptly resume its Title IX investigation as soon as notified by the law enforcement agency that it has completed the evidence gathering process. University employees who have a duty to report are called “responsible employees” unless they fall under the section above. Parties bringing a complaint may want to consider carefully whether they share personally identifiable details with responsible employees, as those details must be shared by the employee with the Title IX Coordinators and/or Deputy Coordinator. Responsible employees must share all the details of the reports they receive. If a reporting party does not wish for their names to be shared, does not wish for an investigation to take place, or does not want a formal resolution to be pursued, the reporting party may make such a request to the Title IX Coordinator, who will evaluate that request in light of the duty to ensure the safety of the campus and to comply with federal law.

In cases indicating pattern, predation, threats and/or violence, the University may be unable to honor a request for confidentiality. In cases where the victim requests confidentiality and the circumstances allow the University to honor that request, the University will offer interim support and remedies to the victim and the community, but will not otherwise pursue formal action. A party bringing a complaint has the right, and can expect, to have grievances taken seriously by the University when formally reported, and to have those incidents investigated and properly resolved through these procedures, keeping in mind that sexual violence complaints are not to be mediated as a resolution. Formal reporting still affords privacy to the reporter, and only a small group of officials who need to know will be told. Parties are not restricted from discussing and sharing information relating to their complaint with others that may support them or assist them in presenting their case.
Information will be shared as necessary with Investigators, witnesses and the responding party. The circle of people with this knowledge will be kept as tight as possible to preserve the rights and privacy of those involved. Additionally anonymous reports can be made by victims and/or third parties using the online reporting form posted at http://www.uindy.edu/campus-life/titleIX. Note that these anonymous reports may prompt a need for the institution to investigate.

False Allegations
Deliberately false and/or malicious accusations under this policy, as opposed to allegations which, even if erroneous, are made in good faith, are a serious offense and will be subject to appropriate disciplinary action.

Federal Timely Warning Obligations
Victims of sexual misconduct should be aware that University administrators must issue timely warnings for incidents reported to them that pose a substantial threat of bodily harm or danger to members of the campus community. The University will ensure that a victim’s name and other identifying information is not disclosed, while still providing enough information for community members to make safety decisions in light of the danger.

Information Supplementing the University Sexual Misconduct Policy
In addition to the information provided in the University Sexual Misconduct Policy, students should know that rape is a crime that can be reported to civil authorities. Rape is often thought of as a violent attack on a woman by a stranger who uses a weapon to threaten his victim, but this description does not apply to the majority of rapes that take place in the United States. “Victims of rape and sexual assault report that in nearly 3 out of 4 incidents, the offender was not a stranger...two thirds of the victims 18 to 29 years old had a prior relationship with the rapist.” Therefore, University students are more likely to be victimized by someone they know, and perhaps trust, than by someone who is a stranger. Both men and women can be victims. Non-consensual intercourse by a person one knows is often referred to as date rape or acquaintance rape, both of which are as serious an offense as stranger rape.

SOCIAL MISCONDUCT - CLASSIFICATION OF OFFENSES

Offenses are divided into three categories based on the sanction that may be imposed for a first time violation of the regulation: category “A,” category “B,” and category “C.” These categories are designed to serve only as guidelines in the disciplinary process and do not replace the wisdom and discretion of Student Affairs Staff.

Repeated violations of University regulations may result in the offense being treated as a violation of a more serious category and the case being handled procedurally in a manner consistent with the greater offense. Category “A” offenses typically do not lead to probation, suspension, or dismissal from the University, unless repeated. These matters are routinely handled by residence hall staff. A category “A” offense may be considered category “B” when warranted by the circumstances or facts of the case. Category “B” offenses might result in disciplinary or residence hall probation or suspension. A category “B” offense may be considered category “C” when warranted by the circumstances or facts of the case. Category “C” offenses are classified as crimes and/or actions and may warrant suspension or expulsion from the University. Note that category “C” constitutes a special case within the conduct system; the reader should take notice of the differences between it and categories “A” and “B.”

ALCOHOL RELATED OFFENSES
Because of the precarious nature involving alcohol-related incidents, the University of Indianapolis has developed an action plan for such incidents.

At a response level, students violating multiple University policies or conduct probation can expect additional sanctions. These sanctions can include suspension or expulsion from the University. As with any student misconduct policy, these response levels serve as a guide and do not replace the disciplinary discretion of Students Affairs officials.

Response Level 1
As an educational institution, our goal at the University of Indianapolis is to educate the students about their experiences. Response Level 1 may be seen as a more educational component:
1. the student must complete an alcohol educational program.
2. the student must pay a fine of $100.
3. the student is placed on social conduct probation.

Level 1 offenses do not normally lead to suspension or dismissal from the University unless they are repeated. A Level 1 offense may be considered a Level 2 offense when warranted by the circumstances or facts of the case. If a student has violated other University policies and has violated the alcohol policy only once, the person will still be subject to Response Level 2 sanctions in regard to fines and stricter restrictions with social conduct probation. If the student has violated other University policies, the Associate Dean of Students (or designee) may make the decision to remove the student from the residence halls or campus for the academic year.

Response Level 2
The University of Indianapolis still desires the student to learn from the experiences, and if they have not, then sanctions are imposed that are more of the punitive component:
1. the student must complete an alcohol assessment and comply with the recommendations. The student meets with a counselor from the Counseling Center for an alcohol assessment. The student is provided the results of the assessment and if deemed necessary, treatment recommendations.
2. the student must pay a fine of $200.
3. the student is placed on social conduct probation with restrictions.
The Associate Dean of Students (or designee) may make the decision to remove the student from the residence halls or campus for the entire academic year if the offense is warranted as serious. A Level 2 offense may be considered a Level 3 offense when warranted by the circumstances or facts of the case. It is at the Level 3 offense that may mandates immediate removal from the residence halls or campus.

Response Level 3
The University of Indianapolis, by this level, has attempted the educational and punitive component. At this point available sanctions are:

1. the student must pay a fine of $300.
2. immediate removal from the residence halls
3. suspension or expulsion from the University

DRUG RELATED OFFENSES
Because of the danger and illegal activity involving drug-related incidents, the University of Indianapolis has developed an action plan for such incidents. Drug-related incidents will be taken seriously and students found with drugs in their possession may be immediately removed from the residence halls or campus and/or suspended. At a response level, students violating multiple University policies or conduct probation can expect additional sanctions. These sanctions can include suspension or expulsion from the University. As with any student misconduct policy, these response levels serve as a guide and do not replace the disciplinary discretion of Students Affairs officials.

Response Level 1
The University of Indianapolis desires each student to learn from the student conduct experience, therefore, the following sanctions will be applied in first-time offense situations including, but not limited to, possession or presence of paraphernalia and/or the presence of the odor of marijuana on a person or in a student space.

1. the student is given an official university warning;
2. the student must pay the required fee to enroll in a university-determined marijuana education course;
3. the student must complete a required university-determined marijuana education course within required time frame;

The Associate Dean of Students (or designee) may make the decision to remove the student from the residence halls or campus for the entire academic year if the offense is warranted as serious. A Level 1 offense may be considered a Level 2 or Level 3 offense when warranted by the circumstances or facts of the case. The Level 3 offense mandates immediate removal from the residence halls and/or the University.

Response Level 2
If a student continues in drug related behaviors, then sanctions are imposed that are more punitive in nature which may include:

1. the student must complete a drug assessment. The student meets with a counselor from the Counseling Center for a drug assessment. The student is provided the results of the assessment and if deemed necessary, treatment recommendations.
2. the student must pay a fine of $200.
3. the student must pay the required fee to enroll in a university-determined marijuana education course;
4. the student must complete a required university-determined marijuana education course within required time frame;
5. the student is placed on social conduct probation with restrictions (restrictions to be determined by the staff, based on relevant circumstances).

The Associate Dean of Students (or designee) may make the decision to remove the student from the residence halls or campus for the entire academic year if the offense is warranted as serious. A Level 2 offense may be considered a Level 3 offense when warranted by the circumstances or facts of the case. The Level 3 offense mandates immediate removal from the residence halls and/or the University.

Response Level 3

The University of Indianapolis, by this level, has attempted the educational and punitive component. At this point available sanctions are either:

1. the student must pay a fine of $300.00
2. immediate removal from the residence halls
3. suspension or expulsion from the University

HOSTING OFF CAMPUS EVENTS

As part of the University Mission that emphasizes character formation, students are held accountable to the rules of conduct found in this handbook and elsewhere. It means that the rules will apply whether the student is on- or off-campus. The University takes a firm stance in instances off-campus where students are involved with underage drinking, disorderly conduct, or other unlawful behavior. The University works closely with its neighbors and the local authorities to protect the peaceful and historic residential areas surrounding the campus.

In instances where Campus Police or other officials are called to off-campus properties, students who live at the property, students who are hosting gatherings and other offenders of policies will be sanctioned through the University and possibly through the City of Indianapolis. The levels below will provide some guidance to students being sanctioned, however, with any student misconduct policy, these response levels serve as a guide and do not replace the disciplinary discretion of Student Affairs officials.

Response Level 1

As an educational institution, our goal at the University of Indianapolis is to educate students about their experiences. Response Level 1 may be seen more as educational components. Students will receive a warning and notice of future sanctions for continued behavior from the Associate Dean of Students and, if applicable, Campus Police. Level 1 offenses do not normally lead to suspension or dismissal from the University unless they are repeated. A Level 1 offense may be considered a Level 2 offense when warranted by the circumstances of the case.

Response Level 2

The University of Indianapolis still desires the student to learn from the experiences, and if they have not, then sanctions are imposed that are more of the punitive component. Students will be officially sanctioned through the university. Sanctions may include but are not limited to:

1. Social Conduct Probation
2. Fines
3. Alcohol Education Program
4. Community Service
5. Apologies to surrounding neighbors
Response Level 3
The University of Indianapolis has attempted the educational and punitive component. For this level, possible sanctions include:

1. Suspension or Expulsion from the University
2. Fines

INDIANA LIFELINE LAW
Indiana’s Lifeline Law provides that a person is immune from arrest or prosecution for certain alcohol offenses if the arrest or prosecution is due to the person:

1. Reporting a medical emergency
2. Being the victim of a sex offense
3. Witnessing and reporting what the person believes to be a crime

Within the State of Indiana, “the Lifeline Law provides immunity for the crimes of public intoxication, minor in possession, minor in consumption, and similar laws, to persons who identify themselves to law enforcement while seeking medical assistance for a person suffering from an alcohol-related health emergency. In order to receive immunity, the reporting individual must demonstrate that they are acting in good faith by fulfilling the following expectations:

1. Providing their full name and any other relevant information at the request of law enforcement officers
2. Remaining on the scene until law enforcement and emergency medical assistance dismiss
3. Cooperating with all authorities
4. The Indiana Lifeline Law will not interfere with law enforcement procedures or limit the ability to prosecute for other criminal offenses such as providing alcohol to minors, operating vehicles while intoxicated or the possession of a controlled substance.

For more information on Indiana’s Lifeline Law, visit www.IndianaLifeline.org.

OTHER POLICIES

ANIMALS ON CAMPUS POLICY
The University of Indianapolis is committed to providing an attractive, clean and safe campus for its employees, students, and visitors. To assist in the achievement of these objectives, the University will regulate the presence of animals on campus. Refer to the Animals on Campus policy for more information.

PREGNANCY POLICY
Protections for parenting students extend to any parent on the basis of medical necessity related to the health of the parent who gave birth and/or baby during the pregnancy and postpartum period reasonably thereafter.

1. Status generally. The University shall not apply any rule concerning a student’s actual or potential parental, family, or marital status which treats students differently on the basis of sex.

2. Pregnancy and related conditions.
   a. The University of Indianapolis shall not discriminate against any student, or exclude any student from its education program or activity, including any class or extracurricular activity, on the basis of such student's pregnancy, childbirth, false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy or recovery therefrom, unless the student requests voluntarily to participate in a separate portion of the program or activity.
b. The University of Indianapolis may require such a student to obtain the certification of a physician that the student is physically and emotionally able to continue participation so long as such a certification is required of all students for other physical or emotional conditions requiring the attention of a physician.
c. The University of Indianapolis shall treat pregnancy, childbirth, false pregnancy, termination of pregnancy and recovery therefrom in the same manner and under the same policies as any other temporary disability with respect to any medical or hospital benefit, service, plan or policy which the University of Indianapolis administers, operates, offers, or participates in with respect to students admitted to the educational program or activity.

MEDICAL LEAVE POLICY FOR MENTAL HEALTH REASONS
The University’s purpose is to foster an environment that promotes education, research, service, and the growth of all members of the University community. The University is particularly concerned with the health and safety of its students, faculty, and staff.

On occasion University staff may become aware of a student who is a threat to one’s self or others or who may impede other students’ abilities to pursue their educational objectives. When a threatening, or potentially threatening, situation is identified, the Dean of Students or the University Counseling Center staff may address the situation by (1) recommending assessment, hospitalization, and treatment for mental illness; or (2) University-initiated medical leave from the on-campus living areas and/or academic class work.

A student will be subject to withdrawal on the basis of a preponderance of evidence that the student has engaged or threatened to engage in behavior which poses a direct threat of physical harm to others or poses a legitimate safety concern of harm to self.

All attempted suicides, regardless of the degree of lethality involved, are serious and inevitably affect others in the University community. Attempted suicide by a student may subject that student to University-initiated medical leave if the student’s conduct poses a legitimate safety concern. The student may also be subject to the Code of Student Conduct if he or she causes substantial disruption to the University community. In case of long term hospitalization, staff will alert the Provost and Dean of Students to discuss possible University-initiated medical leave from the student’s academic commitments and the residence halls. University-initiated medical leave allows the student to retake classes, or receive deferred or incomplete grades. The staff will only make recommendations as to releasing the student from classes and the on-campus living areas. The final decision lies with the Provost and the Dean of Students (or designee). A release of information granting permission to contact other mental health providers is needed to keep track of the student’s ability to live independently and a plan of care from the treating facility/physician for the student to return to the on-campus living areas. The medical release will be provided to the Director of the Counseling Center and the Dean of Students (or designee).

The Center will not advise instructors whether the student should be allowed an incomplete or other such provisions. The assignment of grades, audits, and incomplete grades fall within the domain of academia. It is the responsibility of the student to notify his/her instructors of any absences or missed assignments. The Center staff may contact the student’s instructors, with informed consent from the student, to provide basic information as to the prolonged absence from classes.
The University community may encounter students who refuse to leave classes or the on-campus living areas despite their disruptive behavior. In which case, the Center staff will conduct a thorough mental health assessment and provide recommendations should the Provost or Dean of Students request such assessment. Students who contest the University-initiated medical leave will be afforded a hearing consistent with the Code of Student Conduct to determine if they pose a direct threat of harm to others or a legitimate safety concern of harm to self.

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS FOR FINANCIAL AID

The federal government requires colleges and universities to monitor a student’s academic progress throughout their college career in order to be eligible to receive financial aid and to maintain eligibility. Therefore, policies have been established that requires a student to progress toward a degree within a reasonable period of time and to maintain a certain level of academic achievement. Satisfactory academic progress is measured by cumulative credit hours earned and cumulative grade point average.

CREDIT HOURS EARNED

At the end of each term that a student is enrolled, the student’s cumulative earned hours divided by cumulative attempted hours must equal at least 67%. Hours of incomplete, failing, audit, unsatisfactory, and withdrawal do not constitute successful course completion.

GRADE POINT AVERAGE

Undergraduate students must achieve a cumulative GPA as outlined below:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Term</th>
<th>Minimum Cumulative GPA</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>End of 1st term of enrollment</td>
<td>1.7</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>End of 2nd term of enrollment</td>
<td>1.8</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>End of 3rd term of enrollment</td>
<td>1.9</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>End of 4th term &amp; all subsequent terms of enrollment</td>
<td>2.0</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Graduate students must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

There are also merit awards that may require a higher GPA in order to renew that particular award.

MAXIMUM TIME FRAME

Regulations also govern the maximum length of time a student may receive financial aid. Students working toward a baccalaureate degree may not receive aid beyond 150% of the length of their program of study. This time frame would be 180 total credit hours (150% of 120 hours to graduate). For a student pursuing an associate’s degree, this time frame is defined to be 90 total credit hours (150% of 60 hours to graduate). Transfer hours count toward this number of hours. The maximum time frame for graduate students is 150% of the length of their specific program.

MONITORING PROGRESS

The Financial Aid Office monitors a student’s progress for course completion at the end of each semester (and summer). If a student is not meeting the requirements, then that student will be notified that they are being put on warning for their next term of enrollment. If they don’t make cumulative progress during the warning term, then they would lose eligibility for aid.
REINSTATEMENT

If a student’s aid eligibility is denied, then the student must try to make up the deficient hours or increase GPA to meet the standards at their own expense. If a student has experienced unusual circumstances that have affected their academic progress, an appeal may be submitted to the Financial Aid Office. Circumstances might include illness, divorce, a death in family, etc.

MORE INFORMATION

For more information about Satisfactory Academic Progress, you may pick up a brochure in the Financial Aid Office or go to the Financial Aid website at http://www.uindy.edu/financial-aid/academic-progress.

SOCIAL MEDIA

There may be instances where the university becomes aware of inappropriate or concerning information listed online either in a general nature or in an individual student's account (via facebook, twitter, etc.). In these instances, staff will intervene and review the information. If the information is viewed as concerning, disturbing, or negatively directed at another individual, it will be reviewed and handled through the judicial system if appropriate.

SOLICITATION/SELLING

Any kind of solicitation on the campus of the University of Indianapolis is prohibited. Areas of solicitation include residence halls, offices, classrooms, and all other University facilities. Individuals or groups who wish to promote their products or services on campus must be approved by the Business Office. Credit card solicitation is strictly prohibited. Residence hall solicitation/selling must be approved by the Dean of Students. The distribution of handbills or flyers on campus is prohibited without prior approval from the Business Office.

STUDENT PARKING PENALTY STRUCTURE

The University expects all students to follow the parking policies and procedures as outlined by the University Police. It is important and mandatory that all students register their cars annually with the University Police and follow the guidelines for parking on campus. Failure to comply will result in multiple parking tickets and sanctions. For lot restrictions, policies and procedures please see https://uindy.edu/parking/. The following structure will be used in regards to parking tickets:

The parking citation must be paid or appealed within 10 days of receipt. After 10 days, a transcript hold will be placed on the student’s account. If the citation is appealed within 10 days, a hold will not be placed and/or payment will not be due until the Appeals Board makes a judgement (typically meets monthly). The decision from the Appeals Board will then be emailed to the student. To check the status of an appeal, the vehicles that are registered, and pay a citation, students can visit https://uindy.t2hosted.com/Account/Portal and log in with their UIIndy credentials.

REVOKING OF PARKING PERMITS

The following circumstances may result in the permanent loss of parking privileges:

1. Habitual offenders of the parking policy
2. Stated or continued refusal to pay parking tickets/fines
3. Traffic offenses, which jeopardize the safety and/or property of others such as improper or reckless driving, speeding, DUI, or loss of state license
4. Being found guilty of possession, consumption, being under the influence of alcoholic beverages or illegal drugs while in a motor vehicle
UNREASONABLE, DISRUPTIVE OR DANGEROUS BEHAVIOR

A student must not engage in behavior that disrupts or disturbs the ability of other members of the campus community from performing normal activities or that makes unreasonable demands on others. Disruptive behavior may take the form of acts of violence, outbursts, threats, intimidation, criminal activity, or breaking of University rules. It may also take the form of a pattern of activity which has an adverse impact on the smooth and efficient operation of University offices, classroom activity, residence hall life, or academic progress. Dangerous behavior is that which places the person or others at risk of harming (See Social Misconduct Policy) themselves directly and without delay. This Grievance Policy and Procedure represents the University’s effort to assist members of the University community in addressing interpersonal difficulties and resolving interpersonal conflicts.

SECTION V: RESIDENCE LIFE

This section is specifically addressed to the residential students but also contains information of importance to all students and others who visit the halls and apartments. Living in a residential facility is one of the many learning experiences students enjoy at the University. Campus living provides the opportunity to interact with students from varied backgrounds, interests, and lifestyles. Your Residence life experience will be enhanced by your acceptance and respect for others and your regard for standards of good citizenship. While providing several freedoms and privileges, residence life also requires a great deal of self-discipline and responsibility.

LIVING AREAS & STAFF

The University maintains ten living areas on campus with a capacity of approximately 2700 residents. Each residence possesses its own personality and yet functions as a part of the total residence life environment. One goal of each living area is to create a complete living/learning environment by offering a variety of educational, social, and recreational activities. Another goal is to provide an environment of safety, cleanliness, privacy, and community.

Living area front desk phone numbers are as follows:

- Central Hall (coed, housing) 317-791-7900
- College Crossing Apartments TBD
- Cory Bretz Hall (coed, housing) 317-781-5300
- Cravens Hall (coed, housing) 317-781-5200
- Crowe Hall (coed, housing) 317-781-5100
- Greyhound Village Apartments 317-788-2405
- East Hall (coed, housing) 317-791-4413
- Roberts Hall (coed, housing) 317-791-4430
- University Lofts Apartments 317-794-5822
- Warren Hall (coed, housing) 317-781-5000

The university housing system is under the administration of the Department of Residence Life and Housing. Each living area is supervised by a full time professional live-in Residence Director (RD) or Assistant Director of Residence Life (ADRL) who is supported by student staff, including Resident Assistants (RAs) or Apartment Community Assistants (ACAs). Student Staff Members are assigned to each floor of the residence halls and apartment locations to assist the Professional Staff with the administration of the area and the overall development of residential students.
RAAs and ACAs are an integral part of the Residence Life Team, as they are paraprofessional staff who have direct and constant student contact. Their primary responsibility is to act as facilitators for the living area community and to enhance the social, educational, intellectual and cultural development of each individual. The Student Staff articulate to students the philosophy and policies of Residence Life and the University and represents the department as a role model in all facets of campus life. The six basic roles of the Student Staff are: community development manager; referral agent; team member; administrator; programmer, and community mediator. Some halls may also have front desk assistants who also assist in the administration of the residence halls and are a source of information for students, guests, and visitors.

RESIDENCE HALL REQUIREMENTS

The University does not have a policy that requires students to live in campus housing, however, entering students in the category of “Advised” or “Contingent” are required to live on campus. Priority in housing in the traditional residence halls is given to full-time day division, students enrolled in at least 12 credit hours. In order to be assigned space in the residence halls, a student must (1) be admitted to the University or enrolled in class work, (2) pay housing deposit by the given deadline, and (3) complete a housing agreement. Each year residents who desire to live in the residence halls must reapply for housing space. The process will be advertised to returning students in the residence halls and around campus during the second semester. Returning students sign up for individual spaces via either online room sign up or the advertised process. Paying the deposit, without completing the online housing application does not guarantee a room space.

RESIDENCE HALL REFUNDS AND CANCELLATIONS

To cancel your contract or obtain a refund before the semester begins, contact the Student Affairs office by telephone or email the Housing Assignments Coordinator. *A waiver may be granted for students who leave the residence halls due to University withdraw, graduation, special academic programs, marriage, or special circumstances. *After the halls open, room and board refund will be determined according to the University’s refund policy

RESIDENCE HALL/RETURNING STUDENT REFUNDS & CANCELLATION

Semester I: Students who remain enrolled at the University but cancel the housing contract between May 7th and July 31st will forfeit the housing deposit and incur a $50 cancellation fee. Students who cancel housing contracts during the first two weeks of August will forfeit the housing deposit and incur a $100 cancellation fee. Students canceling housing contracts from August 14th to the first day of class will forfeit the housing deposit and incur a $200 cancellation fee. Students canceling housing contracts after the first day of class will have a per diem charge, forfeit the deposit and incur a $1000 penalty. Students canceling housing after the eighth week to the end of school will forfeit their housing deposit and will incur a $2000 penalty. Those who attended during Semester I, remain students at the University, and cancel their housing contracts for Semester II, will incur a $2000 penalty. Residence Hall Students, who completely withdraw from the University, will not be charged a penalty.

Students residing in University Apartments who completely withdraw from the University or change their enrollment status could owe the University additional funds and would be responsible for any housing charges originally paid by financial aid, resulting in a balance due for the term in which the student withdrew, in addition to any remaining months on the full term of the lease (12-month leases which extend from August 15 - July 31). The prepayment/deposit for University Apartments is non-refundable. There is an appeal process for those who are not going to continue as active students. Contact the Office of Student Affairs for details.
Students withdrawing from the University or canceling their contracts from the residence halls must notify the Office of Residence Life at (317) 788-3530. In addition, students who have financial aid must contact the Office of Financial Aid, as an adjustment in the financial aid package may be necessary.

Where a student is non-dependent, the University will contact parents/guardians to inform them of situations in which there is a significant and articulable health and/or safety risk. The University also reserves the right to designate which university officials have a need to know about incidents that fall within this policy, pursuant to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act.

APPEAL REQUESTS

Any resident may request an appeal of a conduct decision by filing a written request to the appropriate administrator or personnel within 3 business days of receiving a notice of outcome/sanction letter. All sanctions imposed will remain in effect until the appeal process has concluded, and all parties should be timely informed of the status of requests for appeal, the status of the appeal consideration, and the results of the appeal decision. Appeal requests are limited to the following grounds:

1. A procedural or substantive error occurred that significantly impacted the outcome of the situation (e.g. substantiated bias, material deviation from established procedures, etc.)

Situations that are of serious consequence to the individual student or to the campus community may call for a more immediate response by the University. In such cases, the usual disciplinary procedure described in this procedure may be bypassed so that the University may address the matter immediately. A decision to bypass the usual student misconduct procedures may be made by the President, the Vice President for Student and Campus Affairs & Dean of Students, the Associate Dean of Students or their designees.

HOUSING ACCOMMODATION FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Housing accommodations for students with disabilities will be provided within the basic guidelines outlined below, with the understanding that students with disability needs will be assessed on a case-by-case basis. If reasonable accommodations cannot be immediately satisfied due to capacity, facility design, availability, etc., the Office of Student Affairs will prioritize requests before handling others.

REGISTERING WITH SERVICES FOR STUDENTS WITH DISABILITIES

Before student disability-related housing accommodation requests may be considered, students must first be registered with Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD). In order to register with SSD, students must complete the following process:

1. Contact SSD and complete a Disability Accommodation Request Form (DARF). These forms are available online at http://ssd.uindy.edu; by calling 317-788-6153. The Services for Students with Disabilities Office is located in Schwitzer 206.
2. Fax, deliver, or mail all documentation required by SSD certifying the disability and reasons for needing housing accommodations. See description below for details regarding documentation.
3. Be mindful of housing deadlines as it may take up to two weeks to process SSD request forms. To meet the housing deadlines, students should submit their appropriate documentation to the SSD office by the following dates:
   i. Returning Students: February 1
   ii. New Students: May 1
4. Applications not completed by housing deadlines will be accepted and considered, but there is no guarantee that late requests will be met.
5. SSD will notify students with a decision on accommodation requests. The Office of Student Affairs will follow the established housing procedures for notification of room assignments.
REQUIRED DOCUMENTATION
To evaluate requests based on medical, psychological or disability related conditions accurately and equitably, UIndy will need documentation. Documentation consists of an evaluation by an appropriate professional that relates the current impact of the condition to the request. Documentation submitted to the Services for Students with Disabilities (SSD) should include:

1. Documentation of the condition that is the basis of the request by a qualified provider;
2. A clear description of the desired housing accommodation/need;
3. A description of the severity of the condition;
4. An explanation of how the request relates to the impact of the condition;
5. An indication of the consequences if the accommodation is not provided; and
6. Possible alternatives if the housing accommodation request is not possible.

Documentation supporting a housing request will be reviewed by the SSD Director and all documentation will be held in the SSD office. All information is considered confidential.

EVALUATION OF HOUSING REQUESTS BASED ON DISABILITY-RELATED NEEDS
Housing assignments and the residential learning environment are integral parts of UIndy programs. We evaluate all requests for need-based housing assignments carefully. Below is a summary of the factors considered when evaluating housing requests:

SEVERITY OF THE CONDITION
1. Is impact of the condition life threatening if the request is not met?
2. Is there a negative health impact that may be permanent if the request is not met?
3. Is the request an integral component of a treatment plan for the condition in question?
4. What is the likely impact on academic performance if the request is not met?
5. What is the likely impact on social development if the request is not met?
6. What is the likely impact on the student’s level of comfort if the request is not met?

TIMING OF THE REQUEST
1. Was the request made before the deadline for housing requests for the semester in question?
2. Was the request made as soon as possible after identifying the need? (Based on the date of diagnosis, receipt of housing assignment, change in status, etc.)?

FEASIBILITY AND AVAILABILITY
1. Is space available that meets the student’s needs?
2. Can space be adapted to provide the requested configuration without creating a safety hazard (electrical load, emergency egress, etc.)?
3. Are there other effective methods or housing configurations that would achieve similar benefits as the requested configuration?
4. How does meeting this request impact housing commitments to other students?

APPEAL PROCESS
If a student with a documented disability believes that he/she has not been provided with a reasonable housing accommodations, the student should direct their concern to the Dean of Students. The student must provide, in writing, the nature of the concern and any other relevant information. The decision of the Dean of Students is final.
SINGLE ROOM REQUESTS
Students with disabilities may request a single room as an accommodation for their disability pursuant to UIIndy's procedures found at http://www.uindy.edu/ssd/housing-accommodations-process. UIIndy will make an individualized assessment of any such request and, if determined necessary, will provide that student with a single room. UIIndy will make reasonable modifications to its room rate structure to avoid discrimination on the basis of disability.

ROOM SELECTION
Most incoming residential students, with or without disabilities, live in multiple-person rooms in traditional corridor-type residence halls. Transfer students are housed based on availability and are traditionally placed in multiple-person rooms.

For students who need wheelchair-accessible housing, there are a limited number of accessible spaces. Students who are not wheelchair-users but require some type of specialized housing relating to their disability (additional space for medical equipment, access to private bath, etc.) may also make a request for these spaces. Students with disabilities who are not in a wheelchair who are placed in accessible rooms may be relocated in the event that a wheelchair user needs an accessible room.

ROOMMATE SELECTION
Roommates will be assigned to students with disabilities occupying modified rooms in the same manner as other residential students. UIIndy will make an individualized assessment of any such request and, if determined necessary, will provide that student with a single room. UIIndy will make reasonable modifications to its room rate structure to avoid discrimination on the basis of disability.

ROOMING WITH OR NEAR FRIENDS
If you would like to request to be housed with or near friends or in a specific location on campus, you may submit your request to Residence Life. Please keep in mind that housing accommodations are only based on disability-related needs and are determined on a case-by-case basis. Housing accommodations do not circumvent the regular housing selection process for you or your friends. Our first priority is to accommodate your disability and we will do our best to try and get you close to friends (there are no guarantees).

WHEELCHAIRS
A student may store a wheelchair and other mobility devices in his or her room provided it does not create an unsafe condition in the room. Students are responsible for any damage incurred from storage of the device (i.e., rooms, hallways, common areas, elevators). Mobility devices may not be stored in hallways, lounges, or any common area in the residence hall.

EMERGENCY EVACUATION
All students with disabilities who may require assistance in an emergency or building evacuation should work directly with Residence Hall staff to formulate an evacuation plan.

SECTION VI: EMERGENCY PROCEDURES
Students and families are encouraged to communicate regarding emergency situations that may occur while the student is at the University of Indianapolis. The University has established a Crisis Communication Plan to guide response to campus crisis that pose a threat to health, life, and property. Families should develop their own plan for communicating with one another when a crisis does occur.

UIIndy follows its Comprehensive Emergency Management Plan which can be found on the UIIndy website.

Students are encouraged to read and study their individual hall’s building emergency action plan (beap)

In the event of an earthquake, please do the following:

1. Take cover under a table or desk to avoid falling objects.
2. Do not attempt to evacuate the building until it is safe to do so.
3. If you are outside, move away from buildings, trees, and power lines.
4. Remain calm and be prepared for aftershocks.
5. Report to a designated rally point when safe.

FIRE ALARMS AND EVACUATION PROCEDURES

Students are encouraged to read and study their individual hall’s building emergency action plan (beap).

Whenever there is evidence of fire, such as smoke, fumes, or excessive heat, sound the alarm at once and contact the residence hall staff immediately. All fires, regardless of size or manner of extinguishing, must be reported. In the event the fire alarm sounds, all students are encouraged to alert their roommates and the residents living adjacent to their room and follow this procedure:

1. Wear shoes, take a coat or blanket
2. Close door, but leave room unlocked
3. Go to your assigned exit
4. Leave the building quickly and quietly without running
5. Remain outside until the “all clear” is given
6. Follow instructions of hall staff, safety personnel, and/or the Watchdog communication

False reporting of an emergency, unauthorized use of or tampering with emergency or safety equipment (such as fire hoses or fire extinguishers), and interference with emergency evacuation are all prohibited and are criminal offenses. Involvement in any of the above may result in University and criminal prosecution.

FIRE SAFETY REGULATIONS

Regulations prohibit the use of the following in residence halls/rooms:

1. High-wattage electrical appliances such as air conditioners, hot plates, toasters, toaster ovens, George Foreman grills, electric skillets, or ceiling fans
2. Use of space heating appliances
3. Storage or use of combustible materials, fireworks, explosives, firearms, or paints
4. Burning of candles & incense, and use of potpourri pots
5. Use of acetate, cellophane, tissue paper, or other combustible material over or in light fixtures
6. Use of any type of electrical extension cord and/or multiple outlet adapter (not plugged into a surge protector)
7. Live Christmas trees, Christmas lights, or stringed lights

Emergency evacuation drills are held periodically and residents are expected to evacuate the residence halls. All students are expected to comply with fire drill procedures and safety regulations and to follow the instructions of hall staff and safety personnel. Monetary fines and other sanctions including residence hall suspension or expulsion are possible for students failing to comply.

SEVERE WEATHER ALERT

Students are encouraged to read and study their individual hall’s building emergency action plan (beap)

In case of a severe weather alert, the following procedures should be followed:
1. Seek shelter in the lowest level of a building, interior hallways, or restrooms.
2. Stay away from windows and doors.
3. Do not leave the building until the “all-clear” is received.
4. Stay away from trees, power lines and open areas.
5. Follow instructions of hall staff and safety personnel.

Students should note the difference between a severe weather watch and a warning. If a severe weather watch exists, this means that weather conditions are ideal for severe weather like tornadoes and severe storms—no actual conditions currently exist. In the event of a severe weather warning, this means that severe weather has been detected or tornados have been spotted. Students will be kept informed of severe weather conditions.

ACTIVE AGRESSOR

1. Follow University lockdown procedures.
2. Shelter in place.
3. Run Hide Fight – do not go to rally point.

WATCHDOG

Watchdog is UIndy’s mass emergency notification system. It is the chief wide-scale notification vehicle for the University in situations requiring rapid dissemination of information to all faculty, staff and students, or to select groups entered into the system; therefore, it will not be used for routine messages and announcements. Watchdog does not replace other methods of communication—for example, web, intranet, email listservs, and the news media. In most situations it will be the first method of communication, augmented by various other channels.

The UIndy email address assigned to students will receive Watchdog alerts. Students are strongly encouraged to register a cell phone number in the system and, if possible, a home phone number as well to better insure that they will receive an alert wherever they happen to be located. (A call at home, for instance, can save you a trip to campus or a call to your cell phone can alert you to turn around.) Watchdog tests will be conducted once each semester. You may register up to 6 numbers into your Watchdog account.

UIndy has also installed Alertus Beacons to signal an emergency in building areas with low connectivity.

SECTION VIII: GRIEVANCES

PURPOSE

The University of Indianapolis Student Grievance Policy and Procedure is designed to create an orderly and effective means of dealing with grievances in a reasonable and timely manner.

DEFINITION

The term “grievance” means a formal complaint arising out of a conflict between a student and other members of the University of Indianapolis community that is submitted (a) by a member of the University community, whether a student or a member of the University’s administration, faculty, or staff, and (b) against a student, administrator, faculty member, or staff member. Grievances may be submitted regarding any matter other than harassment, intimidation, or student social or academic misconduct, which are addressed in separate policies and procedures.

POLICY

The University’s environment will be the most conducive for teaching and learning where interpersonal relationships between members of the University community are healthy and strong. Members are encouraged, therefore, to address difficulties and resolve conflicts that arise between themselves directly and without delay. This Grievance Policy and Procedure represents the University’s effort to assist members of the University community in addressing interpersonal difficulties and resolving interpersonal conflicts.

PROCEDURES

Informal Grievance Procedure

1. Personal Resolution. Members of the University community are encouraged to resolve conflicts by communicating directly with the persons with whom they have conflicts. An effort should be made to reach a resolution without the intervention of others.

2. Commencement of Formal Process. If a matter cannot be resolved by communication between the parties involved, a grievance may be submitted pursuant to the procedure set forth in Part IV of this document.

Filing a grievance:

1. If, after making reasonable efforts to resolve a conflict directly with the other person involved, an individual concludes that such efforts will not result in a successful resolution of the conflict, the individual may file a grievance.

2. If the grievance is academic in nature, that is, if it involves faculty; events arising from teaching, advising, or research; relations between faculty and students; or events that are normally in the province of the faculty, the grievance will be filed with the Provost. If the grievance is non academic, that is, if it involves staff members, students in residence or campus settings or matters that are not normally in the province of the faculty, the grievance will be filed with the Dean of Students.

3. If the grievance is filed against a faculty member or by a faculty member it will be filed with the University Provost. If the grievance is filed against the Dean of Students, it will be filed with the University President. If the grievance is filed against the Provost, it will be filed with the University President.

4. An individual who files a grievance is referred to herein as a “reporting party,” and an individual against whom a grievance is filed is referred to herein as a “respondent.”
Appointment of, investigation, and decision by grievance officer:

1. Upon receiving a grievance the Provost (or designee) or the Dean of Students (or designee) will serve as or appoint an individual (the “grievance officer”) who, in the opinion of the Provost (or designee) or Dean of Students (or designee), is best able to conduct a thorough investigation and to render an objective decision with respect to the grievance. If the reporting party or the respondent is a member of the University faculty, the grievance officer will be a member of the University faculty. If the Dean of Students is the respondent, the Provost will serve as the grievance officer. If the Provost (or designee) is the respondent, the Dean of Students will serve as the grievance officer.

2. The grievance officer, in his or her sole discretion, will determine the manner in which the investigation will be conducted. The grievance officer may, but need not, offer the reporting party and the respondent the right to submit written position statements or to be heard.

3. The grievance officer will communicate his or her decision with respect to the grievance to the respondent on the same day that he or she communicates such decision to the reporting party.

Appeals filed with coordinator, selection of arbitrators, appeal process.

1. A reporting party or a respondent who desires to appeal a grievance officer’s decision will provide written notice of his or her intent to appeal and the grounds for the appeal to the appropriate appeal coordinator. The appeal coordinator will be:
   a. the University Provost, if the reporting party or respondent is a member of the faculty;
   b. the Vice President for Student & Campus Affairs & Dean of Students, if the reporting party or the respondent is not a member of the faculty;
   c. The President (or designee), if the reporting party is the University Provost, Dean of Students, or any Vice President.

2. The appeal coordinator must receive such notice of appeal not less than three (3) days after the reporting party and respondent receive notice of the grievance officer’s decision. Failure to provide timely written notice of appeal pursuant to this paragraph will result in a forfeiture of the right to appeal.

3. Upon receiving a timely notice of appeal, the appeal coordinator will notify the reporting party and the respondent that each may select one member of the University administration, faculty, or staff (an “arbitrator”) to consider the appeal. Each party will provide written notice to the appeal coordinator of his or her selection of an arbitrator. The appeal coordinator must receive such notice of selection not less than three (3) days after the reporting party and respondent received notice of their right to select an arbitrator. Failure to provide timely written notice of the selection of an arbitrator will result in the forfeiture of the right to select an arbitrator, and the appeal coordinator will select such arbitrator instead.

4. The two arbitrators (one selected by the reporting party and one selected by the respondent) together will select a third arbitrator from the University administration, faculty, or staff.

5. The arbitrators, in their sole discretion, will determine the manner in which the appeal will be conducted. The arbitrators may, but need not, offer the reporting party and the respondent the right to submit written position statements or to be heard.

6. The decision of the arbitrators will be communicated to both the reporting party and the respondent, and such decision will be final and binding on both parties.

7. In computing the date by which any action must be taken relating to the appeal of a grievance officer’s decision, the following rules apply:
   a. The date on which the reporting party and the respondent received the applicable notice (i.e., of the grievance officer’s decision or of the right to select an arbitrator) will not be included.
   b. The last day of the applicable period (i.e., the third day after receiving notice of the grievance officer’s decision or the third day after receiving notice of the right to select an arbitrator) will be included unless it is a Saturday, Sunday, or a day on which the office of the appeal coordinator is closed for the duration.
of regular business hours. In any event, the period runs until the end of the next day that is not a Saturday, Sunday, or a day on which the applicable office is closed for the duration of regular business hours.

NOTE: This policy applies to all incidents of academic dishonesty, including those that occur before a student graduates but are not discovered until after the degree is conferred. In such cases, it is possible that the application of this policy will lead to failure to meet degree completion requirements and therefore the revocation of a student’s degree.
