MOODS . . .

Joy, sadness, anger, serenity, fear, excitement, and anxiety are moods experienced by every individual throughout the frame of human existence. Students at Indiana Central College, through varigated studies, climactic social events, thought provoking convocations, and diverse social relationships encounter these dispositions of human emotion throughout the course of the school year. The following pages depict in the faces of Indiana Central Students these moods of human expression.

STUDENT LIFE

Everything from nightly pin-ups to daily concentrated study falls within the realm of activity which we call student life. Happy remembrances of times shared with friends and melancholy moments of disappointment cause us to stop and say, "Oh, I remember when . . ." Those moods come as the dew, refreshing and giving clearer insights into life.

Registration Day

Bright and early on Registration Day a bulging line forms to the left of a long, paper-strewn table in the Academic Lobby. Nonchalance, agony, boredom, and anxiety register upon the mass of faces crowding forward. Pushing and elbowing doesn't seem against the rules as the human, snake-like device crawls forward.

Go to room 201 ..... Pick up cards.

Go to room 203 ..... Surrender Cards.

Thus, the instructions continue as time and patience wear on. The culmination of this grueling, biannual task is the snapping of pixie-like wisps and half-vacant stares to be filed for future use to know "who is in what class" and "my, what a terrible picture!" Even our innards cannot escape prying as bodies squeeze thru an X-ray mobile.

Co-captain Denny Jackson crowns Gail Homecoming Queen.

Homecoming Portrays Vari

Philaethea wins first place!

Yes, coach!

Last minute bustle as freshmen get float ready to roll.

ous Moods

Romanticism reigns as Queen Gail smiles at her escort.

Hier kommen die Volkswagon!

Professor Coker finds a moment of peaceful relaxation.

Moods of Brown County . . .

Professor Hill concentrates even in play.

Serenity prevails: one hand, one heart.

The fire tower adds a dignified air to Brown County's scenery.

Hunger stifles all conversation.

The never-ending line slowly grinds to a halt.

The battle is on!

Going ...

Going ...

Tug of War

The annual Tug of War pits the brawn of the Freshmen against that of the experienced Sophomores in an endeavor to prove who is the mightier of the two classes. Through the "omph's," "ah's," and "pull, man, pull's!" the Sophomore Class emerged victoriously while the mood of the Freshman Class "dampened" from that of hopeful expectation into one of frustrated depression.

The Reason

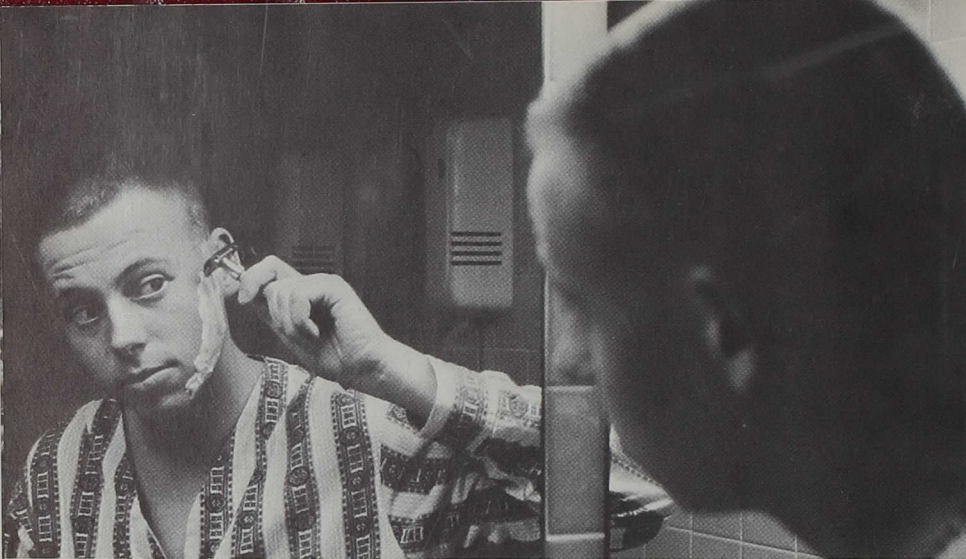

Going ...

GONE:

Oops ... Don't slip, Wayne!

My, Janet, isn't it getting hot under there?

Housemothers chat over evening meal.

You say you haven't washed for six months, Sue?

What's the matter, girls, no homework?

Dormitory Life

Nightowls grind the ax!

Wow! There's a man in the hall!

Dr. Armstrong emphatically illustrates his convictions in the chapel sessions of Religious Emphasis Week.

Serenity is portrayed by the candles, the cross, and the Bible.

Religious Life

In the maze of our confused spiritual lives, Indiana Central offers various avenues for students to discover the meaning of human existence and their part in it. Besides the guidance of Reverend Ronald Deem, Reverend Walter Smith, and members of the faculty, a special week for the purpose of spiritual introspection is set aside when students can seek the aid of an outside religious leader. For this year the Religious Emphasis Week speaker was the dynamic Dr. James Armstrong of Broadway Methodist Church. Not to be omitted from the aspect of religious life is University Heights Evangelical United Brethren Church which, through various religious and community events, aids students in their spiritual growth.

Around

Despite the weather, students amble to and from classes, stopping for friendly chats.

Hanging around the maintenance office — our hardest-working man.

Student life outside of classes comprises many moods — from the carefree hours cheering on our victorious team to the driving pursuit of freedom from hunger at Mac-Donald's. Casual words exchanged between classes and student participation during chapel convocations are valued by everyone.

And uh — uh — who did you say stuck in his thumb and pulled out a plum?

Bashful and unphotogenic, Denny Jackson hides his face from the all-revealing camera.

Peppery Georgia Hieb is devilishly happy over the team's progress.

Campus

The intelligentsia of the senior class ponder the problem of defeating the sophomores.

The Amish cast of Plain and Fancy join voices in "How Do You Build a Barn?"

"Try me, Jack!" exclaims coy Janet Stiles in Charlie's Aunt.

Student Productions

Joyce Brittenham and Phil Turley portray the "Young and Foolish" lovers of Plain and Fancy.

Larry Miller depicts the anguish of a sane man committed to an asylum in The Shrike.

"I'd sure like to get one of these things where it comes out Scotch."

Madeline Smith belts out "It's a 'Helluva' Way to Run a Love Affair."

Behind the footlights and the moods assumed by the actors in various student productions are the real moods of exuberance, excitement, strain, fatigue, and finally panic as the performance draws near. Students who are used to the glare of the lights and those who have never graced a stage before, crews that are slickly coordinated or grossly inexperienced, sloppy set painters, anxious costume fitters, and an even more anxious director combine to produce the plays presented by the drama department of Indiana Central.

Lord Fancourt Babberly was "caught in the act" of stealing the champagne in Charlie's Aunt.

Male-hungry gals finally catch their man.

Dainty Dogpatch beauty nibbles at her "corn pone."

"Alright, you guys!"

LEAP Week

Girls catch romantic spirit of Leap Week and treat boys' dorms to a moonlight serenade.

What's the matter, Nancy — Case of smallpox?

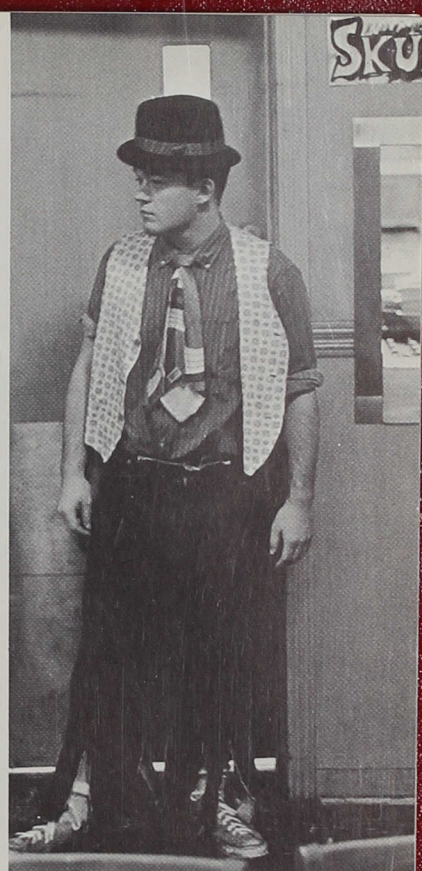

Queen Nancy Prickett reflects on her year's reign.

When the sun beams struck the thirteenth row of bricks from the grounds on the east side of the observatory on the morning of the eighth day of February, 1963, LEAP WEEK began.

All bachelors were eligible — married males were to be caught only by their wives (not without a fair chase) and hitching licenses were freely distributed. Illegal wrestling holds were prohibited.

If the male didn't run far enough and fast enough, chances are he was caught. Evidence of this fact was presented at the Sweetheart Banquet and Dance when the "gals" all decked out totin' their catch.

Queen Nancy overlooks her subjects.

Laughter and gaiety characterize the mood of the campus during May Festival. At the time, mothers of Central students are honored by a tea at the Nelson House, a smorgasbord, and finally the festival program in the evening. The crowning of the May Queen highlights the evening's events. Nancy Arndt Prickett and her court were crowned this year during "Spring Cruise," the May Festival program.

Graduation

Glorious, the mood of graduation — the climax and finale of four years of study.

Melancholy, the mood of graduation — the end of four years of friendship.

Hope, the mood of graduation — the beginning of the life of service to others.

Relief, the under-current of graduation — one goal in a lifetime has been reached. Graduation does inspire many moods — some happy, some sad — nevertheless it is a process that affects everyone — everyone that succeeds in accumulating 128 credit hours and whose grades pass Dean Cramer's calculating eye. Everyone at graduation has passed over the same barrier and regardless of moods, they are entitled to a sigh of relief.

FACULTY AND CLASSROOM

Blackboard diagrams, rustling papers, puzzled looks which give way to understanding and then to boredom, and the sound of the professor's voice expressing his point — dynamically or otherwise — set the typical mood for the classroom exchange between students and professors. Many faceted, the classroom as the backbone of college life is a center of mental growth, confusion, preception and learning, accented by the give and take that occurs between professors and students — the give and take that prompts questioning, that stimulates thinking, that widens individuals, that makes college college.

I. Lynd Esch, enterprising co-ordinator and supervisor of student and faculty activities, has made possible the recent tremendous expansion of the building program at Indiana Central College while serving in the capacity of president. His congenial personality and warm concern are always welcomed at any social or academic gathering. Many seek his subtle but prudent council.

Dean of Women

Our energetic little Dean of Women, Miss Mary Huey, divides her time into the various tasks of sending out mailings to parents, co-ordinating Mother's Day activities, and counseling girls with problems ranging from those of finance to those of roommates.

Dean of Men

Dr. Robert McBride, I.C.C.'s philosophic dean of men once made the statement that for him, heaven would be a huge library with time to read all the books. Although shown here paving the way, he tempers his heavenly activities with such earthly ones as counseling students, solving disciplinary problems, and giving the final sermon to those boys who fail to pass room inspection.

Academic Dean

The lanky form of Dr. Robert Cramer, our distinguished-looking academic dean can be seen in many places other than his office. Displaying an interest in the life of the students and also in many other areas, his activities range from chastising students for chapel absences to the more serious aspect of evaluating their grades, arranging the curriculum, and raising the academic tone of the college.

ORGANIZATIONS

Another mood of human experience includes a sedate mood that satisfies the intellect. Clubs and societies at Indiana Central serve as an influential force in inspiring students to become permeated with this intellectual mood. Clubs of every academic and social level involve the time, interest, and abilities of Central students as they attempt to capture this mood through channels outside the classroom.

Alpha Phi Omega and Central Ministerial Association

Any former Cub Scout or Boy Scout is eligible for membership in Alpha Phi Omega. The Theta Pi Chapter of this national service fraternity was chartered in 1950 and is open to any boy having an interest in scouting.

The members have as their goals fellowship and service and seek to attain these under the scout oath and law.

Some of the activities of APO included sponsoring a book exchange for students wishing to buy or sell used books. An initiation of new members was conducted in the fall.

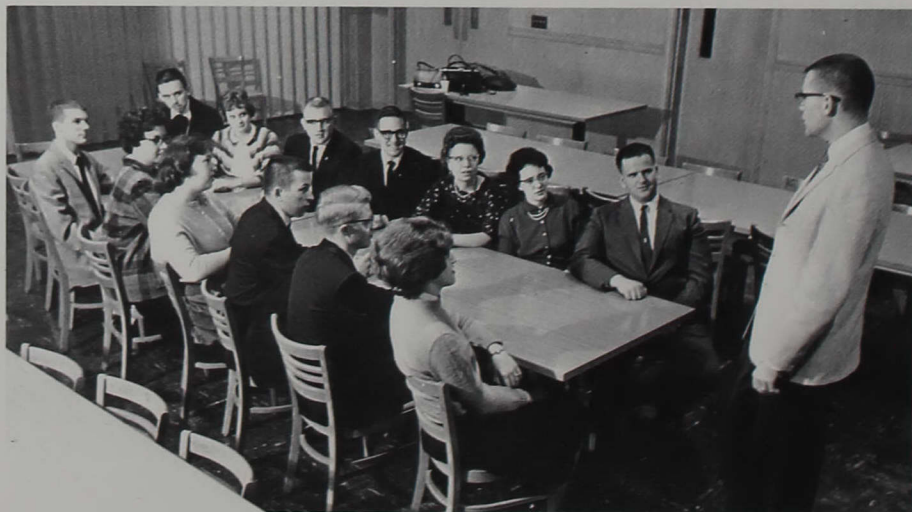

Steve Stanton serves as President of APO; Vice-President, Barth Ragatz; Secretary, Bob Bonar; Treasurer, Arvel Hornback. Dr. Kermit Todd and Mr. Robert Coker are the organization's advisors.

The Central Ministerial Association of Indiana Central College is concerned with providing a place for fellowship and sharing among those students interested in Christian Education. Its purpose is to bring about an understanding of the practical aspects of ministerial responsibilities and problems, and to provide opportunity for experience in Christian leadership.

Leading the C.M.A. in 1962-63 were president, Howard Powell; vice-president, Steve O'Malley; Secretary, Malinda Wiles; treasurer, Dick Cravens; student council representative, Lynn Soughan. Reverend Ronald Deem assumes sponsorial duties.

Theacallosia and Philalethea

The women's literary societies developed on Indiana Central's campus many years ago to give young women the opportunity to share their appreciation of literature, to develop poise and social grace, and to actively participate in public speaking, discussion, and debate. Both societies meet twice a month, conducting their meetings according to strict parliamentary procedure.

The officers of Philalethea are: Sharon Myers, president; Joyce

Doades, vice-president; Pat Stacy, recording secretary; Karen Kenyon, corresponding secretary; Kathis Kirkpatrick, treasurer; Lucy Parker, chaplain; Glenna Apsley, critic.

Business Club and S.A.M.

Business Club is an active organization designed to better prepare Indiana Central students for careers in the business world. Throughout the year, field trips are often taken; this year's group went to St. Louis in February which proved to be a rewarding experience.

Business Club members also conduct several needed functions on campus such as the printing of "Campus Celebrities," a student directory. They also provide a coat check service at all Artist Series productions.

Carl Morrison served as president for 1962-63. Other officers included vice-president, Jack Hook; secretary, Aloha Sommers; treasurer, Gail Myer; student council representative, Bob Poindexter. Mr. George Humbarger and Mr. Wilmer Lawrence are the faculty sponsors of Business Club.

The Society for the Advancement of Management is a professional organization for business administration majors and minors who are interested in the field of management. The group is affiliated with a parent chapter of active business and industrial leaders. S.A.M. has a dinner meeting each month with guest speakers from industry being provided. Officers of the society consist of president, Jack Hook, and secretary-treasurer, Jim Toney.

S.A.M. members and sponsors include: Jerry Salmon, Vance Berger, Tony Zentz, Ray Schoetlekatte, Earl Poe, Jack Hook, Mr. Coker, Mr. Hottell, Carl Morrison, Al Damalak, Hugh Burns, Robert Williams.

Phi Alpha Epsilon and Philosophy Club

Phi Alpha Epsilon, commonly referred to as the Freshman Honor Society, which depicts a scholastic mood on campus, is sponsored by Miss Sybil Weaver. At the beginning of the year the organization asks sophomores who have completed their freshman year with an index of no less than 2.25 and providing they are of good character to become members of the organization.

Officers of the organization are: Nancy Linkel, President; Steve O'Mally, Vice-President; Nancy Waters, Secretary-Treasurer; and Elizabeth Hull, Student Council Representative.

Philosophical problems are discussed at the home of Dr. McBride when the Philosophy Club meets. The meetings are called at various times and are led by a member of the organization. The club goes beyond the realm of everyday and delves also into the philosophy of art, literature, and other areas.

The club is sponsored by Dr. McBride, and it has no officers.

Philosophy Club members are: ROW 1: Sue Marquis, Steve O'Malley, Mickey Hartsock, and Veer Devalal. ROW 2: Jim Miller, George Crum,

Choir

Directed by Farrell Scott, Indiana Centrals 1962-63 choir is one of the most enthusiastic performing groups of the school. Practicing faithfully four hours a week, the choir prepares various types of music for concerts, chapel programs, and choir tour. A specialty this year was "Te Deum," a fifteen minute Latin arrangement by Verdi. The group was so confident that they would be well received that they prepared a special arrangement of "Row Row Your Boat" to be sung for encores.

Choir director, Farrell Scott, pores over some music which the choir will sing.

Mr. Daniel Corrigan leads the I.C.C. band at a football game.

Drum major, Chuck Shultz, explains a marching routine to twirlers Billilynne Daley and Deanna Bepley.

Band

The Indiana Central College band provides an opportunity for those who know how to play various musical instruments to display their talents. In this way students find they can enjoy themselves as well as make a significant contribution to the college. Band members are especially active in the fall providing a marching band at the half-time of football games.

During the basketball seasons the band furnishes a pep-band which serves to entertain and arouse enthusiastic support for the team.

Directed by band leader Mr. Daniel Corrigan, the band also participated in the Veteran's Day Parade, gave a Christmas and Spring Concert, played for the ground-breaking of the new science building, and gave a concert in chapel.

Officers for 1962-63 were: president, Elaine Schultz; vice-president, Liz Lamm; secretary-treasurer, Tina Smock; student council representative, Charles Shultz.

Centralaires

Singing show tunes and a wide variety of semi-classical numbers with enthusiasm and real showmanship, the Centralaires is a very popular group in the community as well as here at Indiana Central. Their repertoire for 1962-63 included selections from the Broadway Show WILDCAT and CAMELOT.

Besides giving performances at various civic functions the Centralaires made one rather outstanding trip to Grand Rapids, Michigan where they sang at the Evangelical United Brethren national convention. Other performances included entertaining at the governor's mansion and singing for a special chapel program.

M.E.N.C. and Art Club

The members of the Music Educator's National Conference held a meeting once a month under the leadership of Carol Carlson. A special program was planned for each meeting.

Activities of the M.E.N.C. included selling coke at the Artist Series, a visit to the Jewish Temple, selling candy, and taking part in the I.M.E.A. convention.

The officers of M.E.N.C. were: Carol Carlson, president; Elaine Schultz, vice-president; Jean Warner, secretary; Mary Jane Snapp, treasurer; and James Sweet, student council representative.

The Art Club, under the leadership of Tony Showalter, meets the first Tuesday of every month. At their meetings they discuss various art forms and problems confronting art in the present day. Professor Boyce is the faculty sponsor.

The Art Club sold several kinds of candy. With the profits the Art Club enjoyed an educational trip to New York City.

man, Dale Fletcher, Barbara Sullivan, Said Mahassen, Khal-doun Pharaon, Tom Short, and Joe Rankin. President, Lahai Sogbandi, leads the group.

International Relations

Under the leadership of Lahai Sogbandi with the cooperation and support of its individual members, the International Relations Club accomplished a full and rewarding year. Determined to build a winning float to be entered in the Homecoming Parade, I.R.C. succeeded in placing second with its motto, "We Are One in Spirit." A panel discussion highlighted by foreign conceptions of the American way of life — its strengths and weaknesses — was presented to the student body during convocation.

International Relations Club would like to stress that its membership is not limited to students from foreign lands, but that all students interested in furthering the understanding between the peoples of this world are welcome to attend.

Officers of I.R.C. for 1962-63 were president, Lahai Sogbandi; vice-president, Joe Rankin; secretary, Sally Kestner; treasurer, Nazar Hindu; and student council representative, Tom Short.

Club and Spanish Club

The Spanish Club was reformed early in the second semester after a first semester of inactivity.

The club meets on the second Thursday of every month to practice Spanish conversation, to view Spanish films, or to read Spanish magazines. Dr. Underwood is the sponsor of this organization. Linda McKim, president, is the only officer.

Members of Spanish Club include: ROW 1; Mikel Jackson, John Katsarapaulas, Linda McKim, and Janice Schneider. ROW 2; Dr. Underwood, Carol Bortz, and Errol Matthews.

Members of French Club are: Shirley Hack, Delane Fawcett, Betty Gilmore, Judy Bateman, Barbara Parsons, Sue Hiatt, Barbara Sullivan,

French Club and German Club

The French Club which was founded this year has a membership of students who are interested in improving their knowledge and facility of the language. Headed by Betty Gilmore and Barbara Sullivan and advised by Dr. Underwood, the group takes advantage of receiving French films and playing games which improve their vocal usage. In meetings, they practice conversation and pronunciation with the use of a tape recorder.

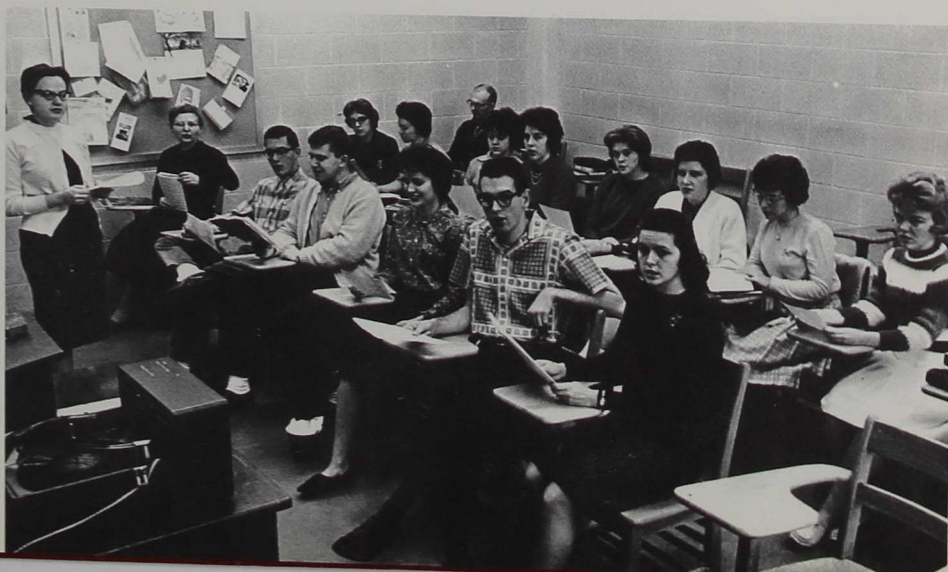

The officers of French Club are: Betty Gilmore, president; and Barbara Sullivan, vice-president.

Das Deutsche Club is composed of die Deutschen students interested in studying German life and customs, and the use of German. The group, sponsored by Dr. Meier and led by Joy Loveless, sings German songs and plays German games. The group also publishes a monthly German newspaper called "Der Spiegel." A recent treat for the members was the viewing of Dr. Meier's slides of Germany.

The officers of the German Club are: Joy Loveless, president; Anne Norcross, Secretary; and Erick Wilburn, treasurer.

burner, Deanna Beplay. ROW 3; Bill Patterson. President, Joy Loveless, leads the group in the singing of German Christmas Carols.

IAY and Gamma Gamma Omicron

Service to school, community, and world makes a girl eligible for election and initiation into I.A.Y. The meaning of the letters I.A.Y. are known only by those girls honored by membership in this organization.

Meetings are dedicated to informing members of needs in the community and planning projects such as a drive to secure "used" books for Asian students. An annual drive is also held to raise money for the cancer society.

Pat Stacy is president of the organization; Anne Norcross, vice-president; Marilyn Bunner, secretary; Sharon Myers, treasurer; Nelda Mathias, chaplain; Vera Reber, guard. Miss Williams and Miss Huey are the I.A.Y. advisors.

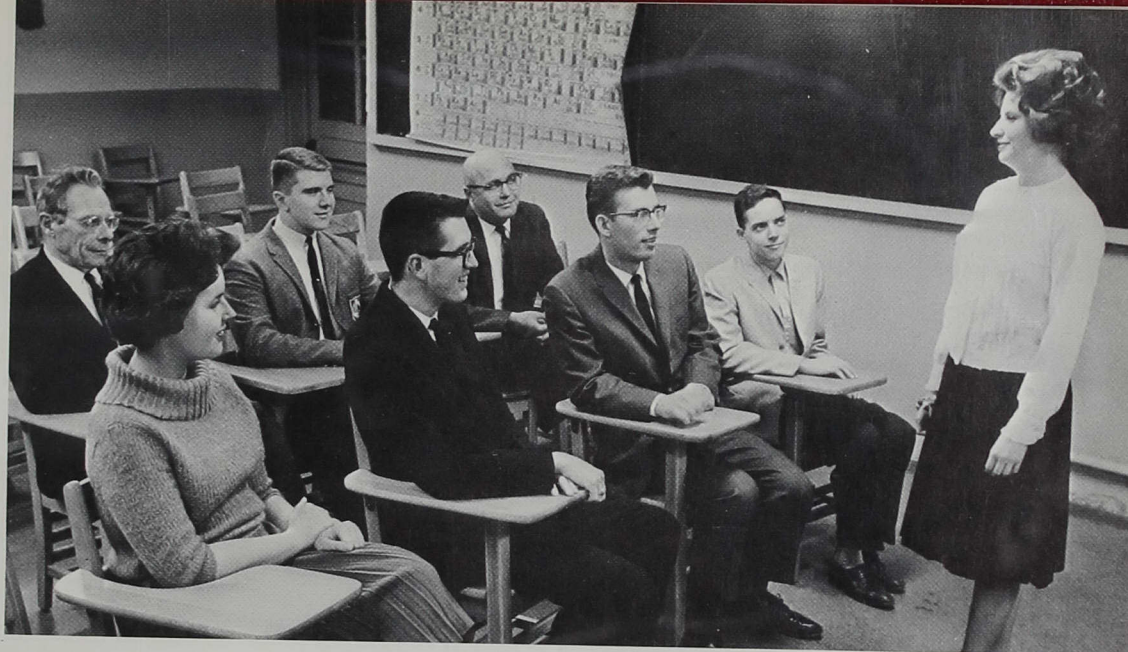

This off-campus girls' club was organized to provide unity among off-campus girls and stimulate better relations with on-campus students. A relatively new organization, Gamma Gamma Omicron members plan social functions which are designed to bring together on and off-campus girls. They also provide varied programs of interest to all college women.

The president of Gamma Gamma Omicron is Ruth Featherstone; vice-president, Anne Norcross; secretary, Jeannie Chapell; treasurer, Helen Schuck; student council representative, Marilyn Heavenridge. Miss Mary Huey serves as sponsor.

Sigma Zeta

Established in 1943 Sigma Zeta is a science honorary devoted to encouraging the study of science and recognizing the attainment of high scholarship among members of the society. This group is noted for their ability to think clearly as is exemplified by their choice of sponsor — Dr. Brooker.

Alpha Phi Gamma

Alpha Phi Gamma is a co-educational journalistic fraternity open to those who have completed certain requirements on the staff of the school publications. Its purpose — to promote journalistic pursuits on campus — is realized partially by sending delegates to the Alpha Phi Gamma Conference each spring or, perhaps, by selling books. This year they sold Pyramid Climbers by Vance Packard.

Alpha Phi Gamma members include: ROW 1; Glenna Apsley, Liz Lamm, Lahai Sogbandi, Jayne Major. ROW 2; Clara Underwood, Sherry Wayman, Judy McBride, Kathy Boger, Joe Rankin. The group is led by Jim Sweet.

The nursing students challenged P.E.M.M. Club to a softball game — P.E.M.M. won.

PEMM Club

The Physical Education Majors and Minors organization has grown considerably this year and so has its' activities. The purpose of Physical Education in the schools is taught through the club's activities which this year included a high school play day, selling bows at Christmas, a camping week-end, a Christmas Party for underprivileged children, speakers and lecturers, and parties.

The group was under the leadership of Marilyn Ramsey. The other officers include: Loretta Wass, vice-president; Ginni McAdams, treasurer; Dinah Theobald, historian; Janet Stiles, secretary; and Sherry Wayman, student council representative. Mary L. Walters was the faculty advisor.

"C" Association

The "C" Association is composed of students, alumni, and former students to whom has been awarded the varsity "C" in any of the intercollegiate sports at Indiana Central College. Current members sell programs and concessions at games and choose candidates for homecoming queen. Each year the Association chooses an outstanding athlete to be recipient of the Breneman Award. Officers of the "C" Association are: President, Bill Bless; Vice-President, John Koontz; Secretary, Jim Ware; Treasurer, Norm Beasley; Student Council Representative, Fred Mackey. Mr. Angus Nicoson acts as advisor.

Young Democrats and Young Republican

Last May two important organizations arose to meet the political needs of Indiana Central College students, and to better acquaint the student body with affairs of government. The I.C.C. Chapters of the Young Democrats and Young Republicans of America were officially organized in May of 1962, and both have been very active clubs on campus.

For chapel and club meetings, several noted political figures from both parties were secured. Mr. Stanton Evans, Congressman Donald C. Bruce, and Mr. James Blythe represented the Republicans; and Democratic speakers were Andy Jacobs, and Senator Birch Bayh.

In November a mock election was sponsored jointly by both clubs, and throughout the entire year club members actively participated in such activities as political campaigns for party candidates, conventions, and rallies. These two clubs have done a great deal toward encouraging political thought and action among I.C.C. students.

Officers of the Young Republicans are president, Steve O'Malley; vice-president, Tom Short; secretary-treasurer, Sharon Davies; Student Council Representative, Carol Eastburn.

The Young Democrats' officers are president, Jim McDonald; vice-president, John Stuckwisch, secretary-treasurer, Cindy Howard, student council representative, Tom Anthony.

WICR Radio Station

monds, Jack Simmonds, Joan Delle Brown, Paul Stockton. ROW 3; Rusty Davis, Jim Peck, Jim Meador, Carol Payne, Mary Ann Perkins, Dan Lawther, Deanna Bepley, Barbara Bean.

WICR is a ten watt, non-commercial F.M. radio station located on the college campus and operated by Indiana Central students and faculty. The station has a listening radius of fifteen to twenty miles, and a crew of about thirty workers. Designed to give students a chance to perform and to express their ideas, it has also proved valuable to those who are seeking experience in radio work.

WICR has established the following objectives:

1. To provide a unique radio station for the community.
2. To reflect the aims and objectives of the college.
3. To present community (social, religious, and cultural) events to the alumni, students, and public.
4. To give valuable training to students of the college.
5. To serve as an important and continuous public relations media.

WICR broadcasts an I.C.C. football game.

SPORTS

The moods of sports are many. Spectacular basketball shots, breath-taking touchdown runs, exciting efforts on the track, and inspired infield play are all a part of sports life. These aspects of the wonderful world of sports are well known to the spectator. But the average sports follower knows little of the locker room scene. This scene may reflect a mood of pensive concentration, furious redress, or merely one of quiet rest.

Crimson Steppers

Unseen by the public except when dancing, prancing, or high-stepping it around the football field or basketball floor, the Crimson Steppers devote much time behind the scenes to planning and practicing the shows they present at half-time. Advised by Miss Walters and led by Mary Jane Schooley these high-spirited girls are characterized by their smiles, their fuzzy white hats, and their pom-poms — also the boys seem to greatly approve of their short red skirts!

I.C.C.'s cheerleaders: Karin Dornfeld; Becky Bowman; Nancy Turner, captain; Georgia Hieb.

Cheerleaders

Much of the excitement and spirit of our ball games stems from the enthusiastic yells of Indiana Central's four cheerleaders. Always working to support the team, they not only lead cheers at every basketball and football game, but make posters and announcements reminding students of the time and place for all games. Miss Mary Walters, women's athletic director, serves as advisor and sponsor of the group.

Football Fractures

A potential conference champion was dealt one severe blow after the other this fall. Numerous injuries left rookie coach, Paul Velez, with a losing season. Velez lost six of his starting eleven, including co-captains Bless and Jackson, through major injuries. Broken legs, shoulder separations, and knee injuries were many. Most of these injuries happened under "freak" conditions. Bad luck behind him, Velez looks to a bright future.

Cross Country

I.C.C. places two on the all conference team — Jerry Dearth and John Jarosinski.

The Indiana Central Harriers ran their way to a second place in the H.C.C. behind the strong running of John Jarosinski and Jerry Dearth, who were elected to the all-conference team. With no senior runners on this year's squad, Coach Bill Bright may look forward to future seasons with optimism.

Basketball

Fun, fight, and fraternity are words definitely applicable to this season's H.C.C. champion Greyhound Basketball Team. Many followers viewed the 62-63 cage season with a marked degree of pessimism resulting from the loss of four of last year's starting five. Under the direction of Coach Angus Nicoson, however, the hounds combined speed, desire, and hustle to establish an excellent .700 plus won-lost percentage. When Coach Nicoson was asked who his top five players were, he replied: "... I actually used seven." These seven are pictured below.

Matmen Match Muscles

There is no substitute for practice. Right Dick?

Greyhound Gapplers

The Indiana Central matmen responded well under the capable direction of their new coach, Paul Velez. Many tedious hours were spent in the weight and practice rooms as Coach Velez ran the boys through their drills and exercises. Diet was not an unknown word to the wrestling crew, and many pounds were gained or lost during the year. It was all worth it, however, as the team established a creditable 4 won — 3 lost dual meet record for the 62-63 season. With an abundance of underclass talent the Greyhound team is looking forward to many future successes.

Whippets

The girls' basketball team played a full schedule this year. Many games were played in the afternoon before the varsity team's scheduled game. The team contained only two seniors, Marilyn Ramsey and Pat Clark. The team under the leadership of "Mick" Walters ended the season with a 6-3 record.

Tennis and Golf

Indiana Central's tennis team, coached by Angus Nicoson, had a fairly successful 1962 season with five wins and two losses. Led by All-Conference, Jim Hull, who lost only one match, the team was rounded out by Dan Woerner, Nolyn Taylor, Joe Rankin, Mike Flinn, and Jack Thacker.

Central's golf team consisting of Dennis Dennett, John Alexander, Walt Lyons, Fred Belser, and Ted Dye had a winning season, finishing second in the conference to Hanover. John Alexander and Dennis Dennett were All-Conference players.

STUDENTS

Many individuals attend this small church college. They may be eighteen and fresh out of high school or they may be returning to school after a period of twenty years and three children. They may be loyal class members or they may be unclassified. They may attend day school or they may begin classwork at 5:30 in the evening after a day at work. They may range from a student teacher ready to begin a career to a freshman who doesn't even know his major — but they are all students. They may not study the same thing or the same way. They may study books, they may study people, or they may study life, but they all came to school to study something — they are all students.

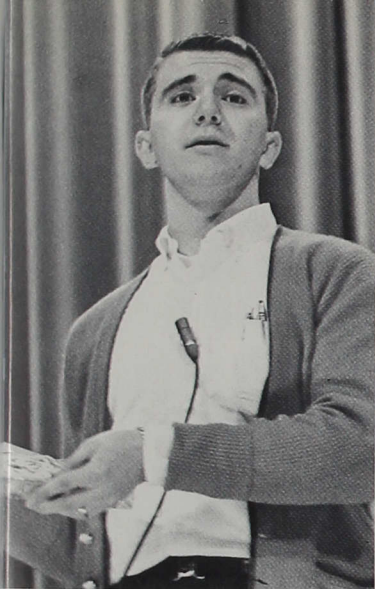

Graduating Seniors march toward the climax of one drama as a prelude to another.

Senior class officers Jerry McClain, vice-president; Pat Stacy, treasurer; Anne Norcross, secretary; Sue Meriman, student council representative; and Jerry Emery, president, meet to plan activities.

"What'd you say was in there, Larry?"

Senior Class

The curtain is about to be drawn upon the fourth act. A few lines and cues were forgotten, but the drama has been enacted with noted success and the approaching grand finale is evident.

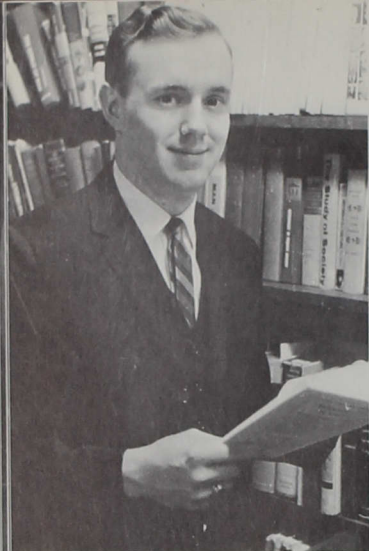

Lower stage right is flooded with a deluge of light as figures clothed in black move up center to meet a majestic form swathed in waning light. Upper stage right, an orchestra emits the lingering refrains of "Pomp and Circumstance."

As the last black figure reaches his place on stage left, the curtains are slowly drawn and applause bursts forth. Quickly the actors, tingling with the success of their performance, line up for the curtain call. One call is met, and then another — and still another. One drama has thus ended as a second spectacular first act begins to unfold. The plot of this new play is the mysteries of life. Its climax has but two choices . . . comedy or tragedy.

Who are you talkin' to, huh, Phil?

Candid Camera: Seniors

Preparing to vault into the future is Fred Honnold.

Carol Vawter defiantly throws down her shoe as she decides to turn from country mouse to city mouse in "Plain and Fancy."

The "eyes" have it as Mandy finishes her make up before the production of "Plain and Fancy."

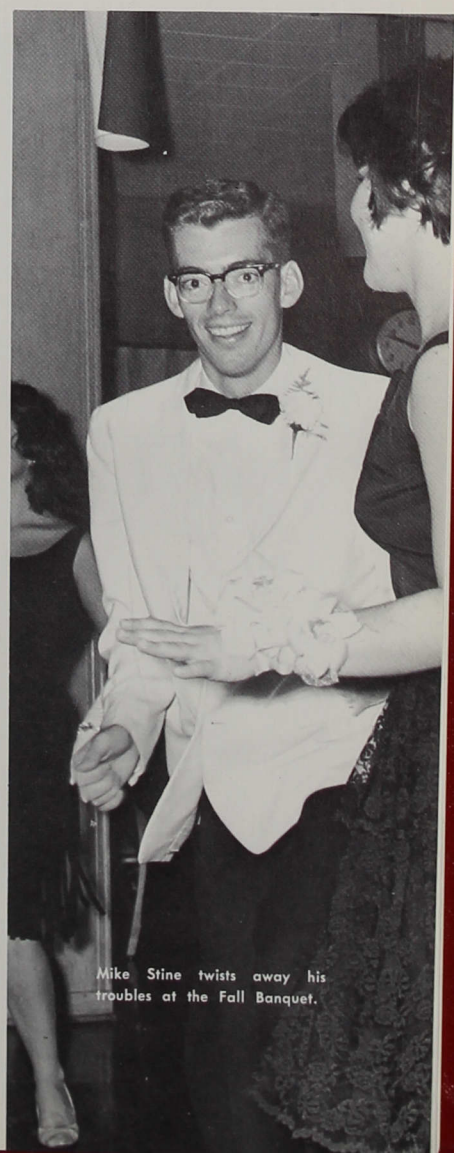

Seniors pursue their interests not only on the stage, the dance floor, or the gridiron, but also in the laboratory.

Greg Gowl, portraying a beauteous (?) goddess, and Kathy Kirkpatrick enact a scene in the Senior Class stunt.

Tom McNamara's is a frequent face in the library.

Junior Class

From the first fourth place won by this hard luck class, the Juniors have experienced moods of despair, disappointment, and discouragement and yet they have also experienced feelings of success in the fellowship and closeness gained in time of defeat. With determination, a competitive spirit, and "hidden" abilities the Juniors await their final year in an optimistic yet somewhat cautious mood.

Kay Dougherty was a flapper in the class stunt.

Sophomore Class

The mood of the class is to win. Feeling that they had a winning group the minute they stepped through the doors, the class of '65 gritted its teeth, swung into motion, and started out to prove it. With a versatility ranging from auctioneering to just plain scuffling through the leaves — with various levels of brain, brawn, and beauty in between — they feel they lack nothing, especially confidence. Loyalty, enthusiasm, and a spirit of "never give up" set the mood for the Sophomore Class.

Baton in hand, Deanna stands at attention.

Freshman Class

In the mood of innocent expectation the Class of 1966 stumbled into the stimulating but frustrating atmosphere of college life. Mingling with assorted personalities, restless attention to Dean Cramer's orientation lectures and compulsory convocations, adjustment to disconcerting study conditions, and humbly wearing green beanies, rapidly transfigured the mood into that of thwarted and confused freshmen becoming sophomores.

MOODS . . .

Play requires concentration, too.

"Well . . . , It's a deep subject."

Gosh, Payne, that's a big piece!

Oracle

Room #1 in the basement of Krannert Hall was the Oracle room and there were times we would have traded it for a padded cell . . . when blank pages stared us in the face and the proper words just would not come . . . when deadlines rushed at us . . . when we typed and retyped . . . when pictures had to be scheduled with Dave . . . but, we survived and the culmination of our work arrived in May. It was then we distributed Indiana Central's profile of "moods" — the 1963 Oracle.

DAVID BRADY, PHOTOGRAPHER

On this, the last page of the Oracle, an explanation of the type of photography used in the majority of pictures included in this edition is needed. A relatively new technique in photography makes use of available light and the pictures were taken with two 35 mm. cameras and six lenses ranging from 35 mm. wide angle to 200 mm. telephoto. David used Tri-X film in an Acufine film developer in order to get the fullest value from the film.

It is with deepest gratitude for the many hours he spent taking and developing pictures for the Oracle that we honor Mr. David Brady as our dedicated and hardworking photographer. The quality of his work speaks well for this talented young senior.

Through the eye of David's camera, Central's life and moods have been captured in the high quality photographs found on the preceding pages.
