We Enjoy Observing the Things of Nature,
Whether They Are Touched Only by God . . .

... or, Maybe, Altered Slightly by Men.

Regardless of Weather, We Move on . . .

We Advance—
We Joke—
We Relate.

There Is Work, Too—
Tedious, Tiring Work.
There Are Frustrations
And Rough Spots
And Pressures.

Yet We Are Thankful That,
In a Personal Way
For Each of Us,
There Is an Escape—
A Camouflage.

We Entertain, and Are Entertained;

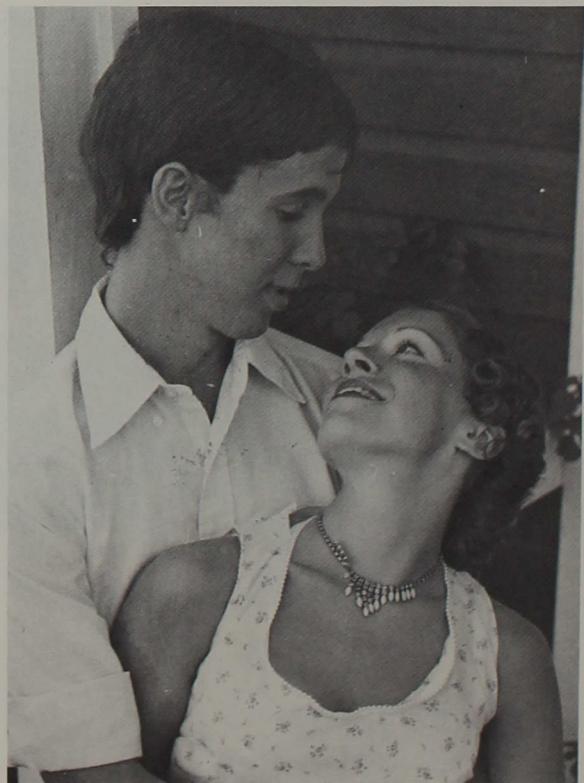

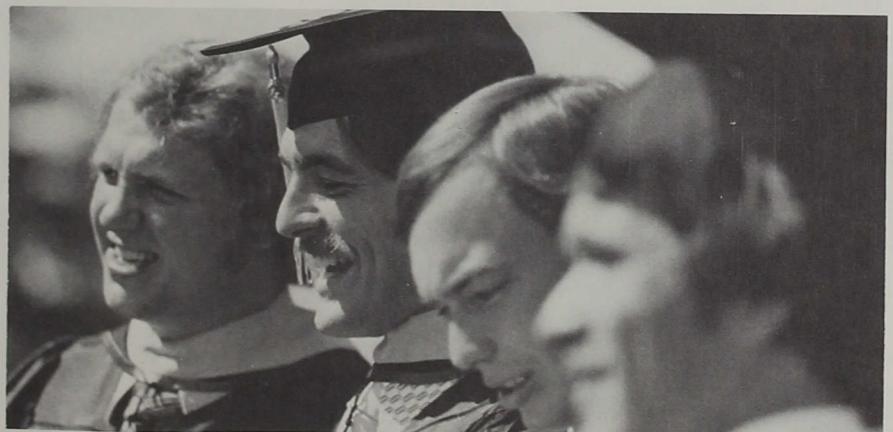

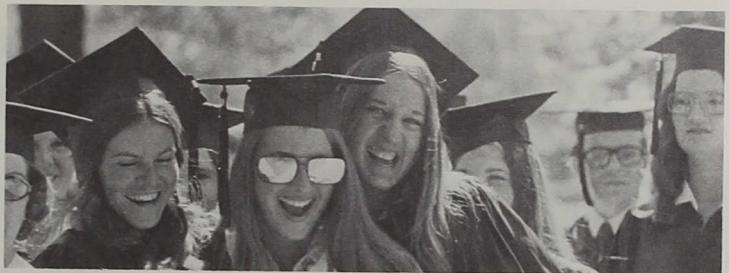

We Create,
And Are,
In Turn,
Created.

Many Take on New and Different Roles,
And Those Who Do Not So Are Still Content

To Observe and Learn from These 'Temporary People . . . '

... Until a Time Comes
When We All Must Take on Our Final

In Life.

Welcome to I.C.C.

New faces coming on the scene; old faces reappearing; a blur of activities from football to food to fellowship.

All of these are signs of a certain time of year — the beginning of school at ICC.

Soon a more quiet atmosphere will settle over the campus as classes begin, but for now we are into the season of moving in.

We Were Together on a Cold Brown County Day

People seem to have a built-in desire to get back to nature . . . to return to God's Country. And each person has a different way of achieving such means. Some, like Bruce Jones, make it an everyday affair while others, like the ICC'ers that gather at Brown County State Park for an afternoon with Mother Nature in mid-October, look upon it as a special occasion.

Brown County Day, with its numerous activities, eats, and exploration of Nature's autumn art festival and the simple abode that Bruce has made his own, are only two ways of showing that there's a little bit of Thoreau in each of us.

"We must learn to reawaken and keep ourselves awake, not by mechanical aids but by an infinite expectation of the dawn which does not forsake us in our soundest sleep."

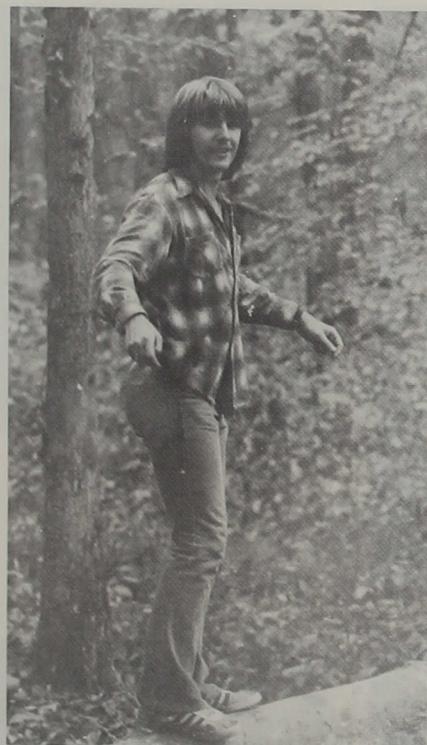

—Henry David Thoreau

Sports

Among many different athletes at IC, seven students move about doing their work. One man works exactly, carefully and scientifically, treating the injuries of athletes who have come to trust him above any other doctor there may be. Six ladies stand out from the rest of us to show an amazing, near-limitless enthusiasm for the Greyhounds, and they make sure that we know where and when we play next.

To trainer Chuck Smitha and the 74-75 Cheerleaders — Peggy Bastin, Joyce Burton, Penny Locke, Tina Renihan, Lynn Duzan and Susan Strimple — we dedicate this year's sports section.

Golfers Second in Soggy Conference

It began with DePauw's selection as the ICC representative to the NCAA final tourney at Tampa, even though we were the defending Conference champs . . . Fired up, we finished second behind Franklin in the Butler Invitational . . . Winning the Evansville Invitational, but falling to fourth in our own tourney . . . Behind Butler at the St. Joseph's tourney, we were not figured to make a run for the title — but we did . . . At DePauw on October 14, we came from dead last to take second, 15 strokes behind Butler — the beginning of a fantastic IC sports year.

Fantastic freshman Rob Nelson and steady vets Bob Nichols and Dave Sanderson display their team awards as head coach Ken Partridge looks on.

Hard Work Pays Off As Greyhounds Capture Conference Cross-Country Title

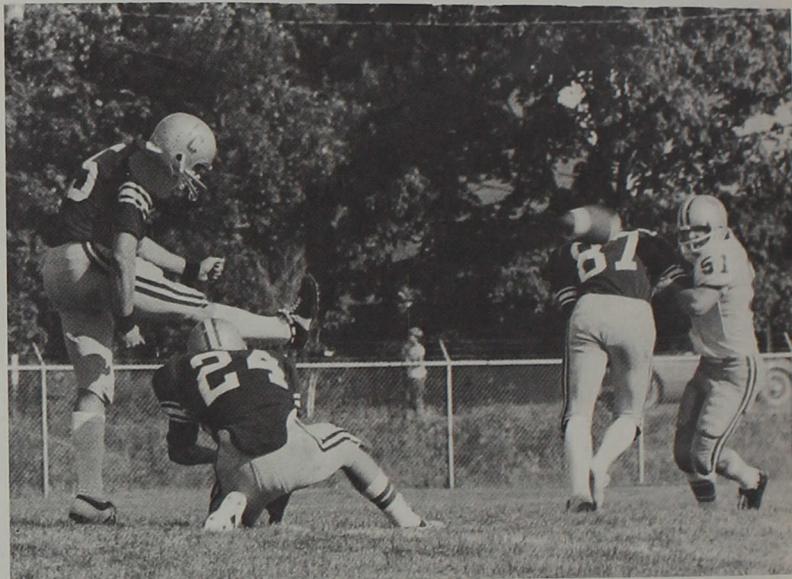

They racked up a 4 win, 1 loss dual meet season and copped two firsts and two seconds in six multiple-team tourneys . . . Still, most writers had them tagged to finish somewhere in the middle of the ICC pack up at Valparaiso . . . On November 2, Stover finished fifth, Atwood sixth, Scheele twelfth, Davis fifteenth and Brewer seventeenth . . . With aid from Webster and Rodebaugh, the championship came to IC for the third time . . . A trip to the Nationals in Springfield, Missouri, resulted . . . A lot of summer and fall running paid off - and how.

LEFT - Dennis Scheele, like Rick Stover, Kent Graham and many others, really bore down in training for a title.

On the Gridiron, Greyhounds Set Records

What seemed like a flood of all-state freshmen greeted the coaches and returning veterans in August . . . A lot of rebuilding on the lines, and the freshies figured in very importantly . . . Fred Eisner and Dale Widolff, at fullback and center, showed their stuff after injuries sidelined the mainmen, Montgomery and Gardner . . . An 8-6 win at Findlay . . . Dick Nalley hit Tim Rickerd with a TD pass that had been an attempted field goal, and South fell, 13-0 . . . Wabash falls . . . Mike Mills becomes an emergency defensive end and winds up an all-conference man . . . Homecoming and Franklin falls, but Evansville drops the Hounds, 28-20 . . . Shouts, tears, sweat, and recognition in the Butler Bowl, as a prevent defense doesn't and the Bulldogs barely escape as Top Dogs, 29-26 . . . DePauw conquers us on the road, and we take it out on outclassed St. Joseph's, 28-12 . . . We gain the upper hand at Valparaiso, but when tempers heat up the Crusaders steal away the season closer . . . Vance Stratton seems to be a surprise choice for the all-ICC team, since most fans fail to observe his brutal effectiveness on the line . . . The frosh: Kirkman, Geffert, Lanie, Vleck, Sark, Zupancic, Pitman, Peters, Williams . . . And the title dream still burns, demanding satisfaction next year.

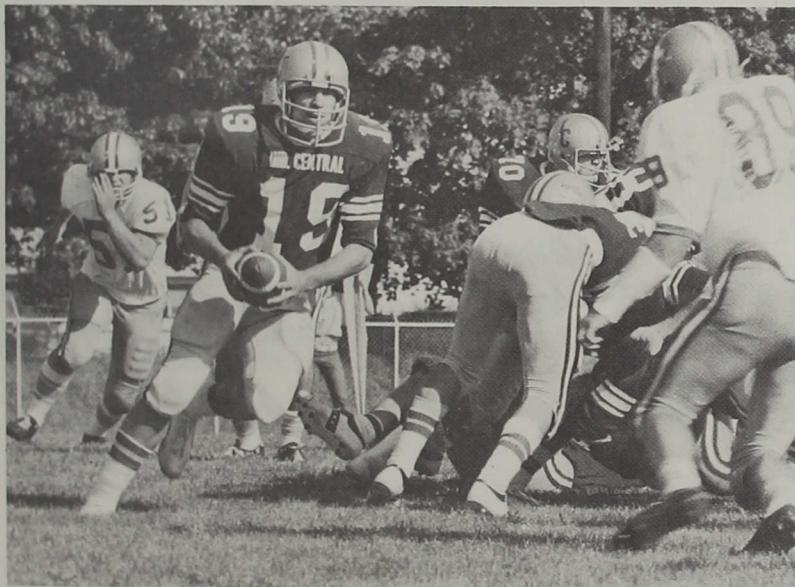

Tim Rickerd etched his name in the IC records with a 39-yard field goal kicked against Evansville. Here, he hammers home an extra-point attempt against South.

Injuries hurt in various ways. Below, view a pained Glenn Howell, victim of a broken bone while at defensive end against Wabash. Later, cast and all, . . .

But Tie for Fifth

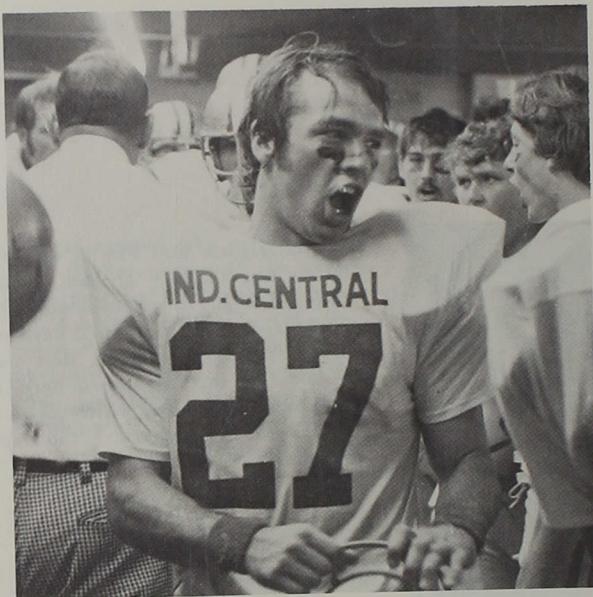

Quarterback Rod Pawlik destined to be one of IC's greatest signal-callers, had 204 complete passes in his first three years — and he'll have one more chance to expand that new record. He was, as shown here, in command of the play which seems to be Central's trademark — the triple option.

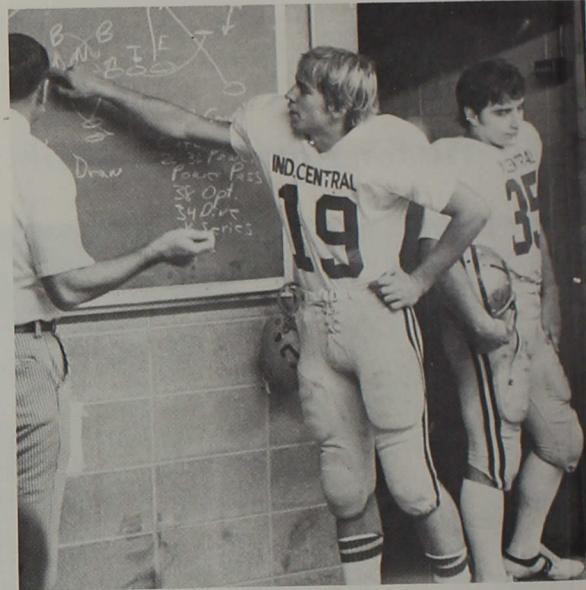

... he must sit on the sidelines with another broken foot buddy, halfback Ralph Hayes, and watch ...

... as the healthy ballplayers, like defensive end Bill Willan, charge into the exciting action.

Like the storm after the calm, the animal in flanker Mike Hurley explodes in spirit and shout . . .

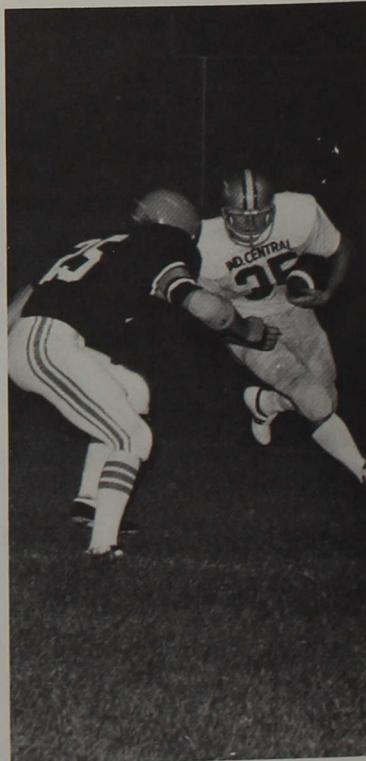

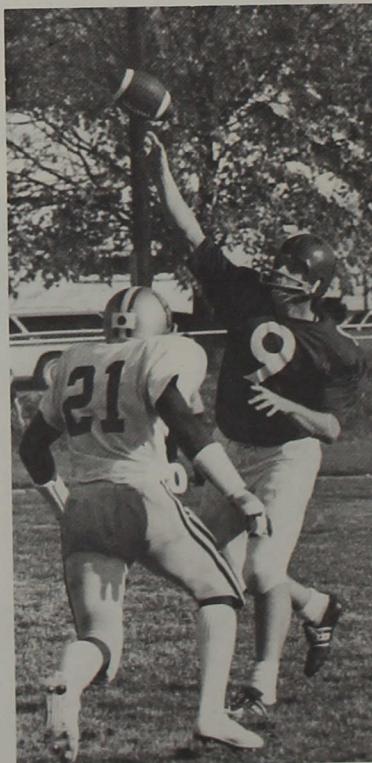

. . . after head coach Bless, Pawlik and Eisner sketch, plan, ponder and think about the upcoming struggle.

Dick Nalley seems calm, even as he flies around a Wabash defender on the way to a decent gain.

St. Joseph's Bob Dragich lets fly — just in time, too, as IC's Mike Mills zeroes in on the prospective target.

In the darkness at Findlay, Fred Eisner intends to deal out some pain if the Oiler defender gets him.

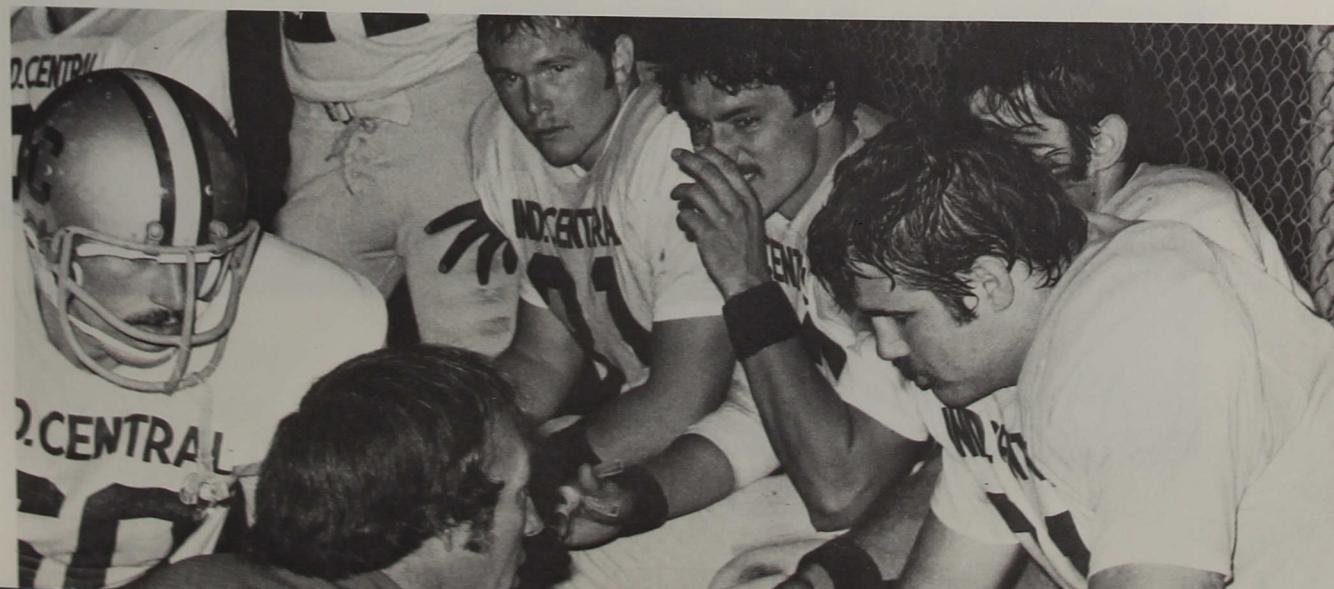

All it takes is some toughness, some endurance, some strength and a willingness to risk pain — and you, too, can join these Greyhounds. From left to right, ROW 1 - Randy Robertson, Ken Brooks, Stan Markle, Dave Ivory, Steve Wheatley, Gary Hall, Dick Chew, Mike Hurley, John Sims, Dale Widolff. ROW 2 - Vance Stratton, Steve Montgomery, Dave Wood, Rod Pawlik, Mark Sciarra, Larry Stanley, Tim Leonard, Joe Cristoforetti, Rick Gardner, Tim Rickerd. ROW 3 - Tom Largus, Steve Sark, Joe Gaylor, Joe Jester, Bob Faris, Mike Sears, Fred Eisner, Tim Lanie, Dave Winings, Tom Geffert. ROW 4 - Mark Reiff, Craig Reiter, Karl Beer, Bill Willian, Mark Fisher, Tom Zupancic, Mike Burton, Mike Mills, Bill Turner. ROW 5 - Jim Rippy, John Jones, Rick Stahlhut, John Peters, Rick Wimmer.

All year, the rabid Greyhound fans (ABOVE) cheered and roared their approval as hyper-fast halfback Dick Nalley (RIGHT) danced his way into the hearts of University Heights and into the record book with a 1,012-yard rushing season.

If possession of the "Top Dog" trophy depended solely upon the tug-of-war shown at the right, then surely powerful IC linebacker Ken Brooks (l) could have conquered Butler fullback Bob Grenda (R). Alas, in the wild and wonderful contest at the Butler Bowl this last fall the Bulldogs nicked us on a last-minute TD drive.

Jolene Hochstetler (1), Lauretta Arney (4), and Denise Pierce (6) converge to hold off an enemy attack during a match against Heritage Christian. The field hockey crew posted one of the best records of any sporting team at IC this year.

Whippets Work For Friendship As well As Wins

What other athletic teams at Central do as much friendly talking as competing against the opposition? . . . Women's sports have always been a factor at IC, and even more so since Joanne Alexander took over the various coaching reins . . . In field hockey, tennis, volleyball, basketball, softball and track, Central's fair (and talented) damsels work on skills and compete at a killing pace, just as in any sport . . . Stars like Sue Willey, 'Mo' Tibbetts, Connie Camden, Barb Stutz, Terri Shady and Suzi Hamburger will not be forgotten quickly by Whippets' fans, but many other girls keep coming along . . . No way in the world these ladies are second-best.

Debbie Sachs, another fine freshman player, draws all the attention in the house as she hammers in a free throw against IU.

BELOW A St. Mary's defender matches freshman Jean Sachs stride for stride.

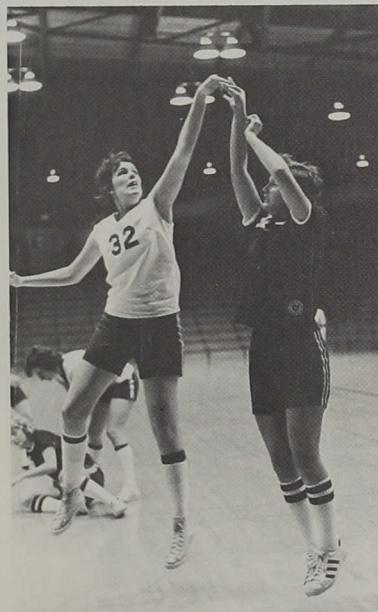

Can this pretty woman, fair as a morning in her native Iowa, be the same woman who will probably be considered IC's greatest female athlete ever? It can be, as Sue Willey receives this year's All Sports award.

Whippets Host District Basketball Tourney

BELOW Barb Stutz, undaunted by the attack of the Marshall forward, takes a chance on a jumper.

BELOW Eyes back on the game, Gloria! Only our Ms. Smith sees the camera, as the rest of the crew consider the contest.

It's too bad we could only have Ike Jackson for two years. As he proves here against Transylvania, he sure gave us a lot of reasons to marvel at the power of basketball.

Basketball Fires 'The Shot Heard 'Round the Conference'

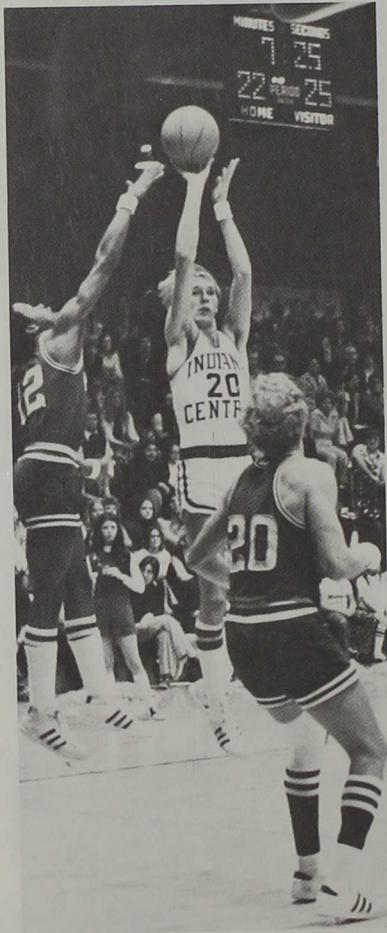

Not a lot was lost from the previous season in personnel, and so many folk had Central written off before their first practice . . . Steve Kahl seemed to have a rough fall, injuries and all, and some doubted his highly-touted worth . . . Bob Wingerter started turning peoples' heads around, and Jim Farmer began to carry more and more of the scoring . . . Clarence Swain and Ike Jackson began to punish the enemy forwards . . . The Conference coaches credited us with fifth place and no more . . . We nick Valpo, 69-68 . . . At Evansville, we get our tails whipped, but we knock down DePauw after having trouble pulling away . . . APO brings the brand-new Dog's Life award to our gym on January 25, and the Butler APO chapter gets ready to take it home—or, at least, that is what they expect to do . . . Butler leads at the half, 39-35, and things don't change much early in the last half . . . Whistles blow, the Bulldogs do too much hacking and chopping, and John Dunn is caught with four seconds to go and a one-point BU lead . . . Senior Daryl Warren walks to the line amid more noise than the Last Judgement will probably produce . . . Two careful shots find the mark—and suddenly we're all prouder than ever to be Greyhounds.

ABOVE Clarence Swain spearheads a three-on-one break against Northern Kentucky and readies a pass to Warren. Jim Farmer (R) charges up the left side.

LEFT A misty and marvelous moment for Indiana Central: Daryl Warren follows through and watches the free throw that made the Greyhounds famous.

Trophy Drive Gets Boost from Greyhound

People like Jim Farmer (ABOVE) made sure that St. Joseph's didn't stay in the lead too long during the game here.

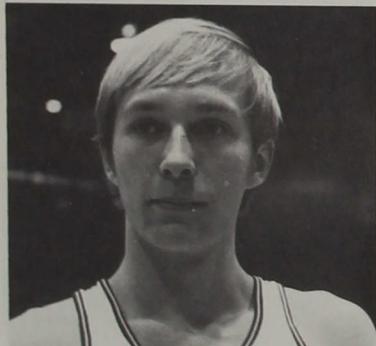

"Damn the scuffmarks! Full speed ahead!" was the general feeling among the fans after the Butler game and all the He-Man Women Haters hit the floor to mob the Greyhounds and the cheerleaders.

Dick Chew toiled long and hard for four years and for few big moments—until his slow-motion placement turned out to be the proper medicine with which to drug St. Joseph's high-scoring Jim Thorsen in our last game with the Pumas. IC dealt the Pumas their first loss of the ICC season as a result. At left, IC President Sease congratulates Dick after the season closer. Dick even had his own unofficial fan club, thanks to the He-Men Women Haters.

Hardcourt Heroes

The mild-mannered face of an ICC superstar on a super team — All-Conference guard Jim Farmer.

From the ecstasy of beating Butler, we faced the real world again by getting pounded at St. Joseph's and nudged out by lowly Wabash . . . Once again, the cries of 'give it up' abounded . . . But during the rest of the season, things happened . . . We voyaged crosstown and pounded Butler on their own floor—it was no fluke . . . Revenge on Wabash on the road and another stomping given to DePauw . . . Mark Sciarra and George Wilson led the raving He-Men Women Haters to wherever the 'Hounds played . . . Dick Chew, an eye injury to Jim Thordsen, and some home-court inspiration smashed St. Joseph's . . . At Valparaiso, we let sole ownership of second place slip away, 90-82 . . . Evansville visits, and we strike again, 80-68, to close it all out . . . And now, Coach Nicoson and every true Greyhound can't wait for the next season.

Once Again, IC Grapplers Are Tops

With very little in the way of personnel loss, they began to revamp themselves early in the year . . . Jeff Rabourn lost some time due to shoulder problems . . . A lot of enterprising, ambitious freshmen and army returnees showed up . . . Injuries robbed Steve Harding of this entire senior season and also stole more than half of Marion Wolfe's year, but both stayed on to help and coach . . . A fine showing for us in the Little State tourney, which we hosted; Joe Myers and Tom Zupancic were champs . . . Barely losing to Evansville, but a lot of power being shown against Alabama, Purdue and Indiana . . . MacMurray and Taylor fall . . . Wright State feels the Greyhound bite . . . The ICC final meet at Valparaiso . . . Joe Myers makes it three titles in a row, Bruce Jones clobbers DePauw's rated Zelik to close with the big one, and Jeff Rabourn, Mark Dullaghan and Tom Zupancic clean up . . . For the third time in five years, we're the champs.

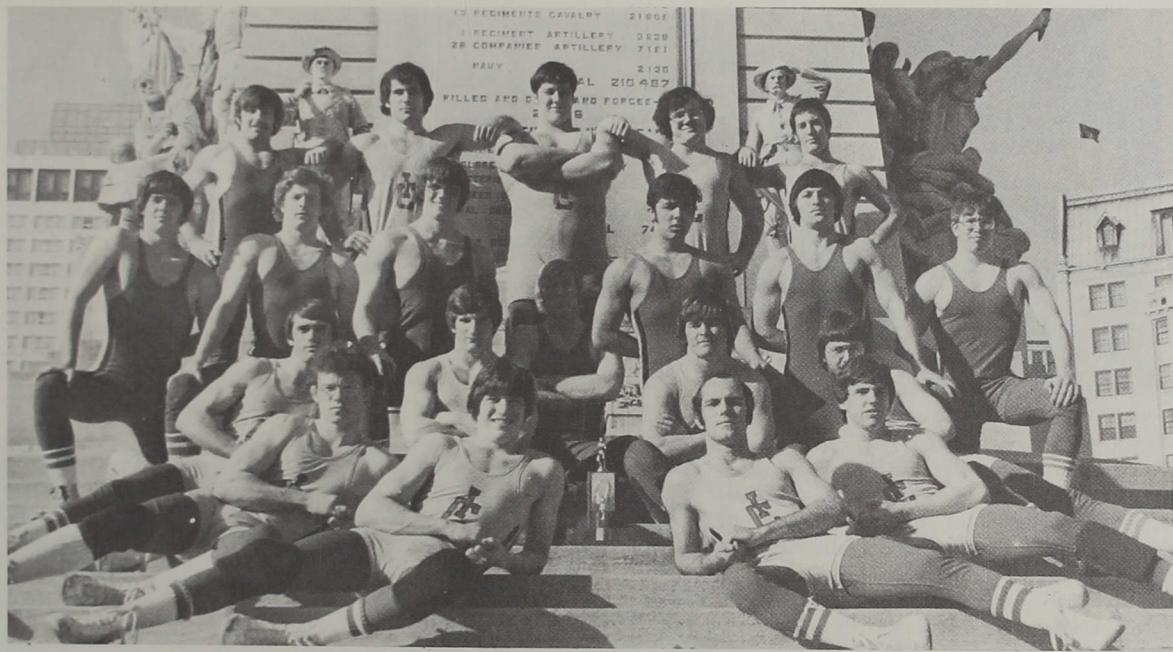

RIGHT IC's "Natural Man", 126-pounder Bruce Jones, fixes his attention to the opponent at hand—Anderson's Doug Stoll—in the Little State final.

ABOVE Zupancic and Myers felt that Coach Wetherald wasn't up in the air far enough over this success, so they gave his spirit the boost shown here.

Freshman Jesse Carrasquillo is nailed by Jeff Rabourn during practice (LEFT) and afterwards rests and considers the sacrifice a wrestler must make to be a winner (BELOW).

Tom Zupancic had a pair of near-epic bouts with Taylor's Essa Sackallah, shown above. Essa pinned Tom in a dual meet, but was beaten in overtime by Tom in the Little State.

Brad Crowe became a 'superfly'-er in the pole vault this spring. He and freshman Kip Peyton improved IC's scoring punch in this event.

Almost everybody showed up again late this winter to begin putting their spring thing together . . . Several had already been hard at work over the winter in an extensive schedule of indoor meets . . . Butler and Vincennes ate the Greyhound cinders in dual meet competition . . . IC finished, as expected, in second place in the ICC meet as host Valparaiso won it . . . But, in a rainy Little State meet, we emerged victorious over the upset, soggy Crusaders . . . So many new records: Nally, Hall, Fisher and Cutshaw (43.1) in the 440 relay, Parsons (tied 14.9) in the high hurdles, Stover (9:15.8) in the steeplechase, Fisher (55.4) in the intermediate hurdles, Allgood (54' 1½") in the shot, Reiff (150') in the discus, and Hurley (an unexpected 187' 9") in the javelin . . . Jerry Allgood finishes fifth in the national meet and thus becomes a two-time All-American . . . Next stop: reclaiming the Conference title.

BELOW Zeus's legendary thunderbolts were stray sparks compared to the javelins pitched by Mike Hurley (L) and novice Mike Weaver (R). Teaming with Fred Eisner, the Brownstone boys managed several 170-foot first places (Weaver) and a new school record of 187' 9" at the DePauw open (Hurley).

BELOW On a clear day, one is forever seeing Jeff Davis all over the place as a broad-jumper and also as a relay runner for IC.

Jerry Allgood (ABOVE) and Mark Reiff (RIGHT) sent some heavy stuff up into the atmosphere this spring—and most of it went for points, ribbons and two new school records. Allgood closed out a beautiful career as a two-time All-American tracker, while freshman Reiff seems to be only beginning an equally fine career.

Tennis's Small Success Sets Up ICC All-Sports Trophy Showdown

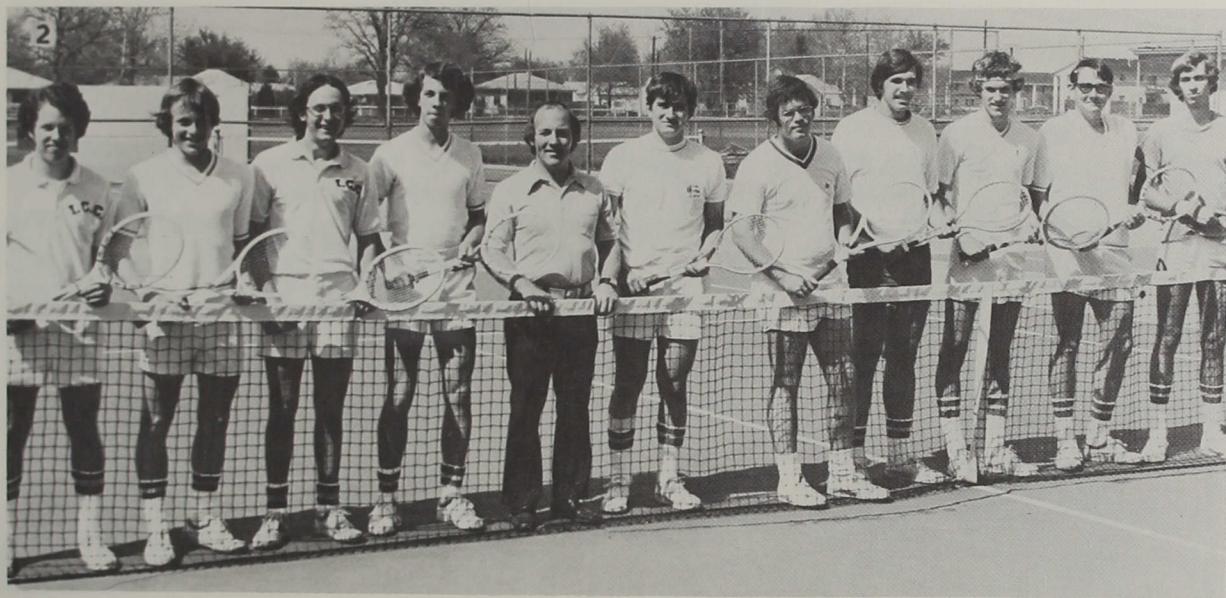

We began with an abundance of players and wound up with a lack of regular season success . . . Freshmen Filbey and Haltom came on big and made their way into the top six . . . There were a lot of problems with droopy nets and cracked courts . . . By the form charts, IC was to finish last in the Conference meet . . . IC led the All-Sports trophy chase by one point before our trackers and racketeers entered ICC final meet battles on the same weekend . . . We wound up next-to-last in the tennis final, not last—and IC gained a full point in the All-Sports race, putting the squeeze on second-place Butler and adding that much pressure to the upcoming IC—Butler baseball clash . . . And they who swung the catgut in the spring had held up their end of things very well, after all.

The big award winners for tennis — (L to R) Mark Haltom, Kevin Whitacre, and Lloyd Bauges — stand beside diminutive head coach Terry Wetherald and display their hardware.

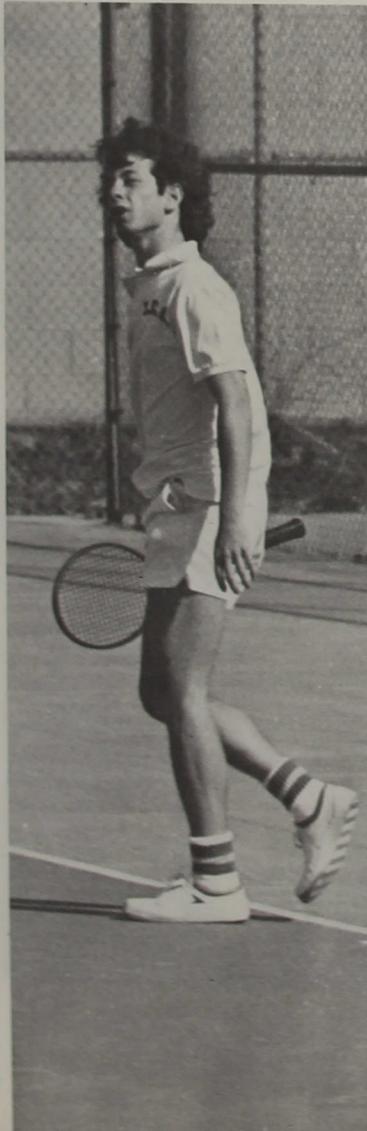

A logical, calculating and confident competitor on and off the court, Lloyd Bauges earned the 1975 Socratic Award for academic excellence in philosophy. He played a pretty mean No. 4 man, to boot.

ABOVE From Taylor University came Jim Spencer, who proved himself just as capable with a tennis racket as with a bass saxophone in the IC Stage Band.

IC Baseball Runs Record

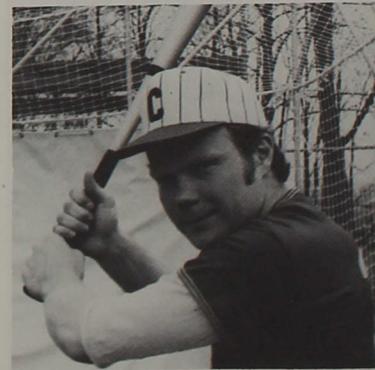

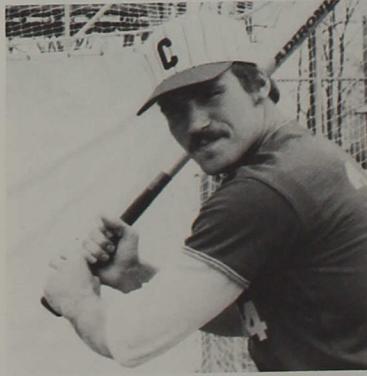

Rain, rain never went away during the spring, and so the Greyhounds spent a lot of time in the gym during practice . . . The season came and went, and performances sharpened . . . Mickey Sisk commanded centerfield, bad knee and all . . . Several fell to the wayside with near-identical hamstring pulls . . . Steve Bohnert reclimbed the heights of his freshman year, and Jack Emly grew tougher . . . Hits and streaks came much more often . . . May 3 at Butler in the rain, with IC needing both victories to lock up the All-Sports title . . . We struck in the last inning off a tired Harry Muta, and gave a waterlogged Jack Emly a 4-3 win in game One . . . A tie in the sixth inning of game Two, one man on, Brad Denton up . . . Home run shot over the left field fence! . . . Tom Taylor puts the next ball over the right field fence! . . . Montgomery kicks off a 4-run seventh with another homer! . . . And we're the ICC All-Sports Champions.

LEFT Butler chief honcho Scott Neat wishes his best to our own Bill Bright before the clashes begin.

Would you buy a used basketball from these dynamic superiors?
From left to right, ROW 1 - Ken Borden, Terry Wetherald, Mike
Watkins, Ken Partridge, Jerry England. ROW 2 - Lou Gerig, Ken

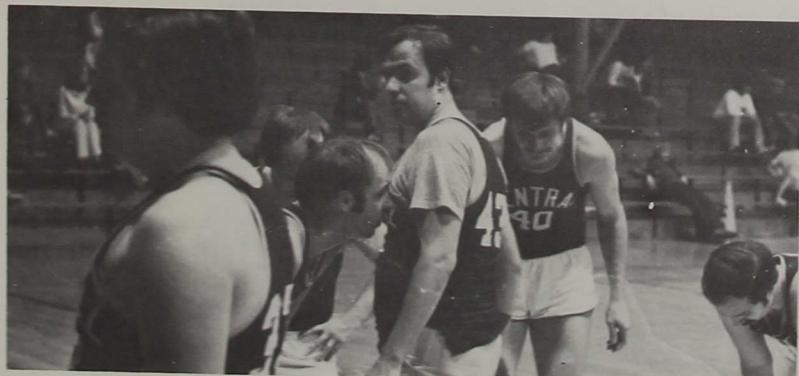

Hottell, Larry Collins, John Beebe, Jim Brunnemer, Bill Bright,

displaying perfect form.

Is This Any Way to Run a Basketball Team?

Born from the regular group of guys who can be found most afternoons in the gym, engaged in some semi-heated contests, the IC Faculty Flops sought to eke out a niche in somebody's Hall of Shame . . . A contest, soon to be an annual thing, against their counterparts from Franklin, the money from which to be used as scholarship funding for the two schools . . . A disappointing attendance, but a lot of fun nevertheless . . . Larry Sparks: "Cheap shot by No. 20, Terry Wetherald" . . . Coach England trying and trying to rack up two points instead of two Franklin pros . . . And some good moves by Gerig, Brunnemer, Beebe and Grant as well.

RIGHT Don't be concerned: they act that strange sometimes out of uniform, too.

Some Other Scenes We'd Like You to See In Greyhoundland

Now this year, we took the best pictures we had, and mixed them well with some observations and impressions . . . and came out with what you just read. A big thanks to Dave Willoughby for his extra work, and a last salute to all you IC athletes and fans . . . We've got a trophy to defend this next year—let's defend it.

BELOW Chuck Smitha brings his tender loving care into play once again. The bear paw belongs to Tom Geffert.

LEFT IC basketball in another form: Bill Green watches over his soon-to-be Marion High School state champs at Market Square Arena.

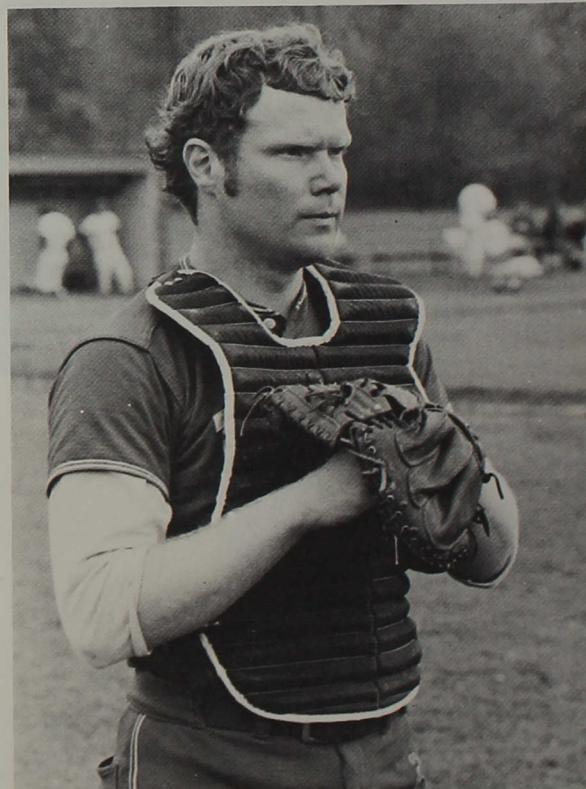

BELOW Sue Willey, clad in her super-protective trademark, charges after the elusive ball during a clash with Heritage Christian.

All bedded down for a long winter's nap? Of course not. (L to R) Terri Shady, Maureen Tibbets, Sue Willey and Barb Stutz display their "C" blankets.

BELOW With Dennis MacNulty and Dave Rodebaugh checking him out, Gary Hall comes roaring out of the gate in the 440.

LEFT Ike "M.D." Jackson rips through the Butler doghouse, scattering balls and players.

No Doubt About It— ICC Does Have A World-Wide Influence

The friendly, refined fellow to your right is Tika Thapa, the latest in a long and continuing line of Indiana Central students who hail from faraway places in the world. To find Tika's country, just whip out your world atlas and look for an elongated, mountainous country nestling between India and China. That's Nepal, home of Mount Everest and many similar high peaks which make up almost all its land area.

Tika's reason for moving halfway around the world? Political science. He will return to Nepal upon graduation to use his knowledge of politics and government for the betterment of his native Nepalese governing process.

Tika, like all the past foreign students, manages to retain his own national identity in a strange land while, at the same time, seeking to know, to understand, and to adapt for himself our American ways of doing things. We are different in a way from Tika, yet we are all on the common ground of education here at ICC in the present.

The 1931 ORACLE had this to say about Max Gorvie, a graduate from Sierra Leone in Africa: "Perhaps it is difficult to understand Max because we do not understand his people, but that detracts nothing from our appreciation of him. We admire and marvel at his erudition and his memory. We value his good-naturedness, and we love to hear him laugh. Questioning seriousness, industry, consecration, and reverence are some of the qualities which characterize Max.

"I stood among them, but not of them; in a shroud of thoughts which were not their thoughts."

So it has been with ICC's previous foreign students; so it is with Tika Thapa; and may Indiana Central College always be involved with the people of the world in the best way possible.

"Situated on the southern slopes of the mighty Himalayas, between the People's Republic of China on the north and India on the south is the ancient Kingdom of Nepal — the only Hindu Kingdom in the world. This is my home — the land of Mt. Everest; the abode of the yak and the Yeti; and the birthplace of Gautama Buddha, who gave the world an enduring philosophy of peace, tolerance, and compassion.

"My being in the U.S. started through a visit to my Hoosier friend, Rudolf Klinge. From the very beginning of my arrival in America, I was most amazed and impressed by the thousands of educational institutions. So great was their influence that I decided to further my studies. Having come from a small country, my preference was for a smaller university where I thought I would be received better. My thanks go to Mrs. Sylvia Parks, an alumnus of Indiana Central, who made it possible for me to enroll at ICC — for I could not have chosen a better institution of learning.

"I have been attending Indiana Central College since January, 1974, and have enjoyed every bit of it. The student-teacher ratio is small enough to enable me to participate in class discussions as well as to receive individual attention from the faculty members. In short, the congenial atmosphere of study and cooperation makes me feel at home.

"I am majoring in Business Administration with a minor in economics. Upon completion of my masters' degree I intend to return to my country and enter into Nepalese politics."

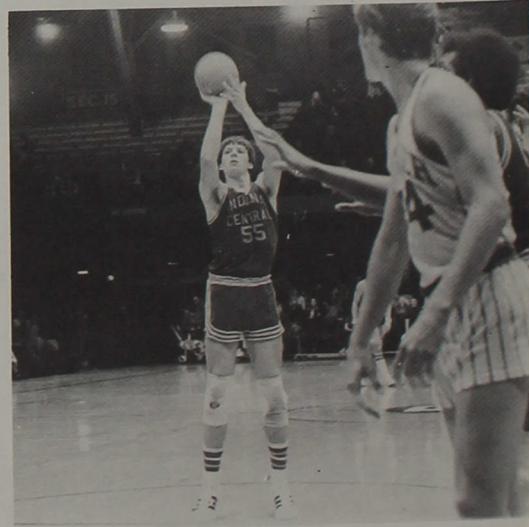

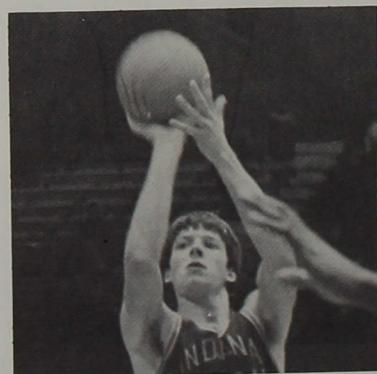

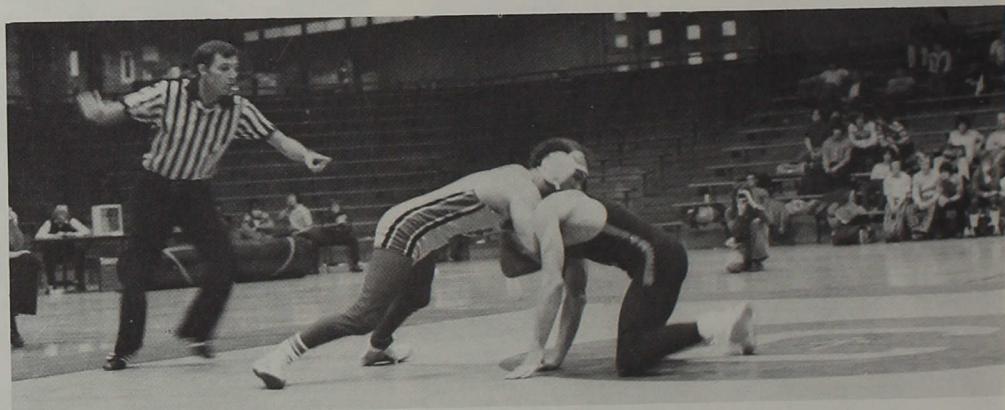

—Tika P. Thapa

And, Until Next Year . . .

TO THE READER:

Procrastination kills, and the rather dead edition of The Oracle which you now looked through is, in effect, the corpse. Still, a lot of us worked, worried, and pondered over the publication of this tradition. They now know what NOT to do when working on Oracle '76. That book, fellow students, will definitely be a step up.

To the people who did the work—Lyle Shelton, Terry Taylor, Steve Estabrook from Inter-Collegiate Press, Sandy Koett, Diana Williams, Terri Emery, Larry Hathaway, Ainsley Jo Phillips, Lou Gerig, Dave Willoughby, Dave Burke, and me, too—I extend my warmest thanks.

On to Oracle '76.

Steve Nontell
Editor, Oracle '76

ABOVE Steve Nontell, Oracle '76 Editor (The one on the left).

RIGHT Lyle Shelton, 1975 Oracle Editor, reposing in his new room donated by the Wilmore Freshmen of '75.
