Exhibiting mini-skirt and leg garter, Jay Dodson poses as the hands-down winner of the Annual Male Beauty Pageant.

Key Stadium Sees Aces Brought To Defeat

"Where's the ball?" Obviously players of both teams are eluded in a very scrambled play.

During Homecoming convo, one popular event is the "legs" contest. Coach Wood heralds winner Greg Scarpone.

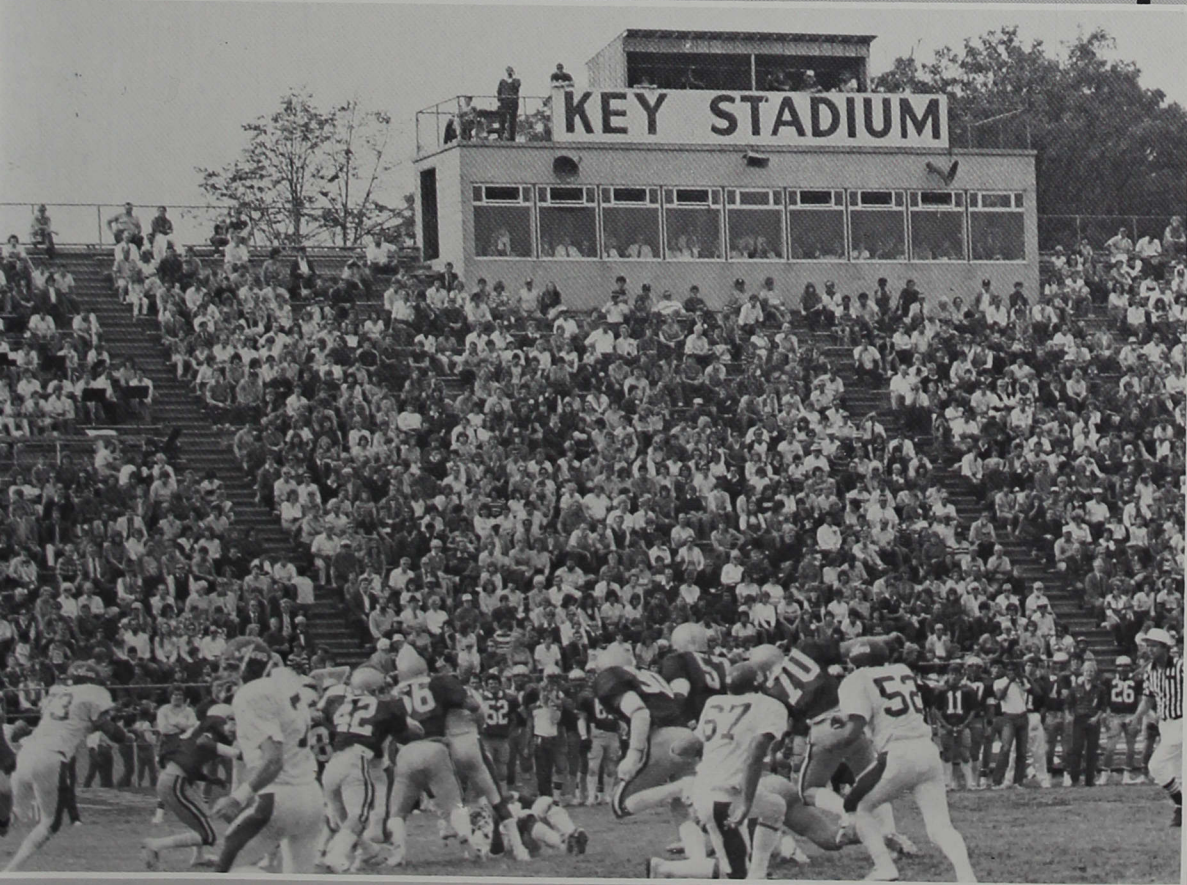

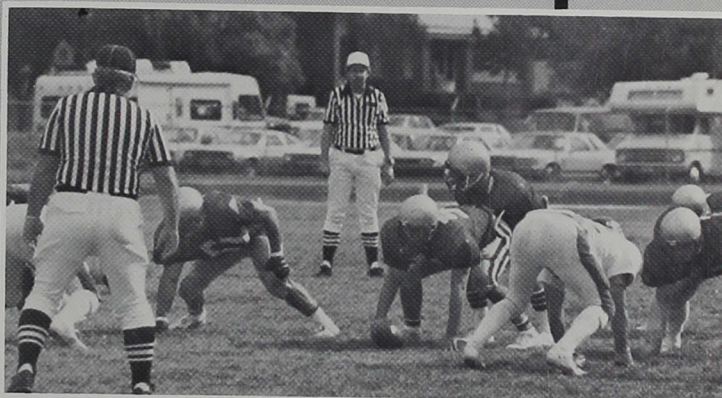

The Greyhounds struggle to pull a victory which by fourth quarter ends in a tie with the Aces.

At the first Queen's Dinner, President Sease crowns junior Renee Stevens. She is preceded by Ginny Drews.

Referees keep a close eye on all players as the Greyhounds prepare to hike the ball.

Smiling for a roving camera, Holly Oakes, Cheryl Snowdy, Christi Scurman and Karen Karg take time to enjoy the outing.

Laura Kitterman, Kelly Mowry, and Sherry Pouder sample carmel apples as they relax in Brown County's beautiful setting.

Expressions of many sorts brand the faces of those involved in the various tugs-of-ware on the hillsides of Brown County State Park.

All eyes are on Coach England as the first of the annual tug-of-war events adds climax to an exciting day.

Assisted by ARA Services, Ted Polk and Dave Owen supervise the preparation of the day's eats.

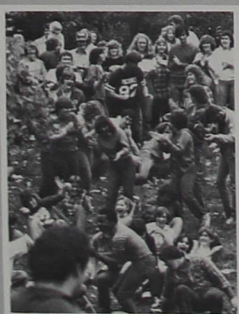

Students Breaking Away . . .

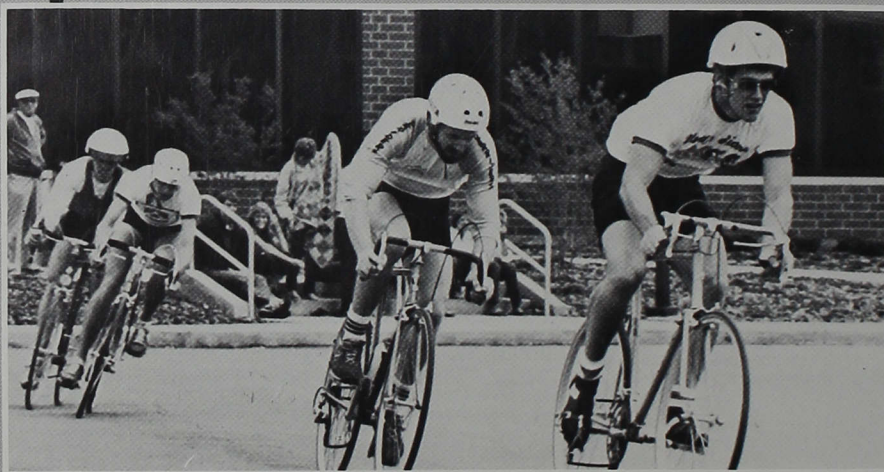

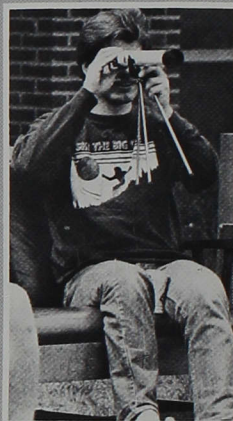

Brown County Day was welcomed by Indiana Central students as a much wished for and needed day off. Once the year began, college students never seemed to have enough time for everything in their busy schedules! Although classes, work, and social events were important and took up the majority of their time, "free days" to relax and have fun were equally important. As Thomas Dreier said, "If we are ever to enjoy life, now is the time — not tomorrow, nor next year, nor in some future life . . ."

Brown County Day meant different things to each individual. Most students enjoyed the traditional picnic lunch followed by a tug-of-war contest between the classes. Some ventured into Nashville to browse through the village shops and some extended the "holiday" by camping overnight.

Under Riders Take 1984 Cyclorama

(Top) A Dailey resident looks on as 1984 Cyclorama participants round a corner with top speed.

Teamwork is the name of the game, as is demonstrated by two intent Under Riders.

The Under Riders take their victory lap with trophy in hand after finishing in first place.

Mick Gardner finishes for the victory team with plenty of time to spare.

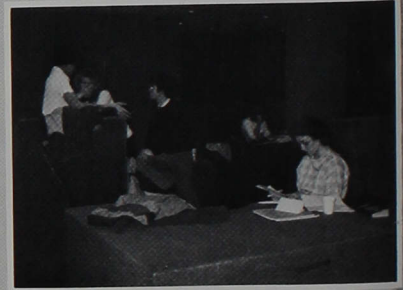

As is evident, accidents are an additional hazard in any racing event.

Good physical preparation is a must for racers to withstand the strains of the day.

Julie Bashore takes a study break by playing racquetball in the new Ruth Lilly Center.

Fitness played a major role during the 1983-84 school year at Indiana Central. Students not only became more physically fit, but enjoyed themselves at the same time. The new activities were attributed to the numerous new facilities offered by the Ruth Lilly Center for Health and Fitness.

Some of the more popular activities included racquetball, swimming, and basketball. With the addition of the new gymnasium, both men and women Greyhound basketball teams were able to practice simultaneously. This also provided more courts for intramural sports, such as basketball and volleyball. Football players could be found in the weight room and Cheerleaders and Crimson Steppers in the dance studio for their daily workouts. The new center provided several new classes in the physical therapy department.

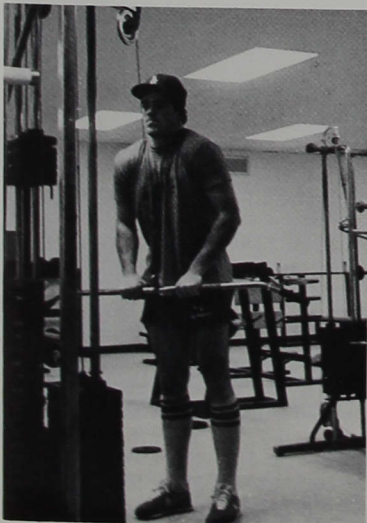

The center was used during study breaks, team practices, and improvement of a particular favorite sport or activity.

The Ruth Lilly Center added a new dimension to ICU.

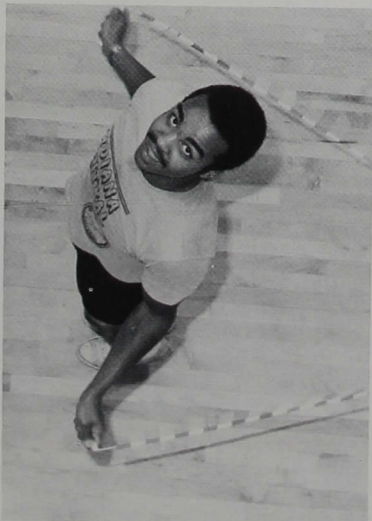

This is the first year that students got to enjoy the Ruth Lilly Center.

Students Discover Fitness In Lilly Center

Move over Jane Fonda, the Greyhound football team is here! ICU athletes used aerobics as part of its spring training for 1984 season.

Brad Beaver prepares for the baseball season by using the Universal weight machine in the weight room.

Tim Pace glances up at the photographer while jumping in the Peppy Jump Rope for Heart. Several students and faculty jumped rope with proceeds going to the Heart Association.

Julie Kahle displays her determination while using the bench press. This year the Ruth Lilly Center housed several new types of body building equipment.

Dorm Life

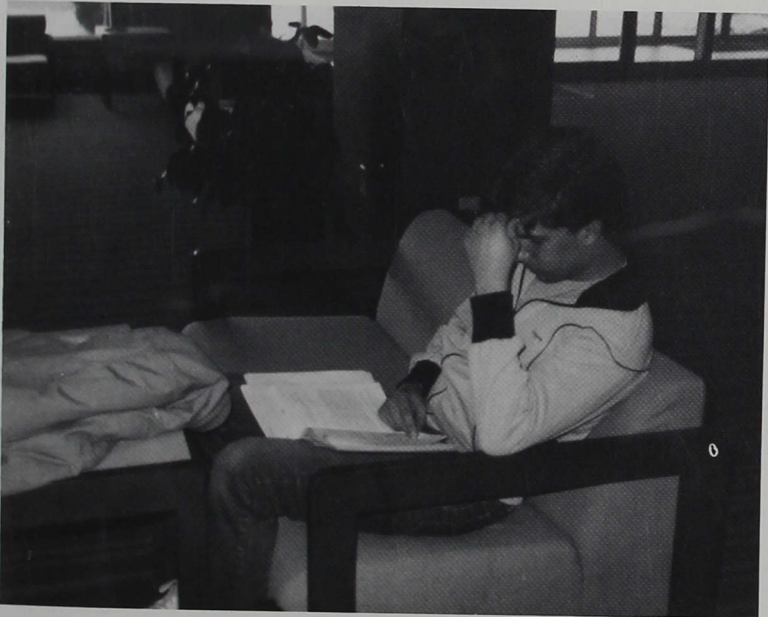

Sherry O'Rear proves that beauty is more than skin deep at an East hall dress up day.

Donna Jester proudly holds up her favorite underwear and prepares to join in the panty raid.

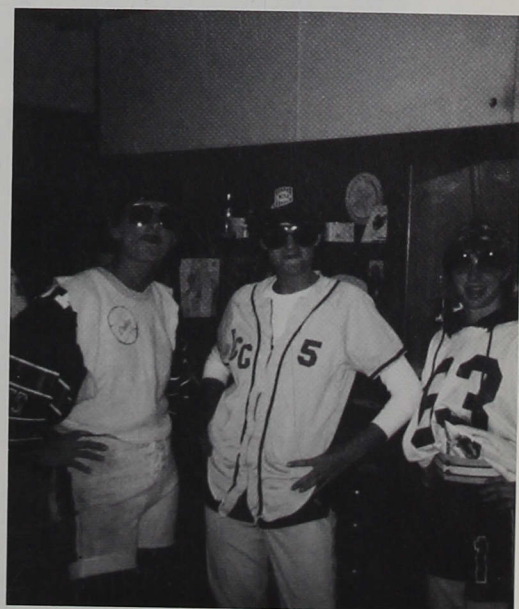

The few, the far, the mean, the woman marine — Chris Green takes time to relax from homework and shoots a game of pool.

Exotic, Chaotic, Challenging But Fun

Jay Randall crams before an exam in the lobby of North Hall.

Renee Stevens, Karen Monday, and Alice Clawson prove to be good imitators of the Daily Hall men.

Dee Dee McGee is all wrapped up in her work.

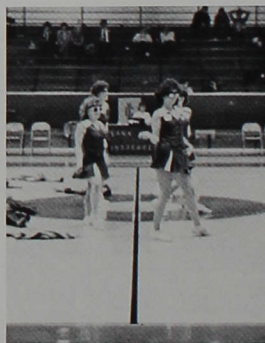

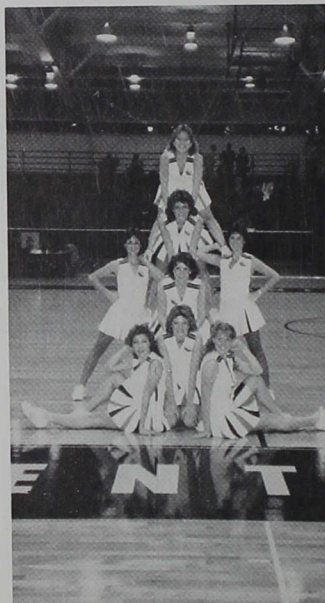

A big part of college was the dorm life. It varied from studying to sharing time with friends.

At Central, one advantage of dorm life was that other students were close by to study with.

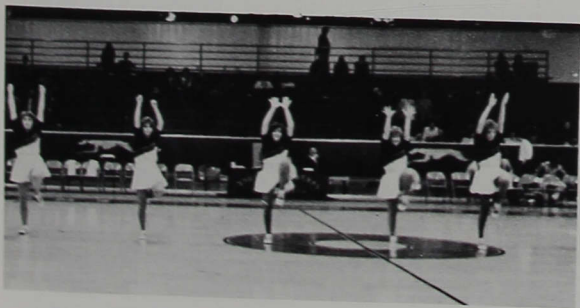

Students weren't always studying though, there were on and off campus activities. To relax, students played cards, pool, or just talked with their friends. The raids were chaotic and the parties were exciting. The creative activities included the Beast Hall Halloween Party, the Luau Party, and the Miss East Hall Beauty Contest. Innovative thought was put into the costumes worn by the Miss East Hall contestants and those at the parties.

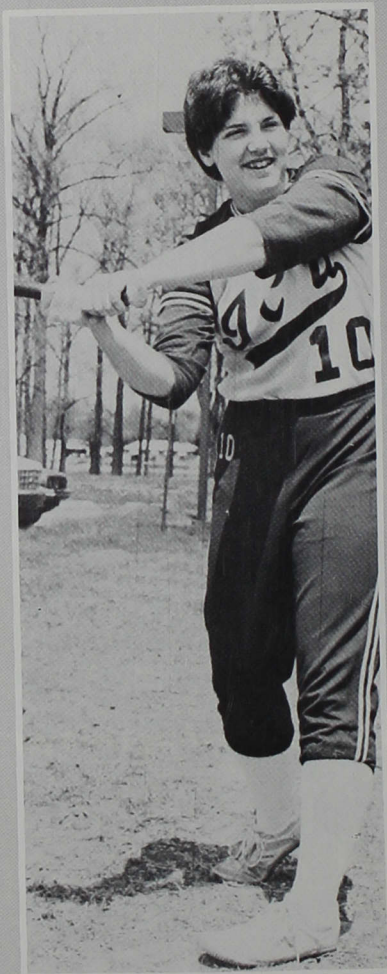

Dorm was fun but it was also a learning experience. It was a chance to learn to live and interrelate with others.

Greyhounds Set Records

Finishing 4-1-1 in the Heartland Collegiate Conference, the 1983 Greyhound football team was able to set many new records this year. Obtaining a record of 6-3-1 came easy to the young team as they tied in the Homecoming game to bring the crowd to their feet. Two of the wins were shut outs against Ferris State and Ashland. Captain Mark Bless was selected to the Kodak All-American 1st Team. Along with this honor Bless was also named in the conference as Most Valuable Defensive Lineman and Most Valuable Player.

Along with Bless the AP Little American Team had Mark Bohannon and Tom Collins as Honorable Mention. Those players selected to the All-Conference team were offensive; 1st team Mark Bohannon kicker, 2nd team, Mike Heymann tight end, Steve Bates, guard, and Captain Greg Scarpone back. On the Defensive team: 1st team; Mark Maze, end; Mark Bless, tackle; Paul Loggan, linebacker; and Tom Collins, back. 2nd team; Greg Schmalfeldt, back. Honorable mentions went to: Jeff Colton, Damon Ridley, Steve Wood, Otto Clements, Dave Vormohr, Greg Mills, Brian Fogg, and Mike Williams.

Honors received at the Fall Sports Banquet were: Most Valuable Defensive Back Tom Collins; Most Valuable Defensive Lineman Mark Bless; Most Valuable Offensive Lineman Mike Williams; Most Valuable Offensive Back Greg Scarpone; Most Valuable Offensive Player Dave Vormohr; Most Valuable Defensive Player Mark Bless. Joe Cathcart received the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award. Mark Bohannon held seven of the fourteen records set by the team this year. They were: Most Field Goals per game, 5, and season, 12, Most Points by Kicking, game 16, season 52, longest field goal in a game, 48 yards, and two individual career records, most field goals, 21, and most points by kicking, 120. Dave Vormohr set the new record most total yards offense, game 344, season 1637, 265 rushing and 1372 passing. Vormohr also broke the 1969 record of most yards passing, 1313, with his record of 1372. He also lacked one completed pas of breaking the 1970 record of 94. Tom Collins set a record of 12 interceptions for the season and 18 for his career.

Though the team was young this year Coach Bless is extremely positive about next year with the experience the team picked up this year.

Ready to take the Evansville Aces head on, the Greyhounds get set for the snap.

Scrambling to get to the ball, the Greyhounds hustle to break the line of the Evansville Aces.

Curt Hughes looks down field to the opponents in hopes of getting a step ahead of the other teams play.

Coach Bless discusses some plays with Greyhounds offensive squad in order to pull off another victory.

Greyhounds Have Trying Season

After posting an 11-17 season, this years team found it hard to even set any goals. The Greyhounds found themselves in several games that came down to the last few determining seconds. Some of these games were in favor while others were not. Along with last years record of 11-15, the game play was also similar this year. The Greyhounds seemed to play right with the opponent during the first period but the second half proved fatal on more than one occasion.

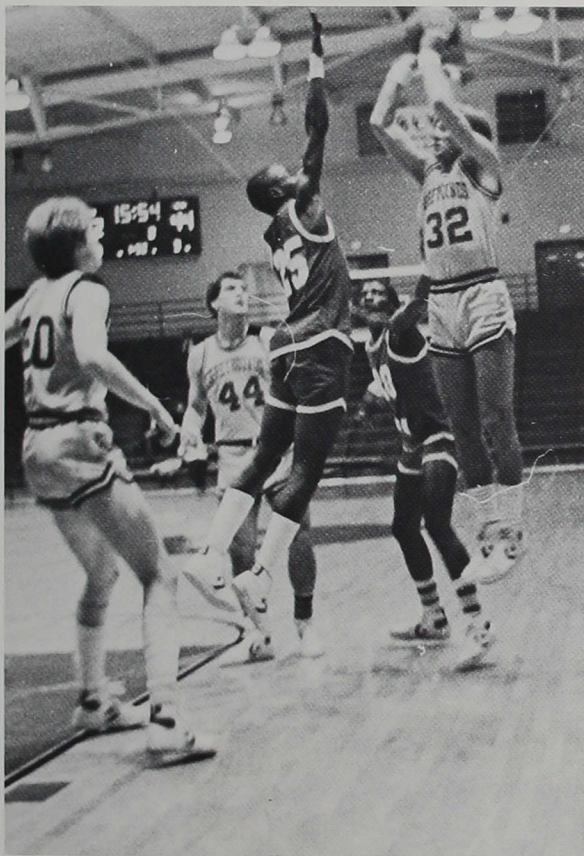

Leading the team in scoring was Jeff Crabtree with 15.7. Mike Yeater followed with 15.0 and Doug Jennings had 14.6. Doug Jennings also is ranked 7th on the All Time Career Scoring Roster. Scott Pedigo lead the team in rebounds with 7.4. Co-Captains for the year were Doug Jennings and Pat Skaggs. Receiving the Mental Attitude Award was Scott Pedigo and Jeff Crabtree was named Most Valuable Player.

Jeff Crabtree, #44, takes the ball to the hoop over these IPFW players. Pat Skaggs, #30, moves into rebounding position.

Taking a jump shot over an IPFW opponent Doug Jennings, #32, helps the Greyhounds with an effort that did not turn out in favor of the Greyhounds in this game.

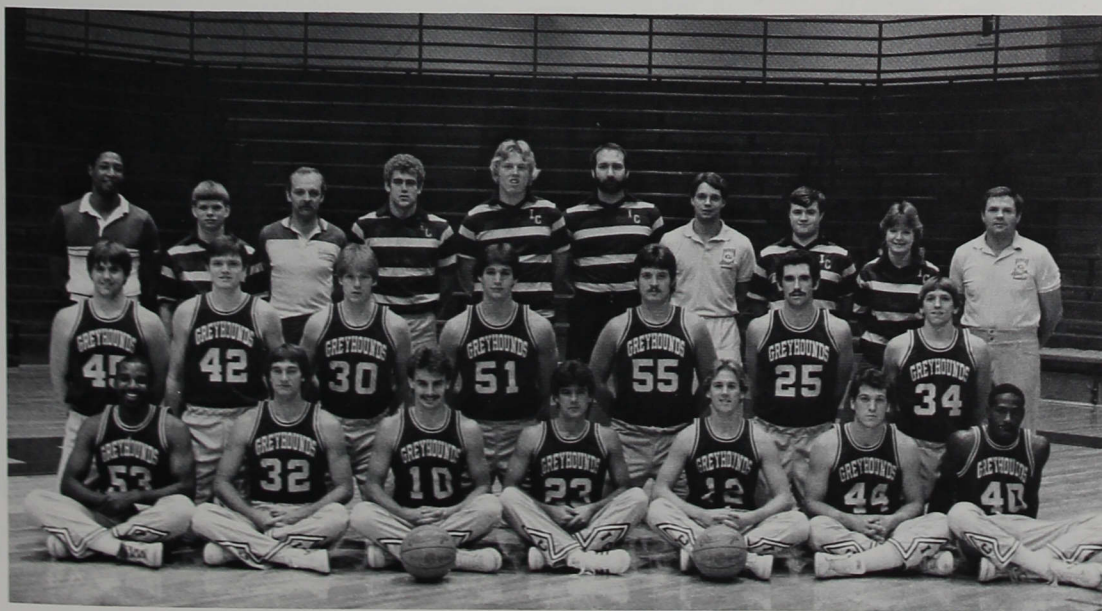

Scott Pedigo, #25, lets this foul shot go as his teammates Pat Skaggs, #30, Larry Koch, #32, and Jeff Crabtree look on with confidence.

The atmosphere that surrounded A Moon for the Misbegotten could be summed up in this following quote:

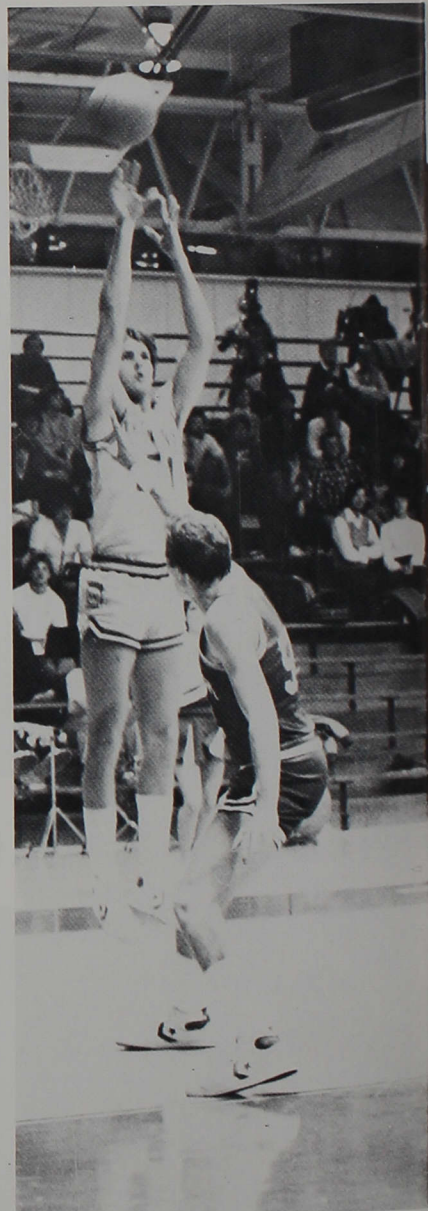

In this world where we find ourselves increasingly submerged in chaos and surrounded by ugly dissension, we planted a seed, watched it blossom into a flower and now we wait anxiously, hoping that it will bring you beauty and inspire you to plant your own flower so that we may all bring peace and beauty to our hungering world.

Dr. Richard A. Williams

Jeff Crabtree lays the ball up as Mike Yeater moves into position to rebound.

Pat Skaggs leaps over these two Wesleyan players to score for the Greyhounds as Scott Pedigo blocks out and Tom Downard looks on with confidence.

Having time to put up this jumper Mike Yeater releases the ball for a sure two points.

Everybody reaches for the loose ball but it is bound to end up in Scott Pedigo's hands.

Coach Bill Keller shows his players a new play in hopes the Greyhounds will take on another win.

Super Season For Lady Greyhounds

The Lady Greyhounds' 20-3 record showed how well the team played together and not as individuals. The team effort also led the ladies to win the 1st Annual Hunnington Winter Classic, to become ranked as high as 14th on the NCAA II polls, to reach second in the Great Lake Valley Conference, be ranked 10th with their win/loss record, and 12th with their 76-60 scoring margin in the NCAA II. Though the ladies were definitely a team they had some outstanding individuals. The evident senior leadership gave the team something to build on. Senior LuAnn Humphrey set a new career scoring record of 1092 pts. although she is closely followed by Junior Debbie Law's 1083 points. LuAnn also set a new career record of 819 rebounds. Senior Kristie Swing set a new career record of 125 and a season record of 45 blocked shots. Senior Laura Foreman had 14 assists for a record in one game and Senior Pam Bright had 84 assists for the season record. Pam also tied her 51.9% field goal percentage with Senior Terri Wiese who set that record in the 1980-81 season. Senior Debbie Cole holds her 1981-82 free throw percentage record of 80.4%. Senior Jenny Denne- mann had an impressive 119 rebounds for the season. And Senior Laura Kreiger played as well as student coached for the Greyhounds helping out Coach Mallender.

Captain Debbie Cole received the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award. LuAnn Humphrey deservedly was named Most Valuable Player. The Great Lakes Valley Conference named LuAnn Humphrey, Debbie Law, and Laura Foreman to the all Conference team. The Hunnington Winter Classic named LuAnn Humphrey to its Most Valuable Player Honor and Debbie Law to its All-Classic team. Coach Mallender commented on his ladies team effort and has a positive attitude about his Lady Greyhounds for next years rebuilding team.

We Made It!

May 19 was the day that made all the dreams a reality in the minds of the 1984 graduates. Baccalaureate/Commencement symbolized an ending, but it also symbolized a new beginning for the group. They all now have the chance to enter a new world — a world not known to any of them. With their college lives behind them, the class of 1984 was eligible for the "working world." A few of the graduates, though, had plans to continue their education. Whether entering the job market, or furthering their education, they had all crossed one stepping stone in their lives — they had finally made it! They had graduated!

With her stack of books, studying is just what future nurse Debbie Holman is doing.

Study, Study, Study!

It is easy to identify a nursing student on the ICU campus. They are the ones surrounded by stacks of books and a syllabus so big it requires a three-ring notebook to hold it. When eating lunch with a nursing student, the conversation almost always turns toward their latest clinical experience. And lastly, they do not own alarm clocks because it seems as soon as they set them it is time to get up!

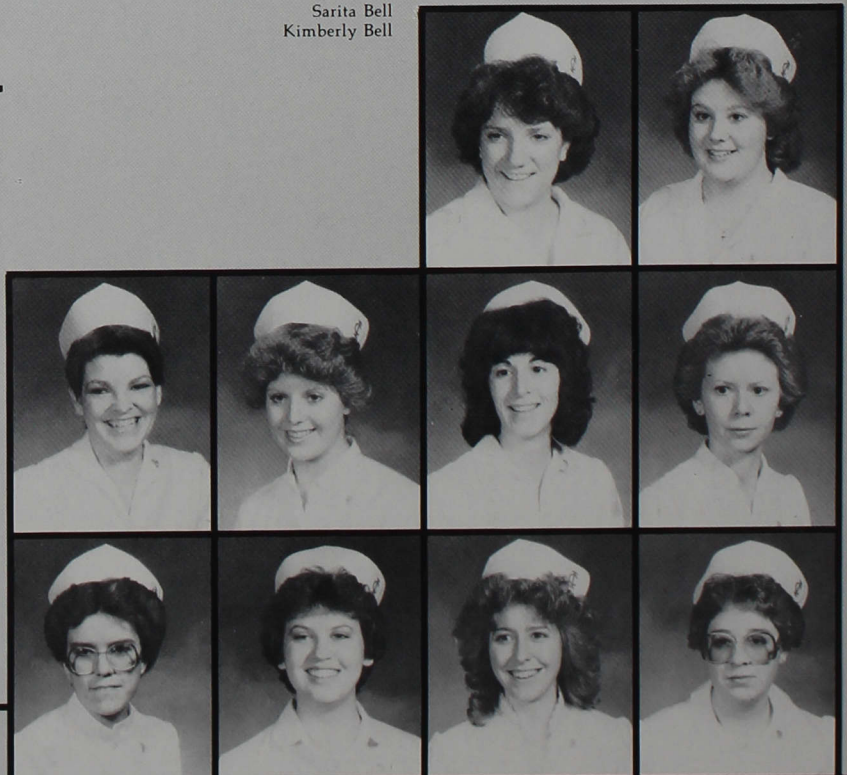

All nursing students endure several difficulties during their academic experience. They listen to lectures and endure clinical, skill practicals, tests, and endless research. But once they receive the diploma and later a passing grade on state board examinations, they are set with a career that offers several opportunities in the field of medicine.

Excited Juniors Look Ahead To '85

Juniors were anxiously anticipating the year's end. After three long years, they were beginning to see the end of the tunnel. The students looked to the future for career opportunities, but were also forced to look at the present to make sure all class requirements would be fulfilled. Juniors used their acquired math skills to keep a running count to their last convo. They also learned to budget their time. Under pressure, two weeks of material could be read in two days and somehow room was still found to squeeze in important social activities.

The Junior year was a time of transition: changing from unloving Sophomores to conscientious Seniors. It was a period to get lives in order and to prepare for the bigger challenge of the future.

Say AHHH! ICU's nurse, Bev Sims, tests her skills on the throat of sophomore Shelia Richardson.

Returning from summer vacation, the Sophomores seemed to convey an "air of confidence." Adjusted to the ways of college life, they had already learned how to juggle time for studying, laundry, jobs, activities, and relationships. Most had declared majors and minors. Students were returning to established friendships and were less apprehensive about getting involved in activities and assuming responsibilities. They were familiar with the set-up of the campus and its proceedings. Change is never easy, but a change in attitude was obvious, and definitely showed what a little experience can do.

Unique and different were the words that best described the Freshman student's year. The class of 1987 went through the motions of ICU's traditional activities such as Brown County Day, the 10 A.M. rest period (convocation), Homecoming, basketball games, and the special rites of Flex. As the students learned what college life was all about, they grew mentally and emotionally in order to cope with the learning situation.

The year was trying in several ways; being away from home and adjusting to dorm life were two tough obstacles to overcome. It definitely was a new challenge and a time to remember for Central's Freshmen.

Anne Peters

1959-1984

On February 17, 1984, the lives of many Indiana Central students were touched by the death of Anne Peters. She was a part of our lives and we are at a loss because she is with us no more.

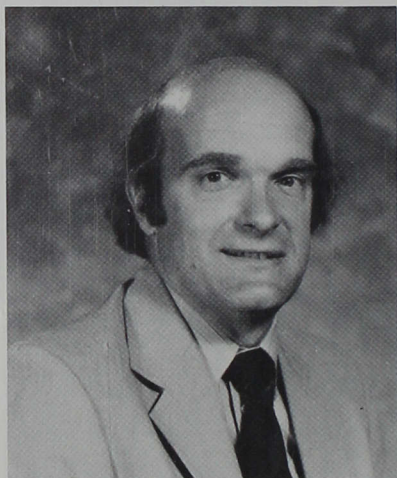

Anne returned to campus in January and fit right in. She never met a stranger. Her heart condition delayed her progress but not her determination. She wanted to fulfill a dream and continue a family tradition by graduating from Indiana Central University.

Yet, Anne knew deep down she was not well and that it was time for another surgery. After falling ill in mid February, Anne was very open and at peace with the probability of her death when she entered surgery. Although mentally her heart was strong, physically it was weak. Anne's heart was worn and now it no longer labors.

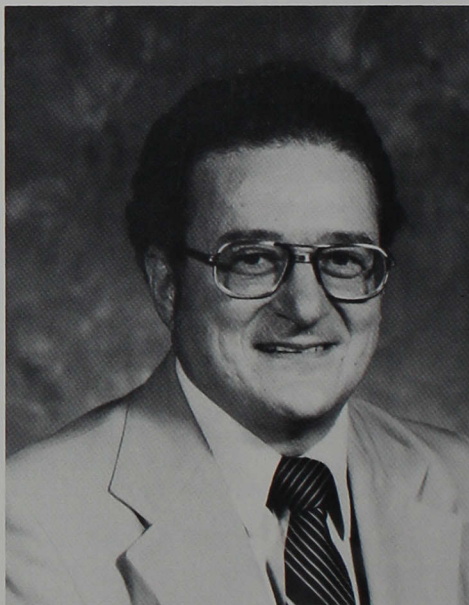

Anne is gone. You won't hear her funny laugh and she won't be asking you to get her this or that. When you sit in the cafeteria, she won't remind you that everyone is good and you won't have to urge her to eat faster.

Although Anne is gone, she touched the lives of many at Indiana Central. Those who knew her greatly benefited from her warm personality. It was a pleasure to have known her. Anne Peters will be missed but, even more, will be remembered.
