BEECH GROVE

Dear Mom and Dad,

School just started. Things are going well so far. I have made a lot of new friends. There are many friendly people here.

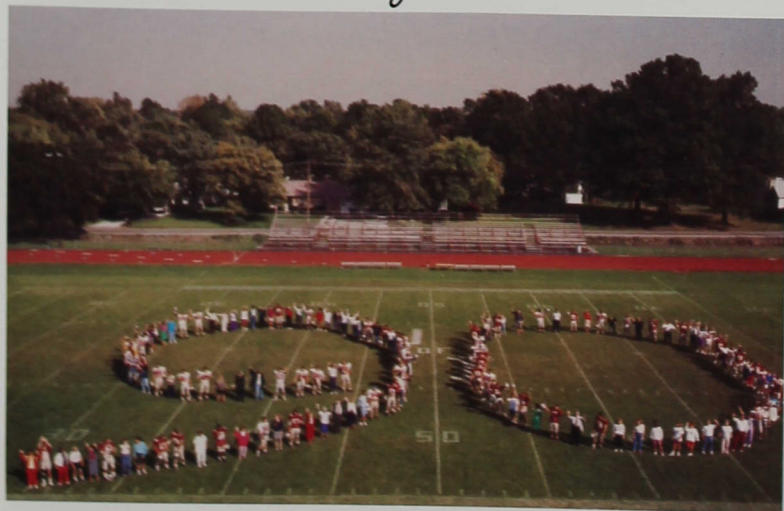

Classes will be interesting; I'm sure.

I almost went into cardiac arrest when I paid for my books. Registration was a pain. Well, better go.

Love,

Me

P.S. How much detergent do I use for a load of clothes? How do I separate my clothes? Can I wash my red sweater with my white turtleneck?

Students, faculty, staff and administrators congregated on the football field to form a 90 in celebration of the 90th birthday of the University of Indianapolis.

1992-93 was a year of celebration for U of I

Classes began September 1. New faces mixed with old swarmed to registration the day before.

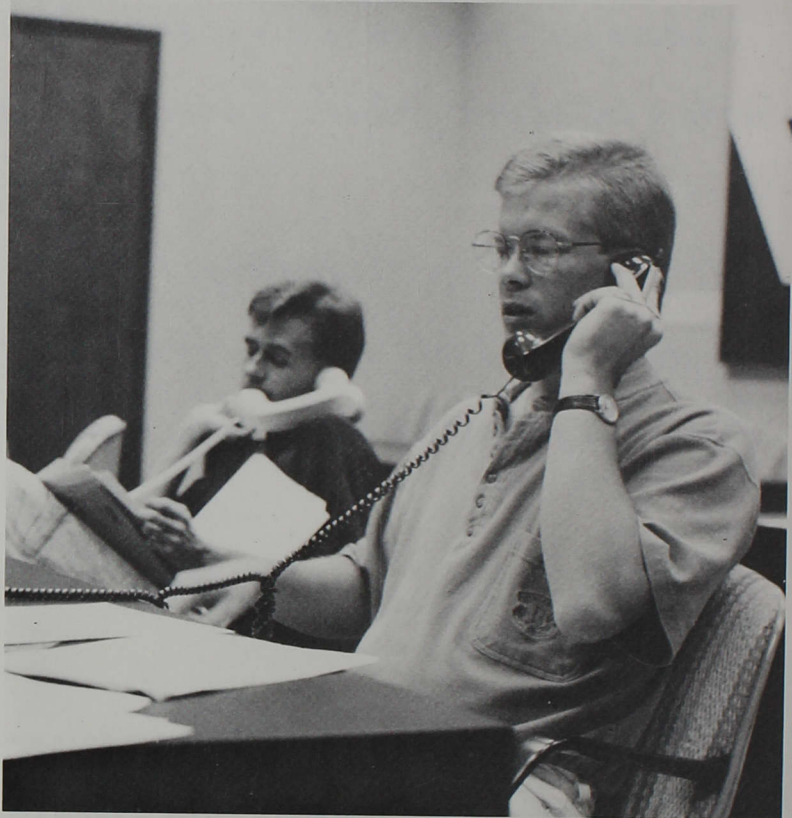

The University of Indianapolis celebrated its 90th birthday in October. Students not only celebrated the 90th birthday, but also homecoming. Senior Paige Balka was crowned homecoming queen.

The theater department presented Witness for the Prosecution.

Miss America came to the campus to talk about AIDS the night that U of I sponsored the world premiere of Airwaves.

Students danced the night away at the annual winter formal.

During the second semester, the intercultural association sponsored coffee hours that featured different cultures and traditions. Juniors Sara Knowles and Brian Hults were crowned homecoming queen and king. Mardi Gras, Cyclerama and the Spring Formal ended the year.

Brown County Day a success for the 41st year

The wind sings through the trees like an old, familiar song; and the arrangement of orange, yellow and red leaves paint pictures across the sky. It's fall. It is time for playing in the leaves, visiting the haunted house and enjoying nature.

October 14, U of I carried out an old tradition, Brown County Day. This year was the 41st annual Brown County Day. Students, faculty and staff took the day off; and headed for a nice, relaxing day at Brown County State Park. The students were able to enjoy one last day of summer weather.

According to a 1987 Student/Reflector, Brown County Day was almost canceled because of the lack of attendance.

An estimated 900 people came to Brown County Day that year. In 1986, only 480 people had attended.

"Brown County Day was great this year. I believe it was the biggest turn out that I have seen. I got a chance to go camping the night before; and it was a blast. It is a must!" said Stacy Parrish.

The day included lunch provided by the dining service and a day full of activities. Some of those activities included the balloon toss, the balloon stomp, a three legged race and a tug-of-war contest between the classes.

For most upperclassmen, Brown County Day is an old tradition; however, for freshmen it is a new experience. "Although I bruised my ankle in the three-legged race, it was nice to miss classes," said Amy White.

Some upperclassmen attended Brown County Day for the first time. Terri Butler did not attend previous Brown County Day because of the bad weather. "My freshman year it rained the night before and the day of the picnic, and last year, it was too cold," said Butler. "I had a great time at Brown County. I got to spend time with my friends and to go horseback riding for the first time, and I had a blast."

Studying is just one part of college life

Many different activities on campus provide a great getaway from studies. Included in these were Halloween celebrations, Brown County Day, CareerFest, football homecoming, basketball homecoming, Cyclorama, the winter formal, the spring formal and Mardi Gras. "There were enough diverse activities to provide fun and enjoyment for everyone this year," said Erick Trueblood, senior.

"Well, for what we have I think they do a good job," said Mike Mackey, senior.

"I think, they're varied enough that not only one type of person or one type of culture can attend and enjoy the activities," said Karen K. Wilson, freshman. "Most are usually fun."

U of I celebrates 90 years of education for service

The week that commemorated the 90th birthday began with a special dinner for the community on Monday, Oct. 5, at the Children's Museum. On Tuesday, a special convocation was presented to the students. Jackie Woods, a local performer, opened convocation. A sketch written

"It (convo) was very amusing. It gave the students an insight as to what the school used to be like and how it has grown and changed," by Dr. Billy Catchings and Jim Ream was performed. "Witnesses" from different time periods were summoned in order to present facts about U of I to a jury. "It was very amusing. It gave the students an insight as to what the school used to be like and how it has grown and changed," said Susan McDonald, sophomore.

Wednesday, The Indianapolis Star published a special tabloid insert featuring U of I. Thursday an old-time carnival captivated many students and local families. Strolling singers singing, bands playing, cyclists riding and artists painting faces were just some of the different attractions in the carnival.

Saturday was the final day of the 90th birthday week. It ended with a picnic in the park that also had more attractions for entertainment.

U of I boasts many sporting events

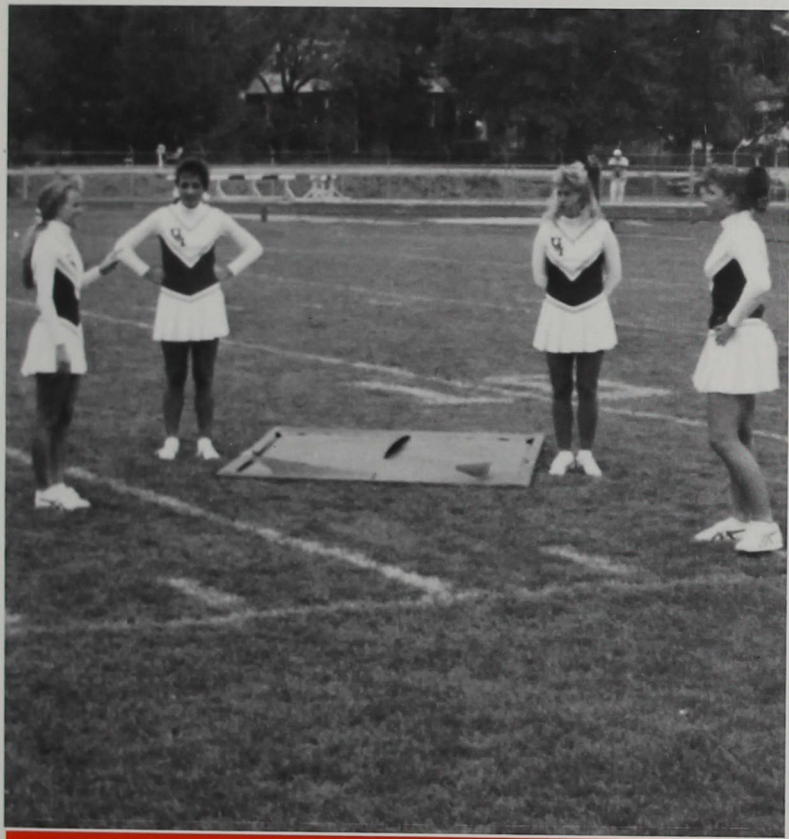

During the school year, sports seasons begin and end. Women's tennis, volleyball, football, soccer, golf, and cross country start the fall season of sports. Basketball and wrestling seasons start toward the end of November. As the basketball teams score the last points of the season, the baseball and softball teams start hitting the home runs. Warm-ups for track and men's tennis begin putting the runners and players back into shape after a long winter.

Sandy Herre, senior, lays in two points for the Lady Greyhounds.

Students enjoy Homecoming activities

The university decided to celebrate football homecoming and its birthday the same week. The week of October 5 began with the crowning of the homecoming queen, senior Paige Balka, and a special dinner for the community at the Children's Museum. ISG sponsored student-olympic games Tuesday night. Wednesday, the males came out for the annual Male Beauty Contest. Thursday, a powder puff football game was the excitement for the day. Friday, ISG sponsored a bonfire to rally the football team to a win. Saturday, began with the annual alumni and student picnic in the parking lot of Ruth Lilly under tents.

During basketball homecoming students watched an IU game and ate pizza in Streets Corner, participated in a slam dunk contest and decorated Nicoson Hall. Junior Sara Knowles and Brian Hults were crowned queen and king during halftime.

Students have many opportunities

Many diverse class offerings provided students with various learning opportunities. In addition to the well-rounded education provided by the core curriculum courses, students were given many opportunities to explore their majors in various field experiences, practica and simulated situations.

In addition to the variety of course offerings, students also found cooperative, caring professors who were more than willing to lend a hand when necessary.

This provided the students with more individual attention and heightened teacher/student relationships.

All in all this provided for a positive learning experience at U of I.

Campus Entertainment provides a study break

After a grueling day of classes, the studies have piled up; and the end is not in sight. Friends come knocking on the door asking "Do you want to go to convo?"

The convocation committee brings many entertainers and lecturers to the campus.

The Theater Department gives several performances of plays.

Student organizations, also, plan many events including Mardi Gras, Cyclorama, Homecoming, Dances and Movies on campus.

The goal of these groups is to provide something for everyone's tastes.

Moving In...

The fun of college life is just beginning

Moving in to the four residence halls was hectic as always. Freshmen arrived a day early in order to get situated and be whisked off to orientation.

The upperclassmen returned the next day. In the midst of getting unpacked and resituated they were able to reacquaint themselves with many familiar faces.

The residence hall staff was on hand to help simplify the moving in process. They answered students' and parents' questions and gave room assignments and information.

Miss America opens world premiere play Airwaves

Miss America 1993 wants to see America's emphasis change from "dying from AIDS" to "living with AIDS." November 12, Leanza Cornett brought her message to U of I.

Airwaves, a comic tragedy about heterosexual AIDS, premiered at Ransburg Auditorium on November 12.

Cornett spoke before the performance and sang "A New Life," as a dedication to people with AIDS. Proceeds from ticket sales were used for direct assistance for persons affected with the HIV virus.

At last month's competition for the crown, Cornett stated that "AIDS affects us all."

She thinks that it is only a matter of time before everyone has a family member or a friend dying from this disease.

Cornett works to educate and assist Americans in their understanding of AIDS. Before becoming Miss America, she was a volunteer working with children with AIDS at Serenity House in Florida.

Now she is traveling the country with an AIDS awareness platform.

Cornett thinks that AIDS is no longer the disease affecting "someone else" but one which will in due time affect virtually everyone's life directly. She spoke to the United States and Soviet navies aboard the USS Whitney upon its return from the Persian Gulf.

She was Miss Jacksonville 1989, Miss Jacksonville University 1991 and Miss Winter Haven 1992 before winning Miss Florida honors in June.

She hopes to become a professional entertainer.

CareerFest '93 opens doors to the future

A diploma in hand is not enough in today's competitive society. Graduates must know how to successfully maneuver in the job market. With this in mind, a committee created CareerFest '93. Set for the first week in February, this week of information and activities was planned to make students and other job seekers aware of what is needed to land a job.

Nationally known career consultant Dr. Howard Figler anchored the February program. Figler, of Sacramento, has written The Complete Job Search Handbook and Liberal Education and Careers Today as well as many other books and articles dealing with career training and job searches. A licensed psychologist, Figler was on campus two days, February 2-3, and spoke at Tuesday convo.

The week included an alumni career fair and various workshops covering topics such as interviewing, dressing for the interview, portfolio development, resumé writing, writing cover letters and many more job hunting related activities.

Committee members included co-chairs Paul Gabonay, career planning and placement, Judy Hasselkus, co-operative education, and Terri Johnson, convocation committee and communications professor. Others included staff members Steve Parsell, career planning and placement, Susan Canady, cooperative education, Barbara Russell, alumni and parent relations, Paul Washington-Lacey, student development and retention, Daryl Gibbs, academic services, and Brad Bishop, computer services.

Faculty members included Donna Stephenson, school of education, Dr. Perry Kea, religion and convocation committee, Dr. Mary Beth Bagg, Modern Languages and convocation director, and Dr. Robert Vernon, college of arts and sciences representative.

Students included Gloria Nelson, ISG and NU*TS representative, Jane Blankman NU*TS representative, Chad Cassinelli, ISG, Vicky Sweeney, ISG, Kevin Conrad, WICR, and Cricket Steele, Student/Reflector.

Alumni committee members included Joe Gossman, U of I Trustee and president of the Alumni Association, Guy Guthrie, MBA Alumni Association, and Rose Arant, Indiana Bell, employer representative.

Answer Andrew Homes and Hope after the Hurricane was the response of Hoosier students to the havoc and devastation unleashed by Hurricane Andrew on homes across a 200 mile stretch of coastal communities in south Louisiana. Teams from Ball State, Butler, IU Northwest (Gary), Purdue, Vincennes and U of I spent their spring break repairing walls, siding, windows, roofs, etc. Teams also worked on two new homes and painted several houses.

The projects were jointly coordinated by the United Methodist Disaster Relief Center and the Roman Catholic Office for Peace and Justice.

Students traveled to Louisiana on God's Nightcrawlers, two buses equipped for sleeping, operated by the South Indiana Conference of the United Methodist Church. They stayed in dorms of the United Methodist Disaster Relief Center in Baldwin, Louisiana. The center is in what was the Sager-Brown School, a former boarding school of the United Methodist Church.

The project was underwritten by a $3,500 grant from the Joseph E. Mertz Memorial Educational Foundation, Inc. and $500 from the Christian Life Committee of ISG.

The U of I students attending: Julie Baker, Tom Beatley, Walter Braunsdorf, Chris Carpenter, Kurt Freeman, Todd Jones, Tara Lawhead, Corey Long, Mary Kathleen O'Haver, Chuck Porter, Betsy Ransom, Matthew Sundell, Karen Wilson and Bonnie Ziesmer. Also representing U of I were University Chaplain John A. Young and Loman and Enid Young. (Pictured are Julie Baker, left, and Bonnie Ziesmer on the long bus ride home.)

King's legacy celebrated

The week of January 18, U of I celebrated the life and legacy of Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., with three events.

On Monday, Father Boniface Hardin, president of Martin University, spoke to a group of students. Hardin used his time to sound a warning, "He who lives by the sword, shall die by the sword." According to Hardin, humanity must end injustice or expect an increase in violence.

Bishop Woodie White's message at Tuesday's convocation was that "We must unlearn those lessons; those lessons which have sought to divide us."

White, who co-authored the book Racial Transition in the Church, likened the world to his mother's vegetable soup.

Each part contributes because of its uniqueness and not in spite of it according to White. White believes that King's legacy is to tell us to look for our common ground.

The Sisters of Thunder performed on Wednesday night. The event was called Awake, Aware, Arise. The music was accompanied by a percussionist. The group challenged people to make a change in themselves first so that a change can be made in the world.

David Koresh claims to be Lamb of God

David Koresh, dubbed by the news media as the "Whacko in Waco," claimed to be the Lamb of God and Christ. He and his followers, the Branch Davidians, took refuge in a heavily armed compound in Waco, Texas, to await the end of the world.

Koresh brainwashed his followers into laying down their lives for him. Wives and husbands were kept apart, but Koresh was allowed to have as many wives as he desired.

Many of them were not much older than 11 or 12 years old. Reports from former members of Koresh's cult claim that young girls were given Stars of David symbolizing sexual readiness.

Koresh's antics frightened FBI officials. On February 28, they charged the compound. Four federal agents and at least 10 cult members were killed. In addition, 12 FBI members were wounded. Following this attack, Koresh freed 21 children and two elderly women. He and the rest remained inside awaiting instructions from God.

This setback caused the FBI to proceed with caution. The final showdown came on April 19. Koresh did not surrender quietly. Instead he and his followers went down in a fiery inferno. Eighty-six people were killed instantly including Koresh. The world itself did not end, but Koresh's hell on earth was finally over.

Bomb rocks World Trade Center

New York City rocked February 26, when the World Trade Center was bombed. Five people were killed instantly.

Investigators believe that the blast was a terrorist car bomb in the parking area under the building. While suspects were being held; no convictions had been made by publication date.

Bill Clinton wins the presidential race

Democratic presidential candidate Bill Clinton and his running mate Al Gore were elected to the presidency. The Democratic team beat out Republicans George Bush and Dan Quayle and independent candidate Ross Perot.

Clinton's campaign focused on health care reform and no new taxes on the middle class. The Republican's took the issue of family values to the podium. Texas businessman Perot focused on the economy.

University mourns loss of Coach Mallender

"This season is what he lived for, he dedicated his life to this program. This is his team and he is why we're together. We know he is still watching us," —Maravilla.

The University of Indianapolis mourned the death of longtime women's basketball coach Chuck Mallender. Mallender died February 22 at Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis following a brief bout with lung cancer. Two years ago he had undergone surgery for throat cancer.

The funeral service for the 66-year-old Mallender was February 25 at the Calvary Lutheran Church in Indianapolis. Mallender is survived by his wife, Tina, sons, Charles II and Matthew, daughters, Katherine, Elaine, Anna and Linda, and seven grandchildren.

Mallender coached 11 seasons at Indianapolis, compiling a 179-105 record (.630) to become the "winningest" coach in Lady Greyhound women's basketball history. Mallender was named Great Lakes Valley Conference Coach of the Year in 1987-88 after leading Indianapolis to a 22-5 record. In 1988, Mallender became the only women's basketball coach in university history to reach the 100-win mark.

In 1982-83, Mallender made his debut at Indianapolis with an 18-6 overall record. He guided the Lady Greyhounds into the NCAA II top 20 in 1983-84, finishing the season with a 20-3 record. Mallender followed that effort with seasons of 17-8 and 18-8. He guided the Lady Greyhounds to nine winning seasons during his impressive tenure, including this last 19-3 campaign and a #12 ranking in the NCAA II poll.

Graduate assistant coach Mary Maravilla served as interim coach of the Lady Greyhounds for the rest of the season. The 23-year-old Maravilla played for Mallender from 1987 to 1991, before serving as an assistant coach for the past two seasons.

"This season is what he lived for; he dedicated his life to this program. This is his team and he is why we're together. We know he is still watching us," said Maravilla.

Football schedule very cruel to 'Hounds

The 1992 'Hound football season will always be remembered as, "what could have been." The 'Hounds finished 1-8-1 overall and in the MIFC. The schedule was very cruel to the 'Hounds.

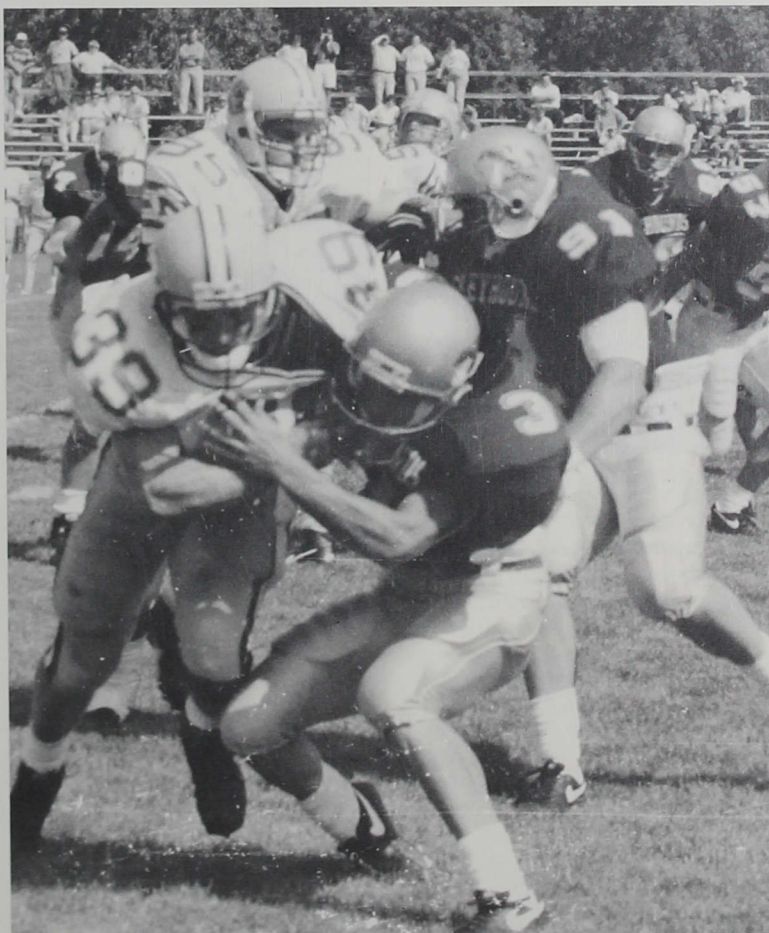

After losing a very close game in the opener to Wayne State, the 'Hounds returned to Key Stadium and tromped the Wildcats of Northern Michigan. This would be the only joy of victory for the 'Hounds. A tie would follow the next week and the 'Hounds would lose seven straight. However, in each game, if a break here or there had gone the 'Hounds' way, the record would not have been so disappointing.

Playing four teams that were ranked in the top twenty at some point of the year in four consecutive weeks, told the whole picture for the football season, always on the losing side. Even though the team did not have a great year on the scoreboard, many 'Hounds however did enjoy some very impressive seasons.

Second-team All-MIFC selection and U of I's defensive MVP, Johnnie Stewart, tied the conference record with seven interceptions in one season. This was also good for 12th nationally in NCAA Division II. The four-year letter winner finished second on the team in tackles with 79 and 202 in his career. Stewart's 11 career interceptions is sixth on the school's all-time list.

Another senior capped off his career with a flash. Josh Werling took home four awards at the annual fall banquet. Werling led the 'Hounds with 30 receptions for 421 yards, good for seventh in MIFC. The three-year starter finishes with 63 catches for 914 yards. Four catches went for touchdowns. Werling was awarded the offensive MVP, the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude award, the offensive captain and the team's most valuable receiver.

Two other seniors enjoyed great seasons, not only on the field but in the books. Senior cornerback Jerrod Feldman and senior quarterback Greg Sassmannshausen were named to the MIFC All-Academic Team. Feldman, who made 41 tackles, a QB sack, one interception, and a team-high six pass breakups, sports an 3.708 grade point average, majoring in biology and chemistry.

Sass, starter at QB, finished 10th in the conference in total offense (108.9) and passing efficiency (88.2). A biology major, Sass sports a G.P.A. at 3.907. Sass was accepted into the Indiana University Medical School.

Also making the team was junior outside linebacker/defensive back, Tim Bless. Other 'Hound players to win awards include receiving honorable mention all-conference were U of I's co-Offensive Linemen of the Year Todd Gecewicz and Brian Hults, Greyhound Special Teams MVP Mike Gillock for kickoff returns and Defensive End Pat Spray.

Senior defensive end Marc Johnson took home the Most Valuable Defensive Lineman; junior Brad Roberts, the Most Valuable Linebacker; and sophomore Jason Todd, Most Valuable Offensive Back. Senior inside linebacker Gary McCamey was named the 1992 defensive captain.

Team kicks its way to the top in local tournaments

Coach Mike Moore's Greyhound soccer team accomplished feats that no other U of I soccer team has. The 1992 squad brought home two tournament championships. U of I was victorious in the Anderson Invitational, at Anderson University, and in the Davis Road Cup hosted by Ashland University in Ohio.

The tournament at Ashland showed what the young Greyhounds were capable of doing. After defeating a very tough Lincoln Memorial University team in the tournament's first game, the Greyhounds were pitted against the host, Ashland University. The Greyhounds fought off a 3-1 deficit to eventually tie the game late in the second half. The score remained knotted at 3-3 through two overtimes. The Greyhounds brought home the championship after connecting on all penalty kicks while holding Ashland scoreless during the penalty kick session.

Although the regular season record did not read as the team wished, the Greyhounds had a good year. Overall the team was 8-8 while going 8-7 through the regular season. 1992 marked the third straight year that eight wins have been accomplished.

The future looks to be brighter than ever. The 1992 squad bid farewell to only four seniors. This year's squad was comprised of nine true freshmen. Three other players were seeing their first year of collegiate soccer.

At the Fall Sports Banquet, the freshmen stole the show. Rich Miotke and Todd Braun were named to the Great Lakes Valley Conference All-Conference team. Miotke was also voted as team M.V.P. Sophomore Blaine Steimel and senior Najmun Amin were named to the conference All-Academic team. Steimel was voted team captain, and junior Aaron Rinehart was named Kelso M. Reid Mental Attitude Award winner.

Ladies good season in spite of losses

Lesly Miller goes for the serving ace during a home match. Miller was second in kills.

The volleyball ladies have completed their most successful season in a years (15-13, 5-4 in the conference). The team hosted Kentucky State for its last home game, last conference game, and senior night to boot. Annihilation is the only word that can describe that game which was totally over in only 45 minutes. Scores were 15-2, 15-3 and 15-3.

"I feel that we actually played pretty well, but just not well enough to win," said Coach Willey. According to Willey, her team lost because of a number of setting errors and a total inconsistency in serving. "As a whole, we either have an awesome serving game or we absolutely stink in serves. There is no in between with us," said Willey.

The trio honored for senior night were Paige Balka, Tricia Neely and Lynne Suroviak.

Golf

Golf team tees to the top for the season

The men's golf team, led by Coach Ken Partridge, finished the fall season with an impressive 148-38 record that included five tournament championships. The sweetest tournament victory came at the 10-team Great Lakes Valley Tournament as the Greyhounds won the GLVC for the sixth straight time by defeating second place Lewis University by 11 strokes at the 54-hole Purdue South Golf Course.

At the end of the first day, the Greyhounds were trailing Lewis and Ashland University by five strokes. Senior Sam Thompson led Indianapolis the first day with a three over par 74.

Also on that first day of play, senior Scott Richardson and freshman Chad Hilderbrand shot a 77, while sophomore Barry Dennett and freshman Jason Christy rounded out the top five by chipping in 80 apiece.

On the second day, Sam Thompson shot an impressive one over par 72 to give him a fourth place finish overall and all-conference honors in the GLVC. Chad Hilderbrand also helped Indianapolis on the second day by shooting a one over par 72 to give him a fifth place finish and all-conference honors. Scott Richardson shot a sizzling even par 71 to place him sixth overall.

Barry Dennett tied for 14th place by chipping in a score of a 74 for the Greyhounds and Jason Christy rounded out the top five with a score of a 77 that tied him for 18th place out of 50 golfers.

"Chad and Jason are both very talented and they may be the best pair of freshmen ever to play at U of I," said Partridge.

Partridge was also named GLVC "Coach of the Year" for the sixth straight time and the seventh time in his career.

He said, "I am extremely pleased with our team because they played like champions and finished very strong. Each conference championship is a little bit sweeter because the opposition is trying that much harder to knock us from

Lady Golfers do well in NCAA play

The women's golf team, led by coach Larry Bledsoe, finished its fall season with a 28-43 record, two tournament championships and two second place finishes. The Lady Greyhounds had 15 outstanding wins against NCAA Division I teams, eight wins against NCAA Division II teams, and five wins against NCAA Division III teams.

The most impressive victory came at the five-team Franklin Invitational where the Lady Greyhounds outdistanced second place Saint Joseph's College by 86 strokes. Senior Angie Baldini captured medalist honors with an 82 that included an impressive 38 on the front nine. Junior Abby Kaufman finished second behind Baldini with an 85 and freshman Dawn Frisinger chipped in a 90 for the Lady Greyhounds to finish fourth. Senior Michelle Middleton and sophomore Michelle Swing also shot well as they tied for fifth place with 91 apiece.

The women's golf team also finished the fall season with a strong showing as they finished with second place honors at the seven-team Bowling Green Invitational. The Lady Greyhounds defeated third place Ferris State University for the first time last fall by 22 strokes and Indianapolis also defeated NCAA Division I Cincinnati and Dayton.

Senior standout Angie Baldini paced the Lady Greyhounds with a second place finish in the medalist race with outstanding rounds of 80 and 84. Sophomore sensation Michelle Swing finished fourth with rounds of 82 and 86, freshman Dawn Frisinger finished sixth with rounds of 88 and 84, junior Abby Kaufman ended up in a tie for eighth place with rounds of 88 and 87, and senior Michelle Middleton chipped in scores of 91 and 88 to finish in 14th place. The Lady Greyhounds wrapped up the fall season with pride by shooting their best team round of the year with a 338 at the Bowling Green Invitational.

Basketball

They kept on going strong

What a year it has been for the Lady Greyhounds! Extreme ups and downs made it a season to remember.

This season's Ladies went 24-4 and made their first NCAA II appearance, they also placed 13th in the NCAA II poll. They won the Great Lakes Valley for the first time in the school's history and earned a national ranking of 12th. The year had its share of downs though, with the loss of Coach Chuck Mallender to cancer; in February. However, Mallender was named GLVC Coach of the Year and was a finalist for the Converse National Coach of the Year. But the team members pulled together to go on in his memory. Interim Coach Mary Maravilla took the Lady Greyhounds to the NCAA II Tournament.

Courtney Sands took second place in Indianapolis career scoring and first place in Indianapolis career rebounds leaders and was named GLVC Player of the Year. Lori Morgan holds fourth in career scoring and third in career rebounds and was named to the first team All-GLVC. Sandy Herre was Academic All-Region. Sophomore Melissa Graham was named to the second team All-GLVC. Mary Maravilla was sixth in career scoring.

Life is always handing us change, and this was no exception for the men's basketball team.

The team gained a new coach, Coach Royce Waltman, and a new style. Senior Doug Stahly became the first U of I player in two years to receive the GLVC Player of the Week, after the Kentucky Wesleyan game. This win also broke the school record of GLVC victories which is now set at 8. The Greyhounds also set a new school mark with four GLVC road wins. The team finished 13-14 overall.

Swimming & Diving

The sweet smell of competition

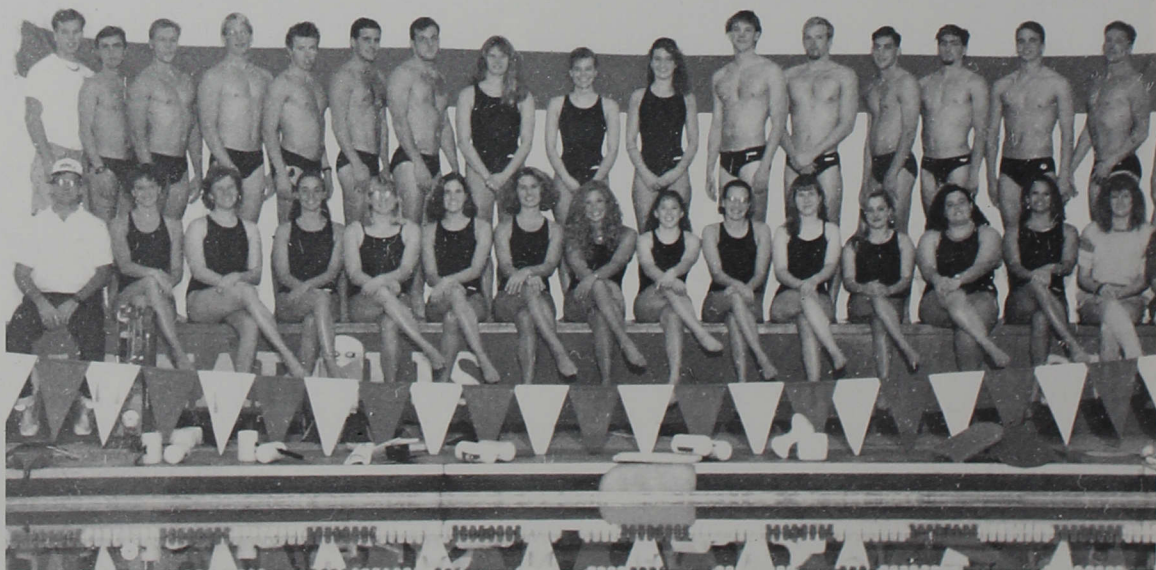

The women's team finished 21st at the NCAA II National Championships. The four Lady Greyhounds who performed the best included Nicoles Rives, sophomore. She was a 3 time All-American in the 200, 500, 1650 freestyle events. Kristi Hamilton, junior, achieved another All-American in the 200 fly to become a four time All-American, 3 from 1992. Sara Wallace, freshman. She was the first female Lady Greyhound to qualify as a freshman and missed all-American by 1 point in 3 meter diving; her performance was outstanding. Carrie Dragoo finished 19th in 1 meter and 22nd on 3 meter at the national championships. This makes seven Indianapolis Lady All-Americans that have earned 12 All-American titles since 1988.

The men have had three All-Americans since 1985. The 1993 season finished fantastically with 19 new school records and four ladies qualifying for the NCAA's. There were five men less than 1 second from NCAA cuts and two relays. There are only four seniors graduating, 50 free and 5 time relay school record setter John Dils, 200 and 500 free school record holder Andre Vera, sprint specialist Bill McCall, and diver Tarik Albert.

The softball team finished the season with an overall record of 27-16-1 with a conference record of 10-3. Two players made the all conference team. Tricia Neely was pitcher/center field and Taunya Linton played third base. The team placed fourth in the conference. Tricia Neely was named Most Valuable Player. Mental Attitude award went to Taunya Linton. Graduating senior Tricia Neely made all conference all four years and was named Player of the Year her freshman and junior years. This year her batting average was .320, with 25 RBI. Neely's pitching ERA was 1.697. Taunya Linton's batting average was .392. Tasha Lewis had a pitching ERA of 0.69.

The baseball team won 18 and lost 24 in overall play. The 'Hounds had 11 wins at home and 7 in conference. Jeff Montfort was seventh in the country in strike outs. Brian Eaker and Dwayne Huskey made the second all conference team. Eaker also earned 24 RBI. Scott Miller was 25 out of 27 in stolen bases. Sean Bledsoe's batting average was the team best at .350 and Ryan Ade pitching ERA was 1.292. Quinten Staker ranked eighth in the country in being hard to strike out. The team had one of its most difficult years of conference play. They lost 5 out of 8 by a run from a lead going in the last two innings. "Playing Purdue at Purdue, we lost 8-7 in 10 innings. We were down until the ninth inning when we took the lead. Purdue tied in the 10th inning and then took the lead to win," said Coach Mark Peterson. The weather also affected practice and playing time for the team. The season was wetter than normal making getting practice time more difficult.

Lady Greyhounds finish second in GLVC

The lady netters, led by coach Dawn Patel, finished the fall season with an impressive 12-1 record and a 7-1 mark in the conference.

The women's tennis team fell short of three consecutive titles as they placed second in the nine-team Great lakes Valley Conference Tournament at the Indianapolis Sports Center.

St. Joseph's College finished first with 31 points, while Indianapolis collected 21 points for second place honors.

"St. Joe simply outplayed us! Their momentum and our inconsistent play really hurt us down the stretch," said Coach Patel.

"We had a great season and the girls have nothing to be ashamed of," she added. "We have a fairly young team with five out of the top six singles returning which should make us a top contender for the GLVC title next season."

Junior Amy Roehling led the Lady Greyhounds with a conference championship at #6 singles, where she beat Bellarmine College in a thrilling third-set tiebreaker.

She also was conference champion at #3 doubles where she teamed up with freshman Shelly Kindig.

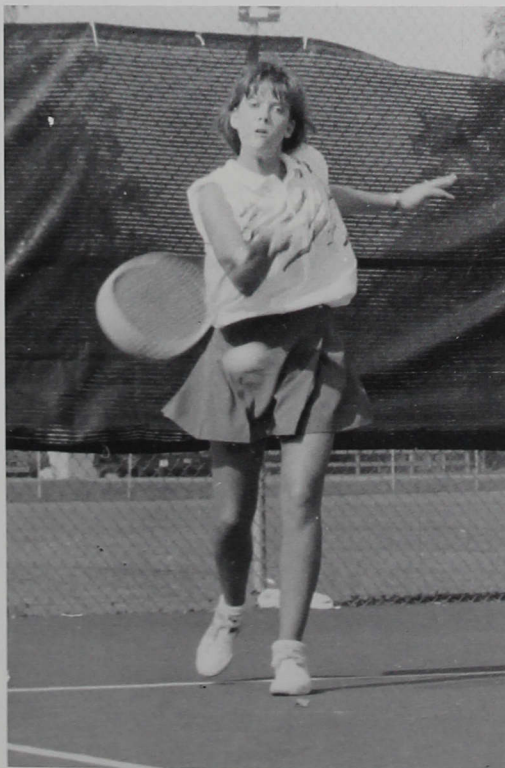

Roehling and Kindig both earned all GLVC honors with their championships.

The Lady Greyhound runner-up finishers included junior Kathy Redmond at #1 singles and doubles, senior Traci Griffith at #2 singles and doubles, junior Lisa Precourt at #3 singles and #2 doubles, freshman Shelly Kindig at #5 singles, and sophomore Jacquie Duvall at #1 doubles.

Senior Traci Griffith was named the team captain, junior Kathy Redmond was named team MVP and the Kelso Reid Mental Attitude Award Winner, and freshman Shelly Kindig led Indianapolis with a sensational 14-2 singles record.

Wind up, wind out, wind down

Dear Mom and Dad,

School is almost over. Many of my friends graduated last week, but I have to stay for Flex. I'm taking a class called the Indianapolis Experience. One of my friends is taking problem solving. I hate to leave all my friends for the summer, but most will be coming back in the Fall, so it will only be three months.

Well, I better work on my project.

*Love,
Me*

P.S. I'm going to need a U-haul to get everything home.

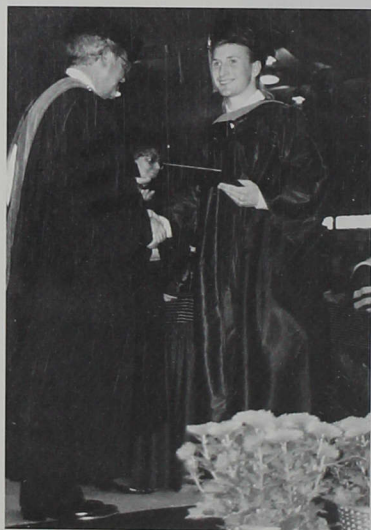

Professor Earl Snellenberger dances with Mrs. Kathryn Schaad during the Carnaval Do Brazil International Dinner.

A 1950s graduation class marches toward the gymnasium, where they would be graduated.

Graduation: end & beginning

President G. Benjamin Lantz, Jr., congratulates Matt Griner upon completion of his senior year. Griner received a Bachelor of Science degree.

Robert and Sheri Rohrer pose together after receiving their diplomas. They both graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree.

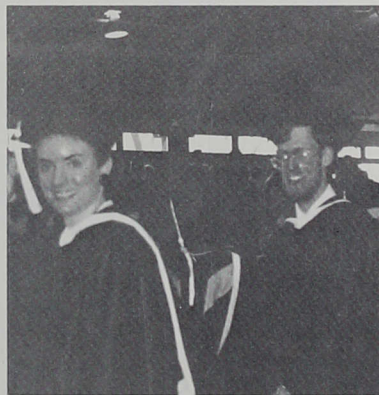

Class President Chad Cassinelli addresses the graduating class of 1993. Cassinelli graduated with a Bachelor of Science.

Krista Greenberg and Mike Mackey stand while waiting for the rest of the graduating class to find their seats, so that the ceremony can begin.

of a long,
strange trip

Flex fun & educational

George Callahan scrutinizes the playing board, while Mrs. Terri Johnson and Dr. Bob Vernon try to guess what students will propose next.

Two students who spent Flex in Europe view masterpieces of art in one of the museums visited.

Students take a well-earned rest around the fountain during a European Flex trip taught by Dr. Mary Beth Bagg, Modern Languages, and Professor Gloria Webster, Nursing.

Stacey Criss and Kristi Lehman plan their next point of attack before reporting back to their groups.

Students watch as a wooden shoemaker creates a pair of the trademark Dutch footwear during their Flex trip.

Donna McComas and Sherry Dobbs contemplate their next move during the Indianapolis Experience simulation game involving the growth and development of Indianapolis. The game is called Indy 2000.

Longer, stranger trips

The combined years of service to the university totals 114 years. Retirees include:

*Junior Allen
Martha Ann Driscoll
Alice Friman
Ellen Robbins Nuel Wooden*

Dr. Gene Sease congratulates Nuel Wooden on his recent retirement from full-time teaching to Director of Institutional Research.

Fun along the way

The magician at Mardi Gras performs another trick.

Danielle Cutts and Stu Griner practice softball before the summer season starts.

Students participate in the pizza eating contest during homecoming. Mary Ann Cowan was the mediator.

Room for diversity

Above: A man in a traditional Native American costume dances at the International Dinner. Students were exposed to a variety of traditional foods, dances and costumes.

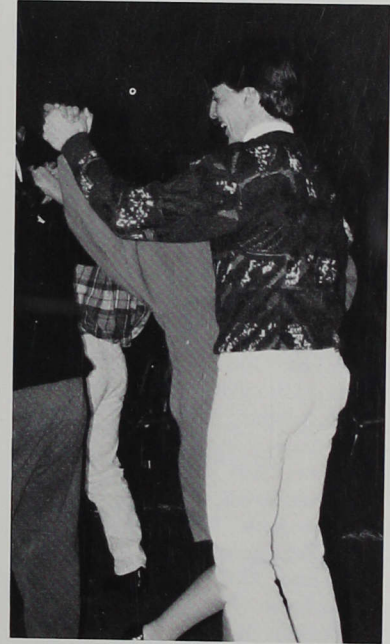

Right: Mimi Chase, Director of International Programs, dances at the Taiwan Coffee Hour. The Intercultural Association sponsored a variety of coffee hours throughout the second semester. Each one featured a different country and included traditional dances, foods and speeches by students.

Right: Jenni Clarkson asks Dr. Mary Beth Bagg a question at the Carnaval Do Brazil International Dinner. Traditional Brazilian foods were served and a band performed Brazilian music for the crowd to dance to.

Learning the fun way

Left: Several people dressed in Native American costumes were featured at the International Dinner. The university sponsors two dinners, one each semester. The Native American Dinner was first semester.

Herre named Esch Scholar

Senior Sondra J. Herre was named the 1992-93 Esch Scholar. Herre, from Remington, an English education major whose g.p.a. is almost a perfect 4.0, also served as co-captain and point guard for the women's basketball team.

Named to the Great Lakes Valley Conference All-Academic Team, Herre last year won the University's Female Student Athlete of the Year Award.

Long active in Circle K, she served as governor of the Indiana District this year. A four-year residential assistant in Cravens Hall, Herre has also been a Presidential Assistant and a Greyhound Ambassador. She has earned membership in numerous honorary societies and made the Dean's List all four years.

Her junior year, she won the Indianapolis Phi Beta Kappa scholarship in competition with representatives of other city-area colleges and universities. A graduate of Benton Central High School in Oxford, Herre won the Indiana High School Athletic Association's Mental Attitude Award.

Named in honor of Dr. I. Lynd Esch, President of the University from 1945 to 1970, the award is the highest academic and overall achievement award granted by the University, recognizing a senior who has excelled both academically and in service to the University.

Professor Alice Friman named Teacher of the Year

Professor Alice Friman, English department, has enthralled and inspired hundreds of U of I English students in freshman composition, American literature, creative writing and mythology since 1974.

Professor Alice Friman shares her winning smile from an earlier Oracle.

Professors Williams, Johnson finalists

One of the measures of their admiration and appreciation was by honoring her as the 1993 Teacher of the Year.

Her retirement at the end of the semester brought tears of both joy and sorrow—sorrow at the loss of a wonderful teacher to the University community and joy at her opportunity to do what she likes best, write more poetry.

Friman, named a "state treasure" by Arts Indiana in 1989, has published numerous poems in many prestigious publications around the United States. She also has a list of awards that includes finalist honors in national poetry competitions.

She also is used to awards for her teaching, having been a 1987 bronze medalist in the Professor of the Year national competition sponsored by the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education in Washington, D.C.

The teacher of the year award is the result of nominations by students, alumni and other faculty as well as a review by a special committee of the professor's syllabi, in-class work, and dossier.

Finalists for the award this year included Professor Dennis Williams, Behavioral Sciences, and Professor Terri Johnson, Communications. Both Williams and Johnson expressed their thanks for the award by noting how much of an honor it was to be considered concurrently with Professor Friman whose enthusiasm and ability are legendary on the campus.

The Oracle staff met every day over flex to finish the yearbook. The entire book was finished by May 28, 1993. This last flex has been a long, strange trip. We spent two nights in the Oracle office working on the yearbook. One was part of a 32 hour marathon to finish the last 30 pages.

This year's staff has been one of the best, since I've been here. After working four years on the yearbook, I have gained skills and experience that I would not have gained anywhere else on campus.

The job would have been a lot harder without the help of many people

I would like to thank the following contributors: Lana Osterman, Rev. John Young, Judy Amick, Dr. Fred Hill, Dr. Mary Beth Bagg, Bill Bright, Joe Gentry, Sister Mary Lucien, Kathy Koval, Dr. William Dynes, Dr. Herb Cassel, Karen Gingerich, Perry Mann, Erik Schwarz, Danielle Cutts, Lisa McNutt, Greg Smith, Steve Parsell, Rauf Khalid, Butch Fennema, all the coaches, Alice Friman, Aaron Rinehart, Dan Raby, Chuck Johnson, Kristi Lehman, Fred Smith, Theater Department, Academic Services, Diane Metheny, Dr. Phillip Young, Tracy Dearduff and John Johnson.

I would like to thank our men, Will Roleson and Anesh Jagtiani, who put up with the long hours that Mary and I put in.

The 1992-93 yearbook of the University of Indianapolis was printed by Taylor Publishing in Dallas, Texas. The representative was Lance Baker.

Type faces used were Palatino, Hobo, Freestyle Script and Zaph Chancery.

We would like to thank Mrs. Johnson for all of her help. She was a big help in bringing this whole book together.

The Oracle is a member of the Indiana Collegiate Press Association.

Thanks again to all who helped!

Dear Mom and Dad:

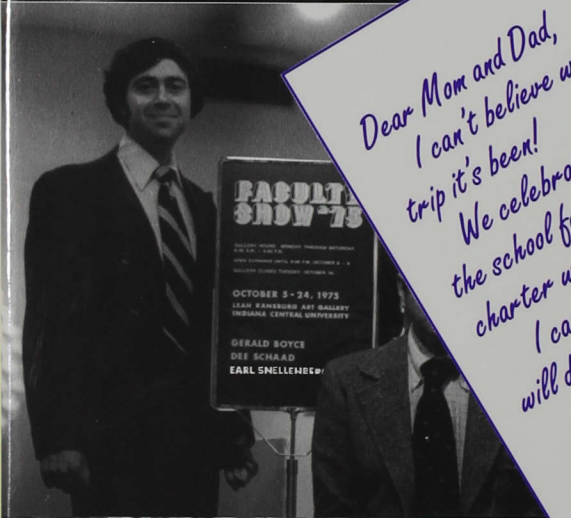

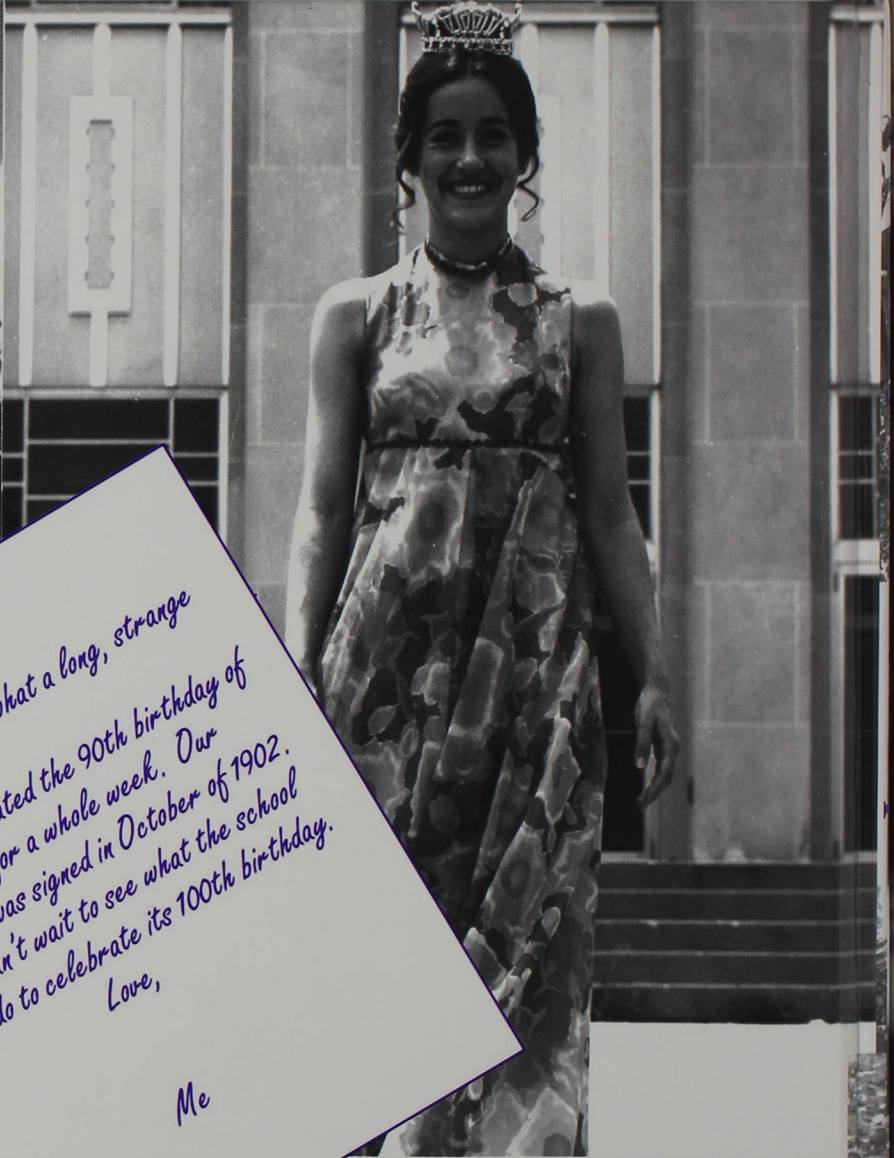

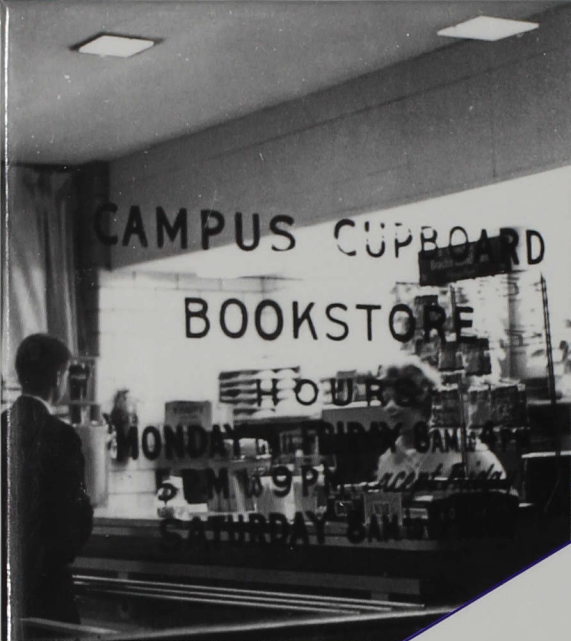

I can't believe what I've learned this year. A lot of ups and downs have given me a chance to grow. My friends and I are planning a trip this summer.

We might go canoeing or hiking. I have a friend that owns a canoe rental. I bet this trip will not be a long strange trip like this school year.

Love,

Dear Mom and Dad,
 I can't believe what a long, strange trip it's been!
 We celebrated the 90th birthday of the school for a whole week. Our charter was signed in October of 1902.
 I can't wait to see what the school will do to celebrate its 100th birthday.

Love,

Me
