GENERAL EDUCATION CORE (to be completed only if you want to change your general education core)

I want to change my general education core requirements to the new 2023/2024 requirements.

I understand that this change will reduce the number of hours required to complete the general education core, but that I am still required to complete the minimum 120 credit hours to earn my bachelor's degree.

I understand that some courses which I previously completed for the general education core may no longer apply, however, these courses may now be electives which will count toward the 120 credit hours required for my degree.
